The Aesthetic Illusion in Literature and the Arts Tomáš Koblížek, 2017-09-21 The notion of aesthetic illusion relates to a number of art forms and media Defined as a pleasurable mental state that emerges during the reception of texts and artefacts it amounts to the reader's or viewer's sense of having entered the represented world while at the same time keeping a distance from it

Aesthetic Illusion in Literature and the Arts is an in depth study of the main questions surrounding this experience of art as reality Beginning with an introduction providing historical background to modern discussions of illusion it deals with a wide range of theoretical issues The collection explores the nature and function of the aesthetic illusion as well as the role of affect and emotion the implications of aesthetic illusion for the theory of fiction the variable forms of aesthetic illusion and its relationship to other components of aesthetic response Aesthetic Illusion in Literature and the Arts brings together a team of scholars from philosophy literature and art and presents an interdisciplinary examination of a concept lying at the heart of contemporary aesthetics

Inter-Medial Observations on the 'Reflected' Or 'Deconstructed' Illusion Bjoern

Schubert, 2011-07 Essay from the year 2009 in the subject American Studies Comparative Literature grade 1 0 Humboldt University of Berlin Amerikanistik und Anglistik course Postmodern Cinema language English abstract In this self study journal I aim to collect some comparative and inter medial ideas on how illusion here defined as different perspectives on reality in the arts is reflected within the media of film painting and literature The perception of reality especially in the medium of film remains up to the present moment a controversial and still largely unexplored topic in the fields of philosophy neuroscience and film theory therefore the intent of this self study journal is to focus on a small selection of examples of modern and postmodern film literature and the visual arts photography and painting As well I will explore a few selected quotations from manifestos in the tradition of early 20th century avant garde and also will make brief reference to earlier periods When we accept the reality that is shown to us in the movies we are giving ourselves over to the illusion of cinema that is being created by talented cast and crew in the production and carefully honed in post production by skillful editing The power of the illusion in cinema is to take us for the time being into another world and ideally we forget for the moment that we are still sitting in a dark room with a large screen In the medium of literature our imagination takes control of the world presented by the author s words and is translated into a uniquely imagined reality that is created by the readers own imagination and recollection of memories Like in the cinema if a book grabs us we tend to forget our presence in the real world for the time reading the book

Not So Fast Doug Hill, 2016-10-15 There s a well known story about an older fish who swims by two younger fish and asks How s the water The younger fish are puzzled What s water they ask Many of us today might ask a similar question What s technology Technology defines the world we live in yet we re so immersed in it so encompassed by it that we mostly take it for granted Seldom if ever do we stop to ask what technology is Failing to ask that question we fail to perceive all the ways it might be shaping us Usually when we hear the word technology we automatically think of digital devices and their myriad applications As revolutionary as smartphones online shopping and social networks may seem however they fit into long standing deeply entrenched patterns of technological thought as well as practice Generations of skeptics have questioned how well served we are by those patterns of thought and practice even as generations of enthusiasts have promised that the latest innovations will deliver us soon to Paradise We re not there yet but the cyber utopians of Silicon Valley keep telling us it s right around the corner What is technology and how is it shaping us In search of answers to those crucial questions Not So Fast draws on the insights of dozens of scholars and artists who have thought deeply about the meanings of machines The book explores such dynamics as technological drift technological momentum technological disequilibrium and technological autonomy to help us understand the interconnected interwoven and interdependent phenomena of our technological world In the course of that exploration Doug Hill poses penetrating questions of his own among them Do we have as much control over our machines as we think And who can we rely on to guide the technological forces that will determine the future of the planet

The Hammer and the Flute Mary Keller,2005-04-14 Award for the Best First Book in the History of Religions from the American Academy of Religion Feminist theory and postcolonial theory share an interest in developing theoretical frameworks for describing and evaluating subjectivity comparatively especially with regard to non autonomous models of agency As a historian of religions Mary Keller uses the figure of the possessed woman to analyze a subject that is spoken through rather than speaking and whose will is the will of the ancestor deity or spirit that wields her to engage the question of agency in a culturally and historically comparative study that recognizes the prominent role possessed women play in their respective traditions Drawing from the fields of anthropology and comparative psychology Keller brings the figure of the possessed woman into the heart of contemporary argument as an exemplary model that challenges many Western and feminist assumptions regarding agency Proposing a new theoretical framework that re orients scholarship Keller argues that the subject who is wielded or played the hammer or the flute exercises a paradoxical authority instrumental agency born of their radical receptivity their power derives from the communities assessment that they no longer exist as autonomous agents For Keller the possessed woman is at once hammer and flute paradoxically powerful because she has become an instrument of the overpowering will of an ancestor deity or spirit Keller applies the concept of instrumental agency to case studies providing a new interpretation of each She begins with contemporary possessions in Malaysia where women in manufacturing plants were seized by spirits seeking to resacralize the territory She next looks to wartime Zimbabwe where female spirit mediums the Nehanda mhondoro declared the ancestors will to fight against colonialism Finally she provides an imaginative rereading of the performative power of possession by interpreting two plays Euripides Bacchae and S Y Ansky s The Dybbuk which feature possessed women as central characters This book can serve as an excellent introduction to postcolonial and feminist theory for graduate students while grounding its theory in the analysis of regionally and historically specific moments of time that will be of interest to specialists It also provides an argument for the evaluation of religious lives and their struggles for meaning and power in the contemporary landscape of critical theory

