Meditations Marcus Aurelius, 2006-04-27 Their icy blasts are refreshing and restorative. They tell you the worst. And having heard the worst you feel less bad. Blake Morrison. Written in Greek by the only Roman emperor who was also a philosopher without any intention of publication, the Meditations of Marcus Aurelius offer a remarkable series of challenging spiritual reflections and exercises developed as the emperor struggled to understand himself and make sense of the universe. While the Meditations were composed to provide personal consolation and encouragement, Marcus Aurelius also created one of the greatest of all works of philosophy: a timeless collection that has been consulted and admired by statesmen, thinkers, and readers throughout the centuries. Translated with notes by MARTIN HAMMOND with an Introduction by DISKIN CLAY.

The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius Marcus Aurelius, 2017-04-29 About Marcus Aurelius Meditations Meditations is a series of personal writings by Marcus Aurelius, Roman Emperor from 161 to 180 AD, recording his private notes to himself and ideas on Stoic philosophy. Marcus Aurelius wrote the 12 books of the Meditations in Koine Greek as a source for his own guidance and self-improvement. It is possible that large portions of the work were written at Sirmium where he spent much time planning military campaigns from 170 to 180. It is unlikely that Marcus Aurelius ever intended his Meditations to be published, and the work has no official title, so Meditations is one of several titles commonly assigned to the collection. These writings take the form of quotations varying in length from one sentence to long paragraphs.

About this translation of Marcus Aurelius Meditations This is the classic and official translation of the Meditations as produced by George Long and originally printed in The Harvard Classics. What you get when you buy this edition of Meditations This edition of Meditations is an 80-page long 9x6 trade paperback edition in cream paper and a black glossy cover. Famous quotes from this edition of Meditations Do not act as if thou wert going to live ten thousand years. Death hangs over thee. While thou livest, while it is in thy power, be good. Why do you hunger for length of days? The point of life is to follow reason and the divine spirit and to accept whatever nature sends you. To live in this way is not to fear death but to hold it in contempt. Death is only a thing of terror for those unable to live in the present. Pass on your way then with a smiling face under the smile of him who bids you go. Do not then consider life a thing of any value. For look at the immensity of time behind thee and to the time which is before thee, another boundless space. In this infinity then, what is the difference between him who lives three days and him who lives three generations? TA

Written in Greek without any intention of publication, this book offers spiritual reflections and exercises developed by the author as the leader who struggled to understand himself and make sense of the universe. It covers topics such as the question of virtue, human rationality, the nature of the gods, and Aurelius's own emotions. The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius Aurelius Marcus, George Long, 1993. The Roman emperor Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (d. 121-180) embodied in his person that deeply cherished ideal figure of antiquity, the philosopher king. His Meditations are not only one of the most important expressions of the Stoic philosophy of his time but also an enduringly inspiring guide to living a good and just life. Written in moments snatched from military campaigns and the rigors of politics, these ethical and spiritual reflections reveal a mind of exceptional clarity and originality and a spirit attuned to both the particulars of human destiny and the vast patterns that underlie it. A. S. L. Farquharson, 1871-1942, spent a lifetime on his edition of the Meditations, which is one of the outstanding twentieth-century achievements of classical scholarship. All the notes to the Farquharson translation amplifying the twelve books of the Meditations are included in this volume. The Meditations of Marcus Aurelius. Translated, Annotated Marcus Aurelius, 2016-11-03. Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (Augustus 26 April 121-17 March 180 AD) was Roman Emperor from 161 to 180, the last of the so-called Five Good Emperors. He was a practitioner of Stoicism, and his untitled writing, commonly known as the Meditations, is the most significant source of the modern understanding of ancient Stoic philosophy. There is no doubt that the Emperor's Reflections, or his Meditations as they are generally named, are a genuine work. In the first book, he speaks of himself, his family, and his teachers, and in other books, he mentions himself. It was the doctrine of Marcus Aurelius that most of the ills of life come to us from our own imagination; that it was not in the power of others seriously to interfere with the calm, temperate life of an individual; and that when a fellow-being did anything to us that seemed unjust, he was acting in ignorance, and that instead of stirring up anger within us, it should stir our pity for him. Oftentimes, by careful self-examination, we should find that the fault was more our own than that of our fellow, and our sufferings were rather from our own opinions than from anything real. The circle of man's knowledge is very limited, and the largest circles do not wholly include the smallest. They are intersecting, and the segment common to any two is very small. Whatever lies outside this space does not exist for both. Hence arise innumerable contests. The man having the largest intelligence ought to be very generous to the other. Being thankful that he has been blessed in so many ways, he should do all in his power to enlighten his less-favored fellow, rather than be angry with him on account of his misfortune.
