The Media Show The Changing Face Of The News 1985 199:

The Media Show Edwin Diamond,1991 The Media Show is a lively analysis of one of the underreported major stories of our time the growing power and influence of the media In these essays and reports critic Edwin Diamond takes a hard look at the methods of the American media during a period of heightened competition and increased conglomeration focusing on the way news stories are shaped and sometimes distorted Diamond first considers some of the consequences of the new order created by richer technologies and lowered aspirations He explores the mixed results of this new system including marked changes in American broadcasting as the networks downsize their expenditures to news and public affairs coverage There is he notes often a serious conflict within networks between the public good and the bottom line a conflict that the news media generally chooses not to examine Diamond then scrutinizes the role of style and personality on television Next he turns to specific examples of television coverage of the defining topics of the late 1980s and early 1990s including the arrival of cable technology and CNN which changed the way wars and crises are covered how some members of the media practiced unsafe journalism in their reports on AIDS the role the media assumed as the moral police in recent election campaigns the way race and class influenced crime stories such as the Tawana Brawley and the Central Park jogger cases how the media has often seemed married to the mob in its reporting about reputed godfather John Gotti and the changes in White House press coverage as Ronald Reagan was succeeded by George Bush Diamond concludes by proposing several ideas for creating new media structures Edwin Diamond is Professor of Journalism at New York University where he directs the News Study Group and he is media columnist for New York magazine His previous books include Good News Bad News Sign Off The Last Days of Television and The Spot The Rise of Political Advertising on Television Mass Media James B. Martin,2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes Bibliographic Guide to Education 1992 G. Trans-Reality Television Sofie Van Bauwel,Nico Carpentier,2012-07-10 Trans Reality Television The Transgression of Reality Genre Politics and Audience offers an overview of contributions which engage with the phenomenon of reality television as a tool to reflect on societal and mediated transformations and transgressions While some contributors delve deep into the theoretical issues others approach the topic at hand through empirical studies of specific reality television formats and programs The chapters in this volume are divided into four sections all of which deal with how we see the fluid social at work in reality television through the trans real trans politics trans genre and trans audience The first section stresses the concept of the trans real These chapters go into the complexity of the construction of reality in reality television The second section which deals with the concept of trans politics offers a diversity of perspectives on the articulation and re articulation of politics and the political In the third section trans genre the chapters analyze how the modern conceptualizations of genre and format are transcended Finally the last set of chapters articulate the concept of trans audiences using case studies of particular audiences and a study of reality celebrities Trans Reality Television concludes by returning to the sense and nonsense of the use of these post concepts
