The Poetry of François Villon Jane H. M. Taylor, 2001-05-21 Taylor explores the work of François Villon and his relationship to his predecessors and contemporaries

A Companion to Guillaume de Machaut Deborah McGrady, Jennifer Bain, 2012-08-27 This collection provides a comprehensive reading of Machaut's literary and musical corpus that privileges his engagement with contemporary political, ethical and aesthetic concerns of late medieval culture as well as his reception by artists and thinkers medieval and modern

Gender, Writing, and Performance Helen J. Swift, 2008-02-28 This book explores the poetics of literary defences of women written by men in late medieval and early modern France. It fills an important lacuna in studies of this polemic in imaginative literature by bridging the gap between Christine de Pizan and a later generation of women writers and male Neo-Platonist writers who have recently all received due critical attention. Whereas male authored defences composed between 1440 and 1538 have previously been dismissed as insincere or mere intellectual games, Swift formulates reading strategies to overcome such critical stumbling blocks and engage with the particular rhetorical and historical contexts of these works. Edited and as yet unedited texts by Martin Le Franc, Jacques Milet Pierre Michault and Jean Bouchet catalogues of women allegorical narratives and debate poems are brought together and analysed in detail for the first time in order to explore, for example, how such works address the misogynistic spectre of Jean de Meun's Roman de la rose. The book seeks to understand the contemporary popularity of the case for women, la querelle des femmes, as literary subject matter. It investigates the publication history across this period from manuscript to print of Le Franc's Le Champion des dames. Swift further aims to show how these texts hold interest for modern audiences. A nexus of theoretical concerns centred on performance, Judith Butler's gender performativity, Derrida's reworking of Austin's linguistic performativity through spectrality and dramatic performance is enlisted to articulate the interpretative engagement expected by querelle writers of their audience. The reading strategies proposed foster a nuanced and enriched perspective on the question of a male author's sincerity when writing in defence of women.

The Waxing of the Middle Ages Charles-Louis Morand-Métivier, Tracy Adams, 2023-04-14 Johan Huizinga's much loved and much contested Autumn of the Middle Ages, first published in 1919, encouraged an image of the Late French Middle Ages as a flamboyant but empty period of decline and nostalgia. Many studies, particularly literary studies, have challenged Huizinga's perceptions of individual works or genres. Still, the vision of the Late French and Burgundian Middle Ages as a sad transitional phase between the High Middle Ages and the Renaissance persists. Yet a series of exceptionally significant cultural developments mark the period. The Waxing of the Middle Ages sets out to provide a rich, complex and diverse study of these developments and to reassert that late medieval France is crucial in its own right. The collection argues for an approach that views the late medieval period not as an afterthought or a blind spot but as a period that is key in understanding the fluidity of time, traditions, culture and history. Each essay explores some cultural form to borrow Huizinga's expression to expose the false
