Excavations in Residential Areas of Tikal--Groups with Shrines Marshall J. Becker, 1999-01-29 Intensive excavations in settlement areas within greater Tikal generated far more than an understanding of the complex gradations of social classes at this lowland Maya site Identification of a specific architectural pattern associated with relatively small shrines on the eastern side of certain residential groups and of a distinctive mortuary program provides a means by which a plaza plan can be predicted using good site maps alone This discovery enabled archaeologists to predict locations for high status burials in residential as well as in ceremonial areas Application of these findings at sites beyond Tikal has been demonstrated to be successful throughout the region and even beyond the Maya heartland Identification of this plaza plan also has led us to recognize nine other architectural group plans at Tikal providing a model for planning excavation strategies and developing theories of cultural change at Tikal and other Maya sites University Museum Monograph 104

Adamson, 1998-06-15 Identifying thousands of historical fiction novels biographies history trade books CD ROMs and videotapes these books help you locate resources on world history for students Each is divided into two sections In the first part titles are listed according to grade levels within specific geographic areas and time periods They are further organized by product type Both books cover world history from Prehistory and the Ancient World to 54 B C to the modern era Other chapters include Roman Empire to A D 476 Europe and the British Isles Africa and South Africa Australia New Zealand Pacific Islands and Antarctica Canada China India Tibet and Burma Israel and Arab Countries Japan Vietnam Korea Cambodia and Thailand and South and Central America and the Caribbean The second section has an annotated bibliography that describes each title and includes publication information and awards The focus is on books published since 1990 and all have received at l Men in Search of Man Percy C. Madeira, Jr., 2016-12-01 In 1962 the University Museum of the University of Pennsylvania observed its seventy fifth anniversary During those seventy five years the sciences of anthropology archaeology and ethnology the studies of man his antiquity and his cultures grew into major areas of study and research Paralleling this growth of the study of man in fact an integral part of it has been the growth of the University Museum Men in Search of Man tells the story of the University Museum by telling the stories of the men who were responsible for the success of the institution The scientific contributions are recorded in hundreds of journals and periodicals this is the story of the men who made those contributions The University Museum was a direct outgrowth of a Babylonian expedition to Nippur a prebiblical city state in Mesopotamia The artifacts brought back from this expedition and subsequent ones formed the nucleus of the museum's famous collection The expedition to Nippur was only the beginning however of a series of expeditions to such far flung places as Ur of the Chaldees Tikal Guatemala and Meydum Egypt These archaeological feats and many others firmly established the University Museum as an important force in archaeological discovery and exploitation Percy C Madeira Jr has told the story of the University Museum with the knowledge and insight that could come only from having been intimately associated with the institution for more than thirty years Serving successively as Vice President President and Chairman of the Board Madeira was instrumental in the growth and expansion of the University Museum and its facilities and services Along with the story of the museum the author has told some of the classic anecdotes relative to the museum and its staff Illustrated with many photographs of the expeditions as well as of the collections Men in Search of Man contains several supplements listing additional information pertinent to the history of the museum

Globalism in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern

Age Albrecht Classen, 2023-09-05 Although it is fashionable among modernists to claim that globalism emerged only since ca 1800 the opposite can well be documented through careful comparative and transdisciplinary studies as this volume demonstrates offering a wide range of innovative perspectives on often neglected literary philosophical historical or medical documents Texts images ideas knowledge and objects migrated throughout the world already in the pre modern world even if the quantitative level compared to the modern world might have been different In fact by means of translations and trade for instance global connections were established and maintained over the centuries Archetypal motifs developed in many literatures indicate how much pre modern people actually shared But we also discover hard core facts of global economic exchange import of exotic medicine and on another level intensive intellectual debates on religious issues Literary evidence serves best to expose the extent to which contacts with people in foreign countries were imaginable often desirable and at times feared of course The pre modern world was much more on the move and reached out to distant lands out of curiosity economic interests and political and military concerns Diplomats crisscrossed the continents and artists poets and craftsmen traveled widely We can identify for instance both the Vikings and the Arabs as global players long before the rise of modern globalism so this volume promises to rewrite many of our traditional notions about pre modern worldviews economic conditions and the literary sharing on a global level as perhaps best expressed by the genre of the fable
