The Diplomacy of Southeast Asia, 1945-1958 Russell Hunt Fifield, 1968 Southeast Asia from 1945 Ian Frederick William Beckett, 1987 Discusses in text and illustrations the events in the various countries of Southeast Asia from 1945 to the present including the causes events and outcome of the war in Vietnam Connecting Histories Christopher E. Goscha, Christian F. Ostermann, 2009 Connecting Histories Decolonization and the Cold War in Southeast Asia draws on newly available archival documentation from both Western and Asian countries to explore decolonization the Cold War and the establishment of a new international order in post World War II Southeast Asia Major historical forces intersected here of power politics economics and culture on trajectories East to West North to South across the South itself and along less defined tracks Especially important democratic communist competitions sought the loyalties of Southeast Asian nationalists even as some colonial powers sought to resume their prewar dominance These intersections are the focus of the contributions to this book which use new sources and approaches to examine some of the most important historical trajectories of the twentieth century in Burma Vietnam Malaysia and a number of other countries A Sudden Rampage Nicholas Tarling, 2001-01-01 A Sudden Rampage describes Japan's occupation of Southeast Asia during World War II in the context of its relationship with the outside world The first two chapters focus on the period between the Meiji restoration the end of World War I the interwar period and the outbreak of war in the Pacific Subsequent chapters offer a short narrative of the Pacific conflict and a country by country description of Japan's political activities in the occupied region and economic activities undertaken by the Japanese in wartime Southeast Asia The concluding chapter assesses the contribution the occupation made to postwar Southeast Asia in the light of the suffering and destruction rendered on the region Japan and South East Asia: From the Meiji Restoration to 1945 Wolf Mendl, 2001 Britain, Southeast Asia and the Onset of the Cold War, 1945-1950 Nicholas Tarling, 1998-10-13 This detailed study throws light on the evolution of British policy in South east Asia in the turbulent post war period Through extensive archival research and insightful analysis of the British mindset and official policy Tarling demonstrates that South east Asia was perceived as a region consisting of mutually co operating new states rather than a fragmented mass The book covers the immediate post war period until the Colombo plan and the outbreak of hostilities in Korea A companion volume to Tarling's Britain Southeast Asia and the Onset of the Pacific War it finds parallels between Britain's approach to the threat of Japan and its approach to the threat of communism It also shows that the British sought to shape US involvement in part by involving other Commonwealth countries especially India This is a major contribution to the diplomatic and political history of South east Asia The Diplomacy of Southeast Asia 1945-1958 Ressel H Fifeld, 2015-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works
