The politics of the imagination Sandra Djwa,1987      Aestheticism and the Canadian Modernists Brian Trehearne,1989 Using a wide range of scholarly evidence to support his argument that most poets of the first Canadian Modernist generation were strongly influenced by the ideas and practice of literary Aestheticism Brian Trehearne provides new readings of Canadian poets such as Robert Finch John Glassco W W E Ross A J M Smith and F R Scott      The Fate of Canada Graham Fraser,2021-09-03 From 1963 until 1971 a group of distinguished Canadians wrestled with the language conflict that ran the risk of tearing the country apart Among their ranks F R Scott a poet intellectual constitutional expert human rights activist and law professor kept diaries that recounted the meetings of one of Canada s most significant royal commissions The Fate of Canada introduces readers to Scott s biography puts his diary entries into the political context of the time and identifies the people he met and the places he visited during the hearings of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism Scott s journal entries recording the earliest meetings convey optimism for a bilingual Canada As the years pass however he becomes increasingly concerned that bilingualism is in danger and Quebec s English community threatened His remarks convey a sense of humour and mutual respect amongst the commissioners despite the tensions over language within the group and across the country Scott was a champion of English language rights in Quebec Never before published these diaries provide remarkable insight into the inner life of one of twentieth century Canada s most significant intellectuals and a royal commission that shaped the nation s language policy for decades to come      An Exceptional Law Dennis G. Molinaro,2017-01-01 An Exceptional Law showcases how the emergency law used to repress labour activism during the First World War became normalized with the creation of Section 98 of the Criminal Code following the Winnipeg General Strike      Law, Policy, and International Justice Maxwell Cohen,1993 Law Policy and International Justice is a collection of essays published in honour of Judge Maxwell Cohen As a law professor dean and scholar and through domestic and international public service Cohen has played an important part in determining the direction of the law and legal institutions in Canada as well as internationally      The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars,2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4

interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole

The History of Canada Series - The Last Act: Pierre Trudeau Ron Graham, 2011-04-05 Between the morning of Wednesday November 4 and the morning of Thursday November 5 1981 a fateful drama unfolded that changed Canada forever In one last attempt to renew the constitution with the consent of the provinces Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau met behind closed doors in Ottawa with the ten premiers It was the culmination of more than five decades of constitutional wrangling and has been called the most important conference since the Fathers of Confederation got together in Quebec City in 1864 Faced with the threat of Quebec independence the ambitions of Western Canada and the provinces demands for more power Trudeau was embattled But he was fiercely determined to make Canadians fully independent and to entrench a Charter of Rights and Freedoms What happened that day still reverberates It severed the last important link to Canada's colonial past It guaranteed individual liberty and minority rights in the future It weakened the grip of the elites and gave ownership of the constitution to Canadians But it came at a price Quebec alone refused to sign the final deal Ren L vesque its separatist premier claimed he had been betrayed by his allies in the Gang of Eight The legend of the Night of the Long Knives took hold precipitating a series of events that came close to destroying the country Thirty years later author Ron Graham delivers a gripping account of the fractious debates and secret negotiations He uses newly uncovered documents and the candid recollections of many of the key participants to create a vivid record of that momentous twenty four hours Authoritative and engaging The Last Act is a remarkable combination of scholarly research and historical narrative

A Companion to Literary Biography Richard Bradford, 2018-11-28 An authoritative review of literary biography covering the seventeenth century to the twentieth century A Companion to Literary Biography offers a comprehensive account of literary biography spanning the history of the genre across three centuries The editor an esteemed literary biographer and noted expert in the field has encouraged contributors to explore the theoretical and methodological questions raised by the writing of biographies of writers The text examines how biographers have dealt with the lives of classic authors from Chaucer to contemporary figures such as Kingsley Amis The Companion brings a new perspective on how literary biography enables the reader to deal with the relationship between the writer and their work Literary biography is the most popular form of writing about writing yet it has been largely neglected in the academic community This volume bridges the gap between literary biography as a popular genre and its relevance for the academic study of literature This important work Allows the author of a biography to be treated as part of the process of interpretation and investigates biographical reading as an important aspect of criticism Examines the birth of literary biography at the close of the seventeenth century and considers its expansion through the eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth centuries Addresses the status and writing of literary biography from numerous perspectives and with regard to various sources methodologies and theories Reviews the ways in which literary biography has played a role in our perception of writers in the mainstream of the English canon from Chaucer to the present day Written for students at the undergraduate level through postgraduate and doctoral levels as well as academics A Companion to Literary Biography illustrates and accounts for the importance of the literary biography as a vital element of criticism and as an index to our perception of literary history Fighting with the Empire Steve Marti, William John Pratt, 2019-04-01 Canadians often characterize their military history as a march toward nationhood but in the first eighty years of Confederation they were fighting for the British Empire From 1867 to 1947 war or threat of war forced Canadians to define and redefine their relationship to Britain and to one another As French Canadians Indigenous peoples and those with roots in Continental Europe and beyond mobilized in support of imperial war efforts their participation challenged the imagined homogeneity of Canada as a British nation From soldiers overseas to workers on the home front and from the cultural ties of imperial pageantry to the bonds of race and class Fighting with the Empire examines the paradox of a national contribution to an imperial war effort This insightful collection of connected case studies explores the middle ground between narratives that celebrate the emergence of a nation through warfare and those that equate Canadian nationalism with British imperialism Prophets, Pastors and Public Choices Roger Hutchinson, Canadian Corporation for Studies in Religion, 1992-05-25 The Mackenzie Valley natural gas pipeline debate included many actors This is the first in depth study in comparative religious ethics to examine the debate with a particular focus on the role of the Canadian churches In 1974 twenty seven of the world s largest oil and natural gas companies applied for permission to build a pipeline through the Mackenzie Valley to transport Alaskan and northern Canadian gas to large southern markets Many northern native peoples opposed the proposal and called for a moratorium on major northern development projects until native land claims had been settled The mainline Canadian Christian churches supported the call for a moratorium and through the interchurch coalition Project North campaigned against the pipeline However some native peoples supported the proposal to build the pipeline and many of the pipeline s proponents were members of churches that called for a moratorium on the project This case study in comparative religious ethics though written from a pro moratorium stand attempts to clarify the debate Conflicting responses to the pipeline proposal are assessed in relation to hard facts concerning the need for northern gas in the South social scientific findings regarding the impact of the pipeline on native communities the rights of native peoples to participate in decisions affecting their lives assumptions about the way of life of non native people in the South and the role of religious convictions in public choices This thoroughly researched study reveals the inner workings and influences of the Canadian churches involved and illustrates their commitment on behalf of the northern natives opposed to the project
