The Porcupine Dilemma Reflections On Human Condition:

The Porcupine Dilemma Leopold Bellak,1970 The Porcupine Dilemma Leopold Bellak,1970 Work, Management, and the Business of Living A. Moneim El-Meligi,2012 In the modern economic paradigm characterized by a multitude of business management theories aimed at maximizing profits there is a danger of formalizing management techniques to the extent of dehumanizing individuals or reducing them to humanoids This book deals with familiar concepts in the management literature but always in light of the model of the human person It sheds light on organizing processes in individuals small groups and organizations and other large social systems by covering empirical research on three central topics modes of influence intrapersonal communication and change through which the social context is constantly shifting Concepts from other fields are also introduced by the author into the field of management such as philosophy biology sociology semantics and mythology to name a few As a protest against behaviorism materialism objectivism determinism elitism and many other isms that degrade the human person this book provides food for thought to students of management and organizational behavior psychologists and sociologists as well as political scientists and leaders of business and nonbusiness institutions Limits of Scientific Psychiatry John O. Beahrs,1986 The Language of Conflict and Resolution William F. Eadie,2001 Comprised of a series of lectures sponsored by the National Communication Association and the Smithsonian Associates in Washington DC this book contains the research of leading communication scholars working on conflict theory and practice Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1973 Reflections on the Death of a Porcupine and Other Essays D. H. Lawrence,1988-01-29 Reflections on the Death of a Porcupine and Other Essays restores what Lawrence wrote Chicago Psychoanalytic Literature Index, 1920-1970 Institute for Psychoanalysis,1971 College Students M. V. Landow,2006 College students are subject to a massive input of stresses which require successful and ever changing coping strategies These stresses include inside and outside pressures by the world to succeed financial worries concerns about uncertain futures social problems and opportunities since college is often the meeting place for future mates and homework and tests in multiple and complex subjects requiring preparation and focus with often conflicting priorities Unsuccessful coping often results in anxiety heavy drinking depression and a host of other mental health problems This book presents new and important research in this important field Family Communication Kathleen M. Galvin,Bernard J. Brommel,2000 The first text to examine the functional family from a communication perspective Family Communication examines the communication processes within the family and how they affect and are affected by larger social systems It views the family as a system in which members are interdependent and creators of family members meanings while also providing a framework for analyzing family interaction patterns
