The Politics at God's Funeral Michael Harrington, 1985 The Democratic Socialist Vision Gary Dorrien, 1987 To find more information about Rowman and Littlefield titles please visit www.rowmanlittlefield.com The Oxford Handbook of Religion and American Politics Corwin E. Smidt, Lyman A. Kellstedt, James L. Guth, 2017 Over the past three decades the study of religion and politics has gone from being ignored by the scholarly community to being a major focus of research Yet because this important research is not easily accessible to nonspecialists much of the analysis of religion's role in the political arena that we read in the media is greatly oversimplified This Handbook seeks to bridge that gap by examining the considerable research that has been conducted to this point and assessing what has been learned what remains unsettled due to conflicting research findings and what important questions remain largely unaddressed by current research endeavors The Handbook is unique to the field of religion and American politics and should be of wide interest to scholars students journalists and others interested in the American political scene Advocacy Journalists Edd Applegate, 2009-05-11 This book focuses on the lives of journalists and editors who contributed to advocacy journalism Each entry contains biographical information about the journalists their professional careers major works and in some cases commentary on those works

Performance versus Results John H. Gibson, 1993-06-18 This study examines the consequences of cultural development on the emergence of contemporary sport The current preoccupation with statistics and reductionist theories has objectified athletic performance to the extent that the scoreboard identifies excellence Gibson offers an alternative position that focuses on the relationship of the athlete to the sport My Inaugural Address at the Great White Throne Judgment of the Dead Alvin Miller, 2011-12-03 An unusual perspective on current End Times events as prophesied in the Book of Revelation including the Rapture and the Tribulation updated and expanded to over 600 pages The Rush to Policy Peter William House, Roger Roger Don Shull, Rush to Policy explores the appropriate role of technical analysis in policy formulation The authors ask when and how the use of sophisticated analytic techniques in decision making benefits the nation They argue that these techniques are too often used in situations where they may not be needed or understood by the decision maker where they may not be to answer the questions raised but are nonetheless required by law House and Shull provide an excellent empirical base for describing the impact of politics on policies policy analysis and policy analysts They examine cost benefit analysis risk analysis and decision analysis and assess their ability to substitute for the current decision making process in the public sector They examine the political basis of public sector decision making how individuals and organizations make decisions and the ways decisions are made in the federal sector Also they discuss the mandate to use these methods in the policy formulation process The book is written by two practicing federal policy analysts who in a decade of service as policy researchers developed sophisticated quantitative analytic and decision making techniques They then spent several years trying to use them in the real world Success and failures are described in illuminating detail providing insight not commonly found in such critiques The authors delineate the interaction of politics and technical issues Their book describes policy analysis as it is not how it ought to be Peter W House is the director of policy research and analysis at the National Science Foundation He is the author of ten books on multidisciplinary science and technology policy research and analyses in government private and university sectors including The Art of Public Policy Analysis and with Roger D Shull Regulatory Reform Politics and the Environment and Regulations and Science Management of Research on Demand Roger D Shull is a senior analyst at the Division of Policy Research and Analysis National Science Foundation

Policymaking Under Adversity Yehezkel Dror, 2017-09-29 This groundbreaking study systematically treats recent policymaking trends starting with a reconsideration of salient theoretical issues of policymaking and its study and culminating with a survey of current policy related predicaments in various countries Dror proposes that the task for social science research is to uncover underlying causes of policymaking inadequacies Standard research methods Dror states have been unable to uncover the realities of important decisions made inside governments In order to gain an understanding of pressing predicaments he believes that policymakers need to examine the foundations of contemporary practices of present assumptions and that they need a multiplicity of approaches to policymaking After prescribing a set of requirements that policymaking must satisfy in order to adequately respond to challenges Dror posits several improvements needed in education and in policy decision making The book concludes with an extensive bibliography including numerous important German works not found in other English language studies This book supplements the earlier basic theory and models propounded in Dror's Public Policymaking Reexamined by dealing with current trends As a guide to public policy literature and related works it will be invaluable to students and practitioners

The Dance with Community Robert Booth Fowler, 1991-07-25 Contemporary intellectuals have rushed to embrace the concept of community What does this tell us about American political thought Why are intellectuals uneasy with modern liberal individualism and its institutional policy results Why is political intellectual discourse dominated today by complaint In The Dance with Community Robert Booth Fowler reflects upon these and related questions My goal he writes is to present contemporary political thought about community for what it is a conversation interactive spirited and sometimes tough There have been many interpretations of the much discussed decline in community spirit Rather than offer another Fowler steps back to look at the debate itself He examines from the perspective of an intellectual historian the attention to community in current American political thought and explores the setting of that attention He also identifies five alternative models of community integral to the current debates and sketches a clear image of each its relationship to others the logic of its appeal and its emphases and problems In each instance he places the model into the larger conversation over alternative communities and the value of community itself

The Interrelation of the Great Awakening and Harvard College George J. Gatgounis, 2022-10-11 The Interrelation of the Great Awakening and Harvard College by the Rev Dr George Gatgounis Esq examines the history of Harvard College from its founding as a training center for Puritan preachers in 1636 through the Great Awakening and its gradual decline as a major spiritual force at Harvard. Gatgounis, a Harvard alumnus, relies on documents in the college's archives to document how evangelist George Whitfield, concerned about the decline in spirituality among the student body, stirred up the campus on his first visit in 1741 but was denounced by the administration as a dangerous zealot on his return in 1744.

