around the world Deserts despite dominant stereotypes of wasteland and barrenness are culturally and ecologically abundant places This edited volume sets out to reimagine the world s desert places and the very concept of the desert itself taking a boldly interdisciplinary and multicultural approach Authors engage in literary ecocriticism and ecopoetics film and visual studies critical theory personal and transdisciplinary reflection creative practices and historical scholarship Through their diverse range of perspectives contributors show how arid lands have been and can be understood as sites of narrative production places where signs and imaginaries are born from the materialities of space and entanglement In this way this volume highlights how the storied matter of the Earth s deserts informs lived realities environmental histories cinematic and literary imaginaries political conflicts and even intellectual categories such as the human and the elemental Ultimately this book shows that reimaging desert places can help us to grapple with the epochal challenges of the Anthropocene It is an important and engaging collection for scholars and students across disciplines that helps establish the value of desert humanities