Essays on Faith and Immortality George Tyrrell, 1914 The World in Perspective Min Huang, 2024-12-16 This book aims to reclaim the significance of meaning within the philosophical thinking that has evolved from Descartes and Locke through Kant Husserl and Frege focusing on intentionality the mind s directedness toward the reality The author opens with an epistemological account of analyticity and illustrates the central role of intentionality within it A transcendentalist view on intentionality is then adopted in contrast with the prevalent naturalist stance Addressing key themes in the philosophy of language truth representation propositions predication reference and sense the book presents a framework for a meaning intentionality theory which integrates key insights from Frege Husserl Wittgenstein Dummett and Davidson The book will appeal to scholars and graduate students of epistemology philosophy of language philosophy of mind theory of meaning and theory of intentionality

The Psychology of Perspective and Renaissance Art Michael Kubovy, 1986 Michael Kubovy an experimental psychologist recounts the lively history of the invention of perspective in the fifteenth century and shows how as soon as the invention spread it was used to achieve subtle and fascinating aesthetic effects A clear presentation of the fundamental concepts of perspective and the reasons for its effectiveness drawing on the latest laboratory research on how people perceive leads into the development of a new theory to explain why Renaissance artists such as Leonardo and Mantegna used perspective in unorthodox ways which have puzzled art scholars This theory illuminates the author s broader consideration of the evolution of art the book proposes a resolution of the debate between those who believe that the invention discovery of perspective is a stage in the steady progress of art and those who believe that perspective is merely a conventional and arbitrary system for the representation of space

Models And Modelers Of Hydrogen Hans Sallhofer, Akhlesh Lakhtakia, 1996-06-12 Atomic theory began more than two and a half millenia ago in Greece and India but scientific details have emerged albeit very rapidly only in our century This book conveys a glimpse of the grandeur of 20th century physics through nine essays and one interview on the models and modelers of a basic element of matter the hydrogen atom The basic ideas are simply presented and illustrated the mathematical treatments are of a tutorial nature and facsimile reproductions of ten key papers are included Using the simple hydrogen atom educators may use this book to initiate high school students into the grandeur of physics or motivate university students to become science literate      God and the Universe Arthur Gibson,2000 God and the Universe tackles the highly charged issue of God's relevance in the light of new scientific thinking on cosmology      Rethinking Lessing's Laocoon Avi Lifschitz,Michael Squire,2017-09-15 Gotthold Ephraim Lessing first published Laocoon oder ber die Grenzen der Mahlerey und Poesie Laocoon or on the Limits of Painting and Poetry in 1766 Over the last 250 years Lessing's essay has exerted an incalculable influence on western critical thinking Not only has it directed the history of post Enlightenment aesthetics it has also shaped the very practices of poetry and painting in a myriad of different ways In this anthology of specially commissioned chapters comprising the first ever edited book on the Laocoon in English a range of leading critical voices has been brought together to reassess Lessing's essay on its 250th anniversary Combining perspectives from multiple disciplines including classics intellectual history philosophy aesthetics media studies comparative literature and art history the book explores the Laocoon from a plethora of critical angles Chapters discuss Lessing's interpretation of ancient art and poetry the cultural backdrops of the eighteenth century and the validity of the Laocoon's observations in the fields of aesthetics semiotics and philosophy The volume shows how the Laocoon exploits Greek and Roman models to sketch the proper spatial and temporal limits Grenzen of what Lessing called poetry and painting at the same time it demonstrates how Lessing's essay is embedded within Enlightenment theories of art perception and historical interpretation as well as within nascent eighteenth century ideas about the scientific study of Classical antiquity Altertumswissenschaft To engage critically with the Laocoon and to make sense of its legacy over the last 250 years consequently involves excavating various classical presences by looking back to the Graeco Roman past the volume demonstrates Lessing forged a whole new tradition of modern aesthetics      Art as a Social System Niklas Luhmann,2000 This is the definitive analysis of art as a social and perceptual system by Germany's leading social theorist of the late 20th century It combines three decades of research in the social sciences phenomenology evolutionary biology cybernetics and information theory with an intimate knowledge of art history literature aesthetics and contemporary literary theory
