The Politics of Environmental Discourse

Maarten A. Hajer, 1995-12-14 Dr Hajer's path breaking study opens the way for a better understanding of the environmental conflict showing how language can be seen to shape our view of what environmental politics is really about and how those perceptions can differ between countries The author identifies the emergence and increasing political importance of ecological modernization as a new concept in the language of environmental politics This concept which has come to replace the antagonistic debates of the 1970s stresses the opportunities of environmental policy for modernizing the economy and stimulating the technological innovation Combining abstract social theory with detailed empirical analysis Martin Hajer illustrates the social and political dynamics of ecological modernization in a detailed analysis of the acid rain controversies in Great Britain and the Netherlands He concludes by reflecting on the institutional challenge of the environmental politics in the years to come

The Politics of Environmental

Policy in Russia David Lewis Feldman, Ivan Blokov, 2012-01-01 A fresh and up to date discussion of Russia's manifold environmental crises using the results of an elite survey and a framework based on the civil society literature I believe this is the best treatment of its subject that is presently available and given Russia's enormous territorial extent it is a study that has important implications for everyone who has any concern for the future of Planet Earth Stephen White University of Glasgow UK In recent years international inter governmental entities have acknowledged the importance of civil society for engaging stakeholders in environmental change especially at the local community level and in promoting democracy In Russia efforts by NGOs to promote reform since the fall of the Soviet Union have been aimed at achieving both objectives This fascinating and highly illuminating book explores the political legal and attitudinal barriers to environmental reform in Russia since 1991 The authors renowned experts in the field explore efforts to develop a mature civil society in Russia and analyse the policy views of environmental groups the media and the scientific community Three important case studies underpin the study suspended plans to build an oil pipeline near Lake Baikal management of Cold War generated radioactive waste at Chelyabinsk and public reaction to the introduction of genetically modified foods The conclusion is that although civil society groups face obstacles in the form of apathy state imposed constraints on their activities and agency reluctance to confer on decisions there are some successes in reversing decisions due in part to NGO pressures yielding reform This path breaking book will be of enormous interest to scholars researchers and students focusing on comparative environmental policy and politics contemporary public policy in Russia and international politics

The Politics of Environmental

Performance Detlef Jahn, 2016-10-27 As the world faces the prospect of climate change nuclear disasters and water scarcity it is clear that environmental degradation is an increasingly serious challenge with economic and social consequences In this book Detlef Jahn analyzes political processes in a macro comparative study in order to estimate the role of politics in the field of environmental performance in twenty one OECD countries His model demonstrates various styles of politics used to combat environmental degradation He finds that economic and environmental performance are still closely linked and that moving towards a service society does not by itself solve the environmental challenge The close relationship of these areas was made strikingly clear in the economic crisis of the new millennium He argues that economic globalization fosters environmental deterioration and undermines efforts in domestic politics and international coordination to improve the environmental record

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and Environmental Issues in the Twentieth Century Jeffrey K. Stine,Michael C. Robinson,1984 The Politics of Unsustainability Ingolfur Bluhdorn,Ian Welsh,2013-10-18 Two decades after its launch by the UN Brundtland Commission the paradigm of sustainability seems to have reached its limits Whilst the concept figures more prominently in public debate and policy making than ever before the ecological footprint of advanced liberal consumer societies continues to grow and the forceful economic development of countries such as China and India reinforces concerns that the world is moving further away from rather than closer towards the ideal of sustainability Given the proven failure of ecological modernisation strategies to secure sustainability the traditional question How may our established lifestyles and socio economic practices be made more sustainable needs to be supplemented by a second equally important question How do advanced modern consumer democracies try and manage to sustain what is known to be unsustainable Put differently traditional research into the politics of sustainability needs to be supplemented by a new line of research into the politics of unsustainability Exploring the recent transformation of eco political discourses and a variety of ways in which the unfolding paradox of sustaining the unsustainable is being managed the present volume pioneers this new research agenda This book was previously published as a special issue of Environmental Politics
