Klein, 2010-06-16 For the past 50 years a select group of scientists has provided advice to the US President mostly out of the public eye on issues ranging from the deployment of weapons to the launching of rockets to the moon to the use of stem cells to cure disease The role of the presidential science adviser came under increasing scrutiny during the administration of George W Bush which was highly criticized by many for its use and some say misuse of science This edited volume includes for the first time the reflections of the presidential science advisers from Donald Hornig who served under Lyndon B Johnson to John Marburger the previous science advisor on their roles within both government and the scientific community It provides an intimate glimpse into the inner workings of the White House as well as the political realities of providing advice on scientific matters to the president of the United States The reflections of the advisers are supplemented with critical analysis of the role of the science adviser by several well recognized science policy practitioners and experts This volume will be of interest to science policy and presidential history scholars and students Shades of Gray L. Parker Temple, 2005 In this work Temple tracks the evolution of space reconnaissance systems from their seeds in the painful lessons of Pearl Harbor through the challenges of today book cover Commission on the Organization of the Government for the Conduct of Foreign Policy United States.
