The International Refugee Crisis Vaughan Robinson, 2016-07-27 There may be 20 million refugees around the world today For many their search for freedom ends in camps in countries of first asylum There they wait for offers of permanent resettlement in the West This book explores how two countries traditionally noted for their humanitarian treatment of refugees have responded to the refugee crisis of the 1980s and 90s how they have recast their admission criteria developed reception policies and constructed resettlement programmes

The Chinese/Vietnamese Diaspora Yuk Wah

Chan, 2012-06-12 Over three decades have passed since the first wave of Indochinese refugees left their homelands. These refugees, mainly the Vietnamese, fled from war and strife in search of a better life elsewhere. By investigating the Vietnamese diaspora in Asia, this book sheds new light on the Asian refugee era, 1975-1991, refugee settlement, and different patterns of host-guest interactions that will have implications for refugee studies elsewhere. The book provides a clearer historical understanding of the group dynamics among refugees: the ethnic Chinese, Vietnamese refugees from both the North and South, as well as the northern Vietnamese refugees. An examination of different aspects of migration, including planning for migration, choices of migration route, and reasons for migration, an analysis of the ethnic and refugee politics during the refugee era, the settlement and subsequent resettlement. This book will be of interest to students and scholars of globalization, migration, ethnicities, refugee histories, and politics.

Migration, Ethnic Relations and Chinese Business Kwok Bun

Chan, 2005-11-21 Incorporating research carried out over the last twenty years, this book documents the personal and collective responses of Chinese migrants and refugees to the prejudice and discrimination they have experienced. Using case studies of Chinese communities in Canada, Chan explores the different defence mechanisms Chinese migrants have created in order to escape the systemic and institutionalized discrimination they face. In particular, the book analyzes Chinese entrepreneurship, arguing that it is a collective response to blocked opportunities in host societies. Drawing upon empirical and theoretical literature on the sociology of race and ethnic relations, the book stresses the variety in Chinese culture and its ability to exploit an emergent ethnicity as individuals, groups, and communities.

A Displaced Nation Phi-Van

Nguyen, 2024-12-15 In A Displaced Nation, Phi Van Nguyen argues that the displacement of eighty thousand mostly Roman Catholic evacuees from North Vietnam in 1954 had a profound impact on the war opposing Saigon, on both Hanoi, and on the evacuees themselves. Assisting with the transportation, emergency relief, and resettlement of the evacuees, allowed diverse organizations and the United States to support Saigon. This transnational mobilization also convinced the evacuees the free world would never let Vietnam remain divided. Many people see the Vietnam wars spanning from 1945 to 1989 as separate conflicts. But Nguyen demonstrates that the evacuees experienced a continuous civil war. A Displaced Nation shows the evacuees felt so validated by transnational support that they thought they could use this external help to return one day to the north. This belief was not constant, nor were the strategies to achieve it the same for all, but through their political activism and action, the evacuees showed they were willing to seize any opportunity to oppose Hanoi during the subsequent decades, even once established overseas.

The Devil's Trick

John Boyko, 2022-05-17 Forty-five years after the fall of Saigon, John Boyko brings to light the little-known story of Canada's involvement in the American War in Vietnam. Through the lens of six remarkable people, some well-known, others obscure, bestselling historian John Boyko recounts Canada's often overlooked involvement in that conflict as peacemaker, combatant, and provider of weapons and sanctuary. When Brigadier General

Sherwood Lett arrived in Vietnam over a decade before American troops he and the Canadians under his command risked their lives trying to enforce an unstable peace while questioning whether they were merely handmaidens to a new war As American battleships steamed across the Pacific Canadian diplomat Blair Seaborn was meeting secretly in Hanoi with North Vietnam's prime minister if American leaders accepted his roadmap to peace those ships could be turned around before war began Claire Culhane worked in a Canadian hospital in Vietnam and then returned home to implore Canadians to stop supporting what she deemed an immoral war Joe Erickson was among 30 000 young Americans who changed Canada by evading the draft and heading north Doug Carey was one of the 20 000 Canadians who enlisted with the American forces to serve in Vietnam Rebecca Trinh fled Saigon with her husband and young daughters joining the waves of desperate Indochinese refugees thousands of whom were to forge new lives in Canada Through these wide ranging and fascinating accounts Boyko exposes what he calls the Devil's wildest trick convincing leaders that war is desirable persuading the public that it is acceptable and telling combatants that the deeds they carry out and the horrors they experience are normal or at least necessary In uncovering Canada's side of the story Boyko reveals the many secret and forgotten ways that Canada not only fought the war but was forever shaped by its lessons and lies

Critical Years in Immigration Freda Hawkins, 1991

With the new introduction Freda Hawkins brings Critical Years in Immigration up to date by discussing the directions taken by the Canadian and Australian governments since 1984 She also clarifies the implications of the recently announced Canadian immigration levels for 1991-95 discussing the government's reasoning and future plans