Dismantling the Public Sphere John E. Buschman, 2003-08-30 This work presents a thorough examination of librarianship and the social and economic contexts in which the profession and its institutions operate. As a basis of analysis, Buschman employs critical education scholarship and the research of German philosopher Jürgen Habermas, whose seminal work on the public sphere, the arena in which the public organizes itself and formulates public opinion, serves as a meta framework for Buschman's study of librarianship. Buschman asserts that a significant shift has occurred from the library as a contributor to the public good to a model where economic rationality directs policy. He challenges much of the current thinking and assumptions guiding libraries, exploring the circumstances in which librarians and libraries operate and linking the profession back to democratic and public purposes as the core essence of the field. Chapters include Crisis Culture and the Need for a Defense of Librarianship in the Public Sphere, The New Public Philosophy and Critical Educational Analysis, The Public Sphere Rounding Out the Context of Librarianship, Studies in Librarianship and the Dismantling of the Public Sphere, Follow the Money: Library Funding and Information Capitalism, Follow the Leader: Library Management and the New Public Philosophy, On Customer-Driven Librarianship, Drifting Toward the Corporate Model, ALA Notes on Postmodern Technology, Technocracy and Libraries, The Public Sphere and Democratic Possibility. Highly recommended for courses in policy and librarianship as well as for academic and public library directors, this work will also be of interest to theorists in the social sciences.

Parenting the Guardian Class Jonathan I. Cloud, 2008-06 It has been a continuous struggle with myself as to whether I should write this journal. I was frustrated and needed to ascertain some way of keeping my sanity. It finally dawned on me that on the occasions when I was very frustrated, writing thoughts down might become a way to alleviate some of that stress. In writing this journal, I hoped to shed some light on the employees and their perceptions and how they contributed to some of the problems at United Airlines. In the years I worked at United Airlines, I made some of the best friends I will ever have. I do not want you to think all the time I spent at United was negative. It was not. I have had some very good times and enjoyed working for them. Through all the challenges I faced, the good times far outweigh the bad. I always believed in doing things to enhance the work environment and make it a fun experience for everyone so that it did not feel like being on a job. Therefore, I helped organize, plan, and create that atmosphere through functions such as potlucks and steak barbecues. In addition, I would bring in bagels, cakes, cookies, etc. for the whole shop. We had a lot of fun. United had some of the best people you could ever imagine working for. They were all like family. I had no intention of doing anything with these writings; it was simply a catharsis for me. When I retired, there were so many things going on with United. I decided at that point, maybe I should publish my journal. A lot of the things that happened were events I was afraid would happen And did such as the loss of so many jobs No Place for Truth David F. Wells,1994-12-20 Evangelicals argues Wells have largely lost the truth that God also stands outside all human experience that he still summons sinners to repentance and belief regardless of their self image and that he calls his church to stand fast in his truth against the blandishments of the modern world The Other American The Life Of Michael Harrington Maurice Isserman,2001-03-08 Most Americans first heard of Michael Harrington with the publication of The Other America his seminal book on American poverty Isserman expertly tracks Harrington s beginnings in the Catholic Worker Canons in Conflict James E. Brenneman,1997-05-29 In this new study James Brenneman confronts the issue of conflicting canons with full force incorporating insights gained from both literary and biblical disciplines on the question of canon He begins with an illuminating tour through contemporary literary theory from Hans Robert Jauss to Stanley Fish and current discussions in theology about the canon He goes on to a consideration of true and false prophesy with a detailed examination of the three apparently conflicting versions of the Old Testament swords into plowshares prophesy as found in Isaiah 2 2 4 5 Joel 4 9 12 Eng 3 9 12 and Micah 4 1 5 Suggesting that the dynamics controlling the process for negotiating between contradictory readings of prophetic texts are the same as those at work in adjudicating between canons in conflict Brenneman concludes by pointing the way towards an integrative approach appropriate to the question of canon and authority in a post modern pluralistic context New York Magazine ,1983-10-24 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea New York Magazine ,1983-10-24 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Religion in Public and Private Life (Routledge Revivals) Clarke E. Cochran,2014-06-27 Religious crosses the spheres of both the private life and the public institution In a liberal democracy public and private interests and goals prove to be inseparable Clarke Cochran s interdisciplinary study brings political theory and the sociology of religion together in a fresh interpretation of liberal culture First published in 1990 this analysis begins with a reassessment of the nature of the public and the private in relation to the political The controversy over religion and politics is examined in light of such contested issues of political life as sexuality abortion and the changing nature of the family Clarifying a number of debates central to contemporary society this timely reissue will be of particular value to students with an interest in the relationship between religious society and politics
