Color and Light in Nature David K. Lynch, William Charles Livingston, 2001-06-11 We live in a world of optical marvels from the commonplace but beautiful rainbow to the rare and eerie superior mirage But how many of us really understand how a rainbow is formed why the setting sun is red and flattened or even why the sky at night is not absolutely black This beautiful and informative guide provides clear explanations to all naturally occurring optical phenomena seen with the naked eye including shadows halos water optics mirages and a host of other spectacles Separating myth from reality it outlines the basic principles involved and supports them with many figures and references A wealth of rare and spectacular photographs many in full color illustrate the phenomena throughout In this new edition of the highly acclaimed guide to seeing photographing and understanding nature's optical delights the authors have added over 50 new images and provided new material on experiments you can try yourself

Monthly Weather Review ,1915 Skiing ,1984-12 Snowshoe Country Thomas M.

Wickman, 2018-09-20 Snowshoe Country is an environmental and cultural history of winter in the colonial Northeast closely examining indigenous and settler knowledge of snow ice and life in the cold Indigenous communities in this region were more knowledgeable about the cold than European newcomers from temperate climates and English settlers were especially slow to adapt To keep surviving the winter year after year and decade after decade English colonists relied on Native assistance borrowed indigenous winter knowledge and followed seasonal diplomatic protocols to ensure stable relations with tribal leaders Thomas M Wickman explores how fluctuations in winter weather and the halting exchange of winter knowledge both inhibited and facilitated English colonialism from the 1620s to the early 1700s As their winter survival strategies improved due to skills and technologies appropriated from Natives colonial leaders were able to impose a new political ecology in the greater Northeast projecting year round authority over indigenous lands Firstborn Michelle West,2020-02-25 The seventh book in the epic fantasy House War series returns to a beloved world of magic and political intrigue where new threats are stirring Jewel A Terafin has never wanted to be a power What she truly wants she built in the streets of the poorer holdings To protect what she built to protect what she values above all else she has accepted that power is necessary But with power comes responsibility Jewel has forced herself to do what would have once been unthinkable She has surrendered her den kin Carver to the wilderness because she must if she is to have any hope of saving the rest of her family and the city in which they dwell But she cannot leave him with nothing Into his hands she has placed the single blue leaf that came from the wilderness and the dreaming combined She doesn't know what it does or what it was meant to do but it is the most powerful item on her person and it is the only thing she can leave him That leaf however was created to serve a purpose that Jewel does not understand Nor does Carver who now possesses it With Ellerson by his side Carver intends to traverse the wild Winter in an attempt to reach home and the people who are waiting for him There are those who do understand the significance of Carver's gift and the disaster that will prevail if it remains in his hands But time is of the essence These lands are not unclaimed and the Lord of these lands is waking from his ancient slumber Nor is the Lord the only threat Firstborn demons and wild elementals are swirling around two mortal men in a storm that threatens to end the only chance the city of Averalan has of surviving what is to follow Religion as Brand Razieh Mahdieh,2024-11-25 Religion as Brand An Analogy to Reconceptualize Religion delves into the complex relationship between religions and brands Through a process of abstraction the book creates an analogy to compare religion with brand which clarifies the similar functionalities of both within society and explores the complexities in this comparison beyond mere semiotic aspects Through this innovative lens it unveils the common mechanisms of both phenomena and unveils fundamental incentives and needs in human being nature that are evoked and fulfilled by these two social institutions Across four diverse case studies the book examines this analogy in real world contexts and demonstrates how this approach can generate hypotheses These cases explore diverse scenarios including ISIS and Al Qaeda as sub brands of Islam the dynamic of Islam and Judaism as brands in the Israeli Palestinian conflict Ashura ceremonies as a campaign for Shi'i Islam and the narrativity of Evangelicalism as a sub brand of Christianity This thought provoking exploration generates new hypotheses and challenges preconceived notions of both religion and brand Surfaces and Essences Douglas R Hofstadter,Emmanuel Sander,2013-04-23 Analogy is the core of all thinking This is the simple but unorthodox premise that Pulitzer Prize winning author Douglas Hofstadter and French psychologist Emmanuel Sander defend in their new work Hofstadter has been grappling with the mysteries of human thought for over thirty years Now with his trademark wit and special talent for making complex ideas vivid he has partnered with Sander to put forth a highly novel perspective on cognition We are constantly faced with a swirling and intermingling multitude of ill defined situations Our brain s job is to try to make sense of this unpredictable swarming chaos of stimuli How does it do so The ceaseless hail of input triggers analogies galore helping us to pinpoint the essence of what is going on Often this means the spontaneous evocation of words sometimes idioms sometimes the triggering of nameless long buried memories Why did two year old Camille proudly exclaim I undressed the banana Why do people who hear a story often blurt out Exactly the same thing happened to me when it was a completely different event How do we recognize an aggressive driver from a split second glance in our rearview mirror What in a friend s remark triggers the offhand reply That s just sour grapes What did Albert Einstein see that made him suspect that light consists of particles when a century of research had driven the final nail in the coffin of that long dead idea The answer to all these questions of course is analogy making the meat and potatoes the heart and soul the fuel and fire the gist and the crux the lifeblood and the wellsprings of thought Analogy making far from happening at rare intervals occurs at all moments defining thinking from top to toe from the tiniest and most fleeting thoughts to the most creative scientific insights Like G Escher Bach before it Surfaces and Essences will profoundly enrich our understanding of our own minds By plunging the reader into an extraordinary variety of colorful situations involving language thought and memory by revealing bit by bit the constantly churning cognitive mechanisms normally completely hidden from view and by discovering in them one central invariant core the incessant unconscious quest for strong analogical links to past experiences this book puts forth a radical and deeply surprising new vision of the act of thinking
