The Policy Implementation Process In Developing Nations:

The Policy Implementation Process in Developing Nations Stuart S. Nagel, 1999-10-18 Focuses on the policy implementation process in developing nations This work attempts to better understand how political and administrative institutions of particular countries effect their domestic policy implementation process

Public Policy and Development in Developing Nations: Selected Cases Ola Abegunde, 2015-10-07 Public policy analysis has been an area of great interest in Political Science and Public Administration The contributions of scholars like Yehezkel Dror Thomas Dye Bruce Doern and others have helped to examine the style and approaches that have added to our understanding of public policies In this collection of fourteen essays public policy is examined in ranging environments Greece Zimbabwe Nigeria and South Africa The policies of these countries and some other issues relating to social security poverty welfare consumer rights are covered The first paper introduces us to the differences between public and private policies and shows the importance of giving the right place to the former in the orderly society

Perspectives on Kurdistan's Economy and Society in Transition Serwan M.J. Baban, Alan Dilani, Almas Heshmati, 2014-10-16 The second scientific World Kurdish Congress was held in October 2012 at Hewler with the theme of improving the quality of life science and culture for progress in Kurdistan The papers presented focused on various important aspects of culture economy education health industry and political science in Kurdistan The objective of this conference was to create a network of academicians to exchange and develop knowledge and work together with the Kurdistan Regional Government on how to further enhance the progress within the Kurdish society This volume is a collection of 26 studies presented at the Congress and includes an introduction by the editors and a summary report of the Congress The topics presented here are diverse covering several areas pertinent to the current Kurdish situation The studies are divided into ten areas namely agriculture and rural development diaspora education and research health and quality of life industry information technology and e government infrastructure and development language human rights and politics In the last part of the volume the organization committee provides a compilation of recommendations from the Congress to the Kurdistan Regional Government

Clientelism and Implementing Social Security Programmes in Post-conflict Iraqi Kurdistan Region Muslih Irwani, 2015-10-19 Clientelism and Implementing Social Security Programmes in Post conflict Iraqi Kurdistan Region investigates social policy in a politically less developed entity and examines the mainstream top down and bottom up models of policy implementation in light of a detailed study of the Kurdistan Regional Government In addition it introduces the innovative clientelistic model of policy implementation a political and preferential tool which utilises a public nationalistic dichotomy in social welfare provision The book argues that politicians in the Kurdistan region deal with social policy programmes according to their political preferences attaching importance to policies on the basis of the way they feel about those social programmes and interest groups concerned As such as it stands policy implementation is subject to interference by politicians and high government officials under the pretext of supporting and monitoring the way such policy is implemented Through an investigation of the most prominent actors in the implementation of social security programmes this book demonstrates how beneficiaries of these programmes can themselves become focal points in the implementation process Indeed within the Kurdistan Regional Government's social policy context today the benefits of social security schemes are being distributed based on the socio political status of recipients not on their socio economic conditions and needs

International Regimes in China Gianluca

Ferraro,2013-07-24 According to the Food and Agriculture Organization FAO of the United Nations more than 80% of world's fish stocks are fully exploited over exploited depleted or recovering from depletion Although several international agreements have promoted more responsible fisheries coastal states have usually maintained national policies that enable higher harvest levels rather than greater conservation of fish stocks and international agreements for more responsible fisheries have generally experienced a weak domestic implementation Among the major coastal fishing states China constitutes the largest fish producer and main exporter in the world and therefore presents a fascinating case study for the domestic implementation of international fisheries agreements This book investigates the degree to which China has complied with the international agreements it has signed and asks why it is failing to meet expectations Crucially it calls for greater emphasis on the political rather than technical issues involved in the implementation of international regimes In turn it examines how understanding the case of China can help us to develop solutions for improved international compliance in the future Providing an improved understanding of the implementation of international regimes alongside an in depth study of China's political system policy making and compliance this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of Chinese studies international relations public policy and international law and environmental studies It will also be useful for policy makers working in the fields of environmental regulation and fisheries management

