The MESA Way Wilbur H. Somerton, 1994      Resources in Education ,1995      Changing the Face of Engineering John Brooks Slaughter, Yu Tao, Willie Pearson Jr., 2015-12-15 How can academic institutions corporations and policymakers foster African American participation and advancement in engineering For much of America's history African Americans were discouraged or aggressively prevented from becoming scientists and engineers Those who did enter STEM fields found that their inventions and discoveries were often neither recognized nor valued Even today particularly in the field of engineering the participation of African American men and women is shockingly low and some evidence indicates that the situation might be getting worse In Changing the Face of Engineering twenty four eminent scholars address the underrepresentation of African Americans in engineering from a wide variety of disciplinary and professional perspectives while proposing workable classroom solutions and public policy initiatives They combine robust statistical analyses with personal narratives of African American engineers and STEM instructors who by taking evidenced based approaches have found success in graduating African American engineers Changing the Face of Engineering argues that the continued underrepresentation of African Americans in engineering impairs the ability of the United States to compete successfully in the global marketplace This volume will be of interest to STEM scholars and students as well as policymakers corporations and higher education institutions      Multicultural Education ,2001      Without a Margin for Error Jeremy B. Heyman, 2018-11-01 In Without a Margin for Error the author chronicles the journeys of young adults in an underserved urban community who are new to the English language into STEM science technology engineering and mathematics related fields from high school through college He distills lessons themes and policy recommendations from the trails blazed by these students toward altering the status quo around college access and STEM success for often marginalized but highly resilient young adults with much to contribute to their new nation their communities and the world While drawing on a critical ethnography of over three dozen inspiring young adults seven students are chronicled in greater depth to bring to life crucial conversations for redefining college readiness access and success in STEM fields      Journal of Women and Minorities in Science and Engineering ,2003      Education Statistics Quarterly ,2001      Proceedings of the National Association for Multicultural Education National Association for Multicultural Education. Conference, 1997      Engaging Schools Institute of Medicine, National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Children, Youth, and Families, Committee on Increasing High School Students' Engagement and Motivation to Learn, 2003-12-21 When it comes to motivating people to learn disadvantaged urban adolescents are usually perceived as a hard sell Yet in a recent MetLife survey 89 percent of the low income students claimed I really want to learn applied to them What is it about the school environment pedagogy curriculum climate organization that encourages or discourages engagement in school activities How do peers family and community affect adolescents attitudes towards learning Engaging Schools reviews current research on what shapes adolescents school engagement and motivation to learn including new findings on students sense of belonging and looks at ways these can be used to reform urban high schools This book discusses what changes hold the greatest promise for increasing students motivation to learn in these schools It looks at various approaches to reform through different methods of instruction and assessment adjustments in school size vocational teaching and other key areas Examples of innovative schools classrooms and out of school programs that have proved successful in getting high school kids excited about learning are also included
