Selling Out Bethany Klein, 2020-07-09 The relationship between popular music and consumer brands has never been so cosy Product placement abounds in music videos popular music provides the soundtrack to countless commercials social media platforms offer musicians tools for perpetual promotion and corporate sponsored competitions lure aspiring musicians to vie for exposure Activities that once attracted charges of selling out are now considered savvy or even ordinary strategies for artists to be heard and make a living What forces have encouraged musicians to become willing partners of consumer brands At what cost And how do changes in popular music culture reflect broader trends of commercialization Selling Out traces the evolution of selling out debates in popular music culture and considers what might be lost when the boundary between culture and commerce is dismissed as a relic Lamestains Nicholas Attfield,2023-11-12 A surprising history of Seattle's Sub Pop Records pioneer of grunge and champion of losers This book is a critical history of Sub Pop Records the Seattle independent rock label that launched the careers of countless influential grunge bands in the late 1980s and early 1990s It focuses in particular on the languages and personas of the loser a term that encompassed the label's founders and personnel its flagship bands including Mudhoney TAD and Nirvana and the avid vinyl collecting fans it rapidly amassed The loser became and remains the key Sub Pop identity but it also grounded the label in the overt masculinity sexism and transgression of rock history Rather than the usual reading of grunge as an alternative to the mainstream Lamestains reveals a more equivocal and complicated relationship that Sub Pop exploited with great success Playing to the Crowd Nancy K. Baym,2018-07-10 Playing to the Crowd explores and explains how the rise of digital communication platforms has transformed artist fan relationships into something more intimate Through in depth interviews with musicians such as the Cure UB40 and Throwing Muses Nancy K Baym reveals how new media has facilitated connections through the active participation of both the artists and their devoted digital fan base Before the rise of online sharing and user generated content audiences were mostly seen as undifferentiated masses often mediated through record labels and the press Today musicians and fans have built more active relationships through social media fan sites and artist sites giving them a new sense of intimacy while offering artists unparalleled access to and information about their audiences But this comes at a price For audiences meeting their heroes can kill the mystique And for artists maintaining active relationships with so many people can be labor intensive and emotionally draining Drawing on her own rich history as a deeply connected music fan Baym offers an entirely new approach to media culture arguing that the work musicians put into maintaining these intimate relationships reflects the demands of the gig economy one which requires resources and strategies that we all music come to recognize Publisher's description Ethnomusicology Jennifer C.