Managing Development in a Globalized World Habib Zafarullah,Ahmed Shafiqul Huque,2017-09-25 Traditionally development has been rooted in ideologies and assumptions prevalent in the developed world and in practices and strategies adopted by leading industrial nations However historically eclectic ideas and approaches often clash with existing long established notions of progress and modes of realizing social and economic change Managing Development in a Globalized World Concepts Processes Institutions explores this topic by incorporating ideas and interpretations that have previously been neglected or given inadequate attention in the discourse on developing countries It underscores development as a continuous process that must be supported by sound policies and efficient management supplying a wider understanding of the field The authors argue that the application of innovative development techniques and best practices is essential for obtaining optimum results in meeting the needs of society They examine the style of managing development with a new perspective that links the phenomenon with changing demands and the interplay of internal external actors and a host of stakeholders An exploration of key sectors in development provides clear comprehension of problems and solutions A careful synthesis of theoretical conceptual and empirical literature the book assesses real world situations and provides insight into the operational dynamics of development policies programs and institutions It focuses on goals values and dynamics of development management that are undergoing rapid changes and continue to be enhanced to alleviate poverty and improve living standards in an era of globalization and inter regional and inter institutional synergies It highlights best practices essential for the efficient and effective delivery of human development services that are designed and put in place to obtain optimum results in meeting the needs of society

Cybersecurity Capabilities in Developing Nations and Its Impact on Global Security Dawson, Maurice, Tabona, Oteng, Maupong, Thabiso, 2022-02-04 Developing nations have seen many technological advances in the last decade Although beneficial and progressive they can lead to unsafe mobile devices system networks and internet of things IoT devices causing security vulnerabilities that can have ripple effects throughout society While researchers attempt to find solutions improper implementation and negative uses of technology continue to create new security threats to users Cybersecurity Capabilities in Developing Nations and Its Impact on Global Security brings together research based chapters and case studies on systems security techniques and current methods to identify and overcome technological vulnerabilities emphasizing security issues in developing nations Focusing on topics such as data privacy and security issues this book is an essential reference source for researchers university academics computing professionals and upper level students in developing countries interested in the techniques laws and training initiatives currently being implemented and adapted for secure computing

The Politics of Migration in Indonesia and Beyond Riwanto Tirtosudarmo, 2019-01-22 This book examines the social and political dimensions of migration from a perspective between the realms of demography and politics It approaches the issue of migration by highlighting the important power relations that have previously been neglected in studies in the area The book starts by investigating Indonesian migration to provide an understanding of internal migration It then looks beyond its national borders for a wider understanding of Asia and showcases several case studies both in Indonesia and beyond to illustrate the intricate politics of migration Further it considers the politics of migration from the sending country perspective and unravels the link between migration and security The book provides reviews of the wider literature relating to population mobility and distribution and shows readers how to adopt a new perspective in the study of movement of people an issue that is becoming increasingly important as movement of people unfolds globally in terms of both volume and direction This book is a valuable resource for students academics and researchers in the area of demography and social politics especially those interested in migration and refugees It also offers insights for those interested in understanding decentralization in greater depth

Citizen Charter and Local Service Delivery in Bangladesh Pranab Kumar Panday, Shuvra Chowdhury, 2023-02-28 This book illuminates the importance of the citizen charter CC in local service delivery in Bangladesh It describes how CC was implemented into the service delivery process and its impact In the 1970s the transition from traditional public administration to new public management was inspired by globalization the emergence of an information and technological society and many economic theories such as public choice principal agent theory and transaction cost The purpose of the government in a welfare state is to serve the citizens by providing essential services However public service delivery in most developing nations is ineffective owing to corruption waste of public funds a lack of responsibility on the part of public employees etc In this context CC emerged as a means of educating individuals on many elements of services so they may hold service providers accountable Thus the issue of framing and implementation of CC has been put in place due to the persistent pressing of academicians politicians and practitioners advocating for better local service delivery The Politics of Education in Developing Countries Samuel Hickey, Naomi Hossain, 2019 This book focuses on how politics shapes the capacity and commitment of elites to tackle the learning crisis in six developing countries It deploys a new conceptual framework to show how the type of political settlement shapes the level of elite commitment and state capacity to improving learning outcomes
