Seven Steps from Snowdon to Everest Mark Horrell, 2016-02-29 As he teetered on a narrow rock ledge a yak's bellow short of the stratosphere with a rubber mask strapped to his face a pair of mittens the size of a sealion's flippers and a drop of two kilometres below him it's fair to say Mark Horrell wasn't entirely happy with the situation he found himself in He had been an ordinary hiker who had only read books about mountaineering When he signed up for an organised trek in Nepal with a group of elderly ladies little did he know that ten years later he would be attempting to climb the world's highest mountain But as he travelled across the Himalayas Andes Alps and East Africa following in the footsteps of the pioneers he dreamed up a seven point plan to gain the skills and experience which could turn a wild idea into reality Funny incisive and heartfelt his journey provides a refreshingly honest portrait of the joys and torments of a modern day Everest climber

Darwin-Inspired Learning Carolyn J. Boulter, Michael J. Reiss, Dawn L. Sanders, 2015-01-19 Charles Darwin has been extensively analysed and written about as a scientist Victorian father and husband However this is the first book to present a carefully thought out pedagogical approach to learning that is centered on Darwin's life and scientific practice The ways in which Darwin developed his scientific ideas and their far reaching effects continue to challenge and provoke contemporary teachers and learners inspiring them to consider both how scientists work and how individual humans read nature Darwin inspired learning as proposed in this international collection of essays is an enquiry based pedagogy that takes the professional practice of Charles Darwin as its source Without seeking to idealise the man Darwin inspired learning places importance on active learning hands on enquiry critical thinking creativity argumentation interdisciplinarity In an increasingly urbanised world first hand observations of living plants and animals are becoming rarer Indeed some commentators suggest that such encounters are under threat and children are living in a time of nature deficit Darwin inspired learning with its focus on close observation and hands on enquiry seeks to re engage children and young people with the living world through critical and creative thinking modeled on Darwin s life and science
