The Media The Message And Man Communicating Gods Love:

The Media, the Message, and Man Walter R. L. Scragg, 1972 The Art of Dialogue Ineke de Feijter, 2007 Media and culture are deeply intertwined in contemporary society Religions have problems relating to this media culture which is shaped by media processes and conditioned by digital media and interactive forms of communication Media set the agenda and they profoundly challenge religions both with respect to their public communication and their very existence and public relevance People increasingly use media for shaping their religious identity and their search with respect to questions of ultimate meaning Barely any theological studies exist that reflect on religious policies and their subsequent praxis in the field of communication The author analyzes Christian policy views and identifies the main problems and opportunities in relating to media culture Media in Church and Mission: Viggo Sogaard, Viggo Sgaard, 2018-10-01 Although written before much of the revolution in digital media this book provides a lot of useful strategic input for those involved in media and Scripture Engagement Religious Messages in the Media Terézia Rončáková, 2021-01-06 Can religious messages be transmitted through the media If so how and why Taking these questions as its starting point and focusing on the relationship between media and religion this book presents an analysis of the relationship between religion and the media It explores the inherent qualities of media communication channels and codes and the ways in which they affect the dissemination of religious messages as well as the arguments over religion used in public discourse The book also presents a critical analysis of church media in Slovakia and shows that although the media do have the capacity to convey religious messages they can only do so in a superficial manner and thus do not represent a suitable instrument for mediating deep spiritual content or serving as a vehicle for evangelization Another key finding here is that the differences between the basic argumentation structures of the religious and secular worlds are irreconcilable meaning that conservatives and progressives can expect little more than a basic sense of tolerance and decency from each other Communication, Media, and Identity Robert S. Fortner, 2007 Communication Media and Identity A Christian Theory of Communication is the first comprehensive theoretical look at the nature of communication from a biblical Christian perspective This groundbreaking new work discusses the implications of such a theory for interpersonal relations use of media and the development of digital culture in the wake of the computer It also draws widely from the literature of the secular world critiquing perspectives where necessary and adopting perspectives that are in line with Christian anthropology epistemology and ontology Through this unique lens the reader is able to understand communication as an art as a tool for evangelism and as a unique human activity that allows people to have a stake in the creation It covers both mediated and non mediated forms of communication is sensitive to theological differences within the Christian faith and examines closely the problem of technology and especially digital technology for the practice of communication As the newest book in the Communication Culture and Religion Series Robert Fortner s work illuminates the theological aspects of communication Christian Communication , 1989-09-26 The rise of the fundamental religious broadcasters in the United States has triggered an intense popular interest in mediated Christianity and prompted the traditional churches to reexamine their own policies toward mass communication. The ensuing dramatic increase in the number of studies on the subject has prompted a corresponding need for a comprehensive index of valuable materials. Christian Communication is the first wide ranging annotated bibliography of available books, articles, theses and dissertations in English, French, German, Spanish and Italian that deals with all forms and aspects of Christian communication, even comic books and the computer. The bibliographies for this collection were drawn from several sources including the Library of Congress, several important computerized databases, manual searches of such institutions as the Billy Graham Center and the Graduate Theological Union among others, and references in dissertations. Most importantly, only accessible items which could be checked and reviewed by Soukup and his research staff have been included here. The volume is arranged to maximize ease of access and use and is based on the general academic division of communication studies. The first chapter contains an introduction cross referenced to the bibliographies that reviews the history of church communication, the major issues that characterize it and suggests possibilities for future study. Next, a resource chapter lists periodicals which address specific areas of religious communication or frequently published articles of interest, cites bibliographic guides to the material and surveys directories of both personnel working in the field of Christian communication and of catalogs of relevant materials. The following seven chapters contain the major bibliographical sections that review communication theory, history, rhetoric, interpersonal communication, mass communication, intercultural communication and other media. The volume closes with helpful name, title and subject indexes that make this guide thoroughly user friendly and an important research tool for church communicators, theological students and communications scholars working in philosophical or qualitative areas.

Social Catholicism for the Twenty-first Century?--Volume 2 William F. Murphy, 2024-09-19 This rich collection of essays by distinguished scholars from across the globe can be read as sketching key steps on the path toward working in solidarity to build a future worthy of the human family through a new social Catholicism These steps include a contemporary renewal of Christian humanism and of human rights while learning to live as authentic Christian witnesses in pluralistic societies after the end of Christendom They will also include working for a just and sustainable economic paradigm becoming missionary disciples with a continual orientation toward the marginalized and overcoming the plague of racism by working to build a constitutional democracy for every citizen This societal renewal will require fostering robust movements of social Catholicism apt for our age within which Catholics will pursue the Universal Call to Holiness through living their earthly vocations in a spirit of social friendship They will creatively employ social media to foster apostolates extending beyond borders In an age of dark clouds threatening dystopia a new social Catholicism will require a reinvigorated pastoral leadership that has come to appreciate the dangers of populism and the need to instead foster solidarity and incarnate Christian charity through a better kind of politics

The Teachings of Pope John Paul II John E. Fagan, 2005 Messages from God Yvon Bell, 2018-05-05 What if you could hear detailed messages from God Messages from God is an emotion packed story explaining that there are no limits to hearing the voice of God to clearly receiving divine instruction Chronologically it documents Bells journey across many years as God first reaches then teaches her Messages from God puts a strong emphasis on listening to Gods voice Hearing Gods voice what He will tell you will be simply inspiring confesses Bell For Bell one of these life changing experiences was a divine instruction to travel to Los Angeles to speak to vast audiences about what she was learning With no plan Bell made that trip and found herself addressing jam packed audiences for months afterward Session after session Bell held audiences spell bound for hours with unique and unplanned talks never preparing a speech prior to the any of the meetings After sharing her heart and experiences with her audiences she spend 10 years writing Messages from God My goal is not to explain God but to offer personal examples and real life situations through which God manifests in our lives Once I began hearing Gods voice it instantly led to a very interesting life I learned that God does not give up on anyone I am now convinced that God makes His message clear to anyone who opens their ears Messages from God is written to assist readers to find their own personal entrance to supernatural life but to hear GODs voice at an incredible high level
