Richards, 2013-05-07 What would happen if we could stop time A fascinating inside look at five women who had their eggs frozen reveals what it s like for them to be free of the constant ticking of their biological clocks How would you live your life if you could stop your biological clock If you could be free of the baby panic that has tormented an entire generation of women who postponed motherhood to pursue careers or find the right mate Would you date better Marry later Relax more In Motherhood Rescheduled journalist Sarah Elizabeth Richards tells the stories of four women including herself who attempt to turn back time by freezing their eggs and chart a new course through their thirties and forties Their journeys are bumpy hilarious sometimes heartbreaking but always rewarding Just a decade ago the idea of women freezing their eggs seemed futile or dangerous But with new advances in medicine women who choose this route face no higher risk of birth defects in their babies than other women and pregnancy rates using frozen eggs are approaching those using fresh eggs At a time when one in five American women between the ages of forty and forty four is childless and half of those women say they wish they could have children Richards offers a hopeful message women approaching the end of their baby-making days do not need to settle and even twentysomethings who want to prolong their dating years do not need to fret Richards tells the history of this controversial science from its moments of premature enthusiasm to the exciting race that led to the big breakthroughs She also explores the hard facts of egg freezing from the cost and practical obstacles to the probabilities of success Above all she shares the stories of these women and especially her own with emotional honesty and compassion and makes the journey for all ultimately redeeming

Geyer's Stationer, 1924     Designs on the Heart Karal Ann Marling, 2006-05-29 In this book Karal Ann Marling looks at Grandma Moses as a cultural phenomenon of the postwar period and explores the meaning of her subject matter and her astonishing fame What did the Greatest Generation see in her simple renderings of people young and old tapping maple trees for syrup making apple butter gliding across snowy fields on sleighs Why did Bob Hope Irving Berlin and Harry Truman all love her and the art czars of New York openly despise her Through the flood of Moses merchandise splashed across Christmas cards dishware yard goods and gewgaws of every kind Marling traces the resonances that these primitive images struck in an America awkwardly adjusting to a new era of technology suburbia and Cold War tensions
