Evocative novel set in wartime Australia and its aftermath seen through the childhood eyes of 6 year old Rob Coram The Littoral Zone CA. Cranston,Robert Zeller,2007 In this the first collection of ecocritical essays devoted to Australian contexts and their writers Australian and USA scholars settlers invaders temporary visa holders comment on the transliteration of sea land and interior through the works of major and minor authors and through their own experience with the bioregion The littoral zone is the starting point in this fresh approach to reading literature and is organised around the natural environment rainforest desert mountains coast islands Antarctica There s the beach where sexual and spiritual crises occur the Wheatbelt area the most visible clearance line on the planet desert literature camel trekking and the transformation of a salt flat into an inland island New Age literature that appropriates Aborigines and their cultures as the healing poultice for an ailing and dispirited West a re examination of pastoralism and the feet of millions of sheep that have done unspeakable damage to soils an inquiry into whether Judith Wright s work can persuade us to rejoice in the world an investigation of the Limestone Plains home of the bush capital and the bogong moth of bananas cane toads and the Great Barrier Reef in tropic Queensland of national parks and guesthouses where the mountains meet the sea a discursive approach to temperate islands that covers sealing Soldier Settlement and sea country pastoral and finally to Antarctica where an initial utopian approach gives way to an emphasis on its stark timeless icescape as a minimalist backdrop for human dramas The author terrain is no less grand in its scope poets playwrights novelists and non fiction writers are discussed across the broad range of contexts that constitutes the littoral zone known as Australia The merry-go-round, stories ,1900 Moving Among Strangers Gabrielle

Carey,2013-11-01 Two literary lives defined by storytelling and secrets As her mother Joan lies dying Gabrielle Carey writes a letter to Joan s childhood friend the reclusive novelist Randolph Stow This letter sets in motion a literary pilgrimage that reveals long buried family secrets Like her mother Stow had grown up in Western Australia After early literary success and a Miles Franklin Award win in 1958 for his novel To the Islands he left for England and a life of self imposed exile Living most of her life on the east coast Gabrielle was also estranged from her family s west Australian roots but never questioned why A devoted fan of Stow s writing she becomes fascinated by his connection with her extended family but before she can meet him he dies With only a few pieces of correspondence to guide her Gabrielle embarks on a journey from the red dirt landscape of Western Australia to the English seaside town of Harwich in a quest to understand her family s past and Stow s place in it Moving Among Strangers is a celebration of one of Australia s most enigmatic and visionary writers The Magic of the Merry-Go-Round Creatures Aaron Johnson,2014-09-01 Me Cody and Rebecca are just enjoying our tea party before a carousel ride Nathan made a fuss about this trip He has temper problems And he missed his mother due to the story what Jill told to me During the carousel ride at the mall each of us ridden a creature on a carousel except for Nathan that s when Jill

Mick Suzanne Falkiner, 2016. Randolph Stow was one of the great Australian writers of his generation. His novel To the Islands, written in his early twenties after living on a remote Aboriginal mission, won the Miles Franklin Award for 1958. In later life, after publishing seven remarkable novels and several collections of poetry, Stow's literary output slowed. This biography examines the productive period as well as his long periods of publishing silence. In Mick: A Life of Randolph Stow, Suzanne Falkiner unravels the reasons behind Randolph Stow's quiet retreat from Australia and the wider literary world. Meticulously researched, insightful, and at times deeply moving, Falkiner's biography pieces together an intriguing story from Stow's personal letters, diaries, and interviews with the people who knew him best. And many of her tales from Stow's beginnings in idyllic rural Australia to his critical turning point in Papua New Guinea and his final years in Essex, England, provide us with keys to unlock the meaning of Stow's rich and introspective works. The overriding virtue of this book is Falkiner's steady trust in the intelligence of her readers. She spells very little out, presenting us instead with this carefully curated wealth of textual evidence. Kerry Goldsworthy, Australian Book Review. Finally, we have some sense of the wounds that shaped and animated Stow's poetry and fiction. Geordie Williamson. The Australian. Suzanne Falkiner's prodigious biography of Randolph Stow is a book long awaited by many, not just the literati of his native Australia but those countless readers who feasted on his novels and wondered what kind of person could write with such imaginative power. Not only do we come to appreciate what led this renowned Australian writer to create his celebrated fictional works, but we are also given rare glimpses into the inner world of this most private individual, whose personal demons included a dependence on alcohol, two suicide attempts, and struggles with homosexuality. Falkiner cuts her teeth on six previous biographies which stood her in good stead to tackle this challenge. Against significant odds, she has done a masterful job in painting a portrait of one of Australia's most revered writers, somewhat akin to what compatriot David Marr did for Nobel Prize-winning author Patrick White. It will no doubt send readers scurrying back to Stow's novels, which as Marr once said is the best news a biographer can hear. World Literature Today, January/February 2017. Subject: Biography, Literary Criticism. Australian Literature. Phyllis Fahrie Edelson, 2010-12-08. Spanning more than a century, Australian Literature crystallizes a spirit, style, and ethos found nowhere else in world literature. These captivating selections in Australian Literature come from major voices, both famous and lesser known, and encompass short stories, memoirs, novels, and Aboriginal writings. Resonant or wryly witty, charming or disturbing, they explore themes deeply rooted in the Australian experience: shaping the land, the legacies of the convict past, the displacement of the Aborigine, the search for a national identity, sex, love, and commitment.
