Southeast Asian Chinese China

Leo Suryadinata

Southeast Asian Chinese China:

Southeast Asian Studies in China Saw Swee-Hock, 2003-08-01 This book a project of the ASEAN China Study Programme of ISEAS is designed to promote a better understanding between the people of the two regions as China continues to exert a dominant political and economic presence in Southeast Asia Needless to say scholars and academics from both sides have a significant role to play in terms of creating greater awareness of each other through research workshops and conferences Whilst many universities and research institutes in the ASEAN region are conducting studies on various aspects of China it is equally important for the Chinese counterparts to be fully engaged in Southeast Asian Studies in order to deepen their knowledge of the region for mutual benefit The book traces the development of Southeast Asian Studies in China discusses the current status of these studies examines the problems encountered in the pursuit of these studies and attempts to evaluate their prospects in the years ahead

Ethnic Chinese as Southeast Asians Leo Suryadinata, 1997 More than 80 per cent of the Chinese outside China live in Southeast Asia and many of them have been integrated into the local societies However the resurgence of China and ethnic Chinese investment in their ancestral land have caused concern among some non Chinese Southeast Asian elites They have begun to question the position and identity of the Chinese population in their countries Ethnic Chinese as Southeast Asians addresses these ethnic Chinese issues as well as ethnic Chinese relations with China and with indigenous groups in the region Written by leading scholars in Southeast Asia including both ethnic Chinese and non Chinese the volume also explores the position of the ethnic Chinese in contemporary as well as the future Southeast Asia providing readers with a most up to date and comprehensive study on the subject

Southeast Asian Chinese Leo Suryadinata, 1995

Changing Identities of the Southeast Asian Chinese Since World War II Jennifer Cushman, Gungwu Wang, 1988-11-01 In June 1985 a symposium Changing Identities of the Southeast Asian Chinese since World War II was held at the Australian National University in Canberra This volume includes many of the papers from that symposium presented by ANU scholars and those from universities elsewhere in Australia North America and Southeast Asia Participants looked at the current thinking about the parameters of identity and shared their own research into the complex issues that overlapping categories of identity raise Identity was chosen as the focus of the symposium because perceptions of self whether by others or by the individual Chinese concerned appear to lie at the heart of the present day Chinese experience in Southeast Asia It is also evident that identity wears many guises and that we cannot talk about a single Chinese identity when identity can be determined by the different political social economic or religious circumstances an individual faces at any given time One of the distinctive characteristics of all the essays in this volume is that they are written from an historical perspective While the papers focus on how recent developments in Southeast Asian society have shaped Chinese identity they also discuss those changes in terms of the historical matrix from which they developed Because many of the essays in this volume combine an historical overview with more recent statistical data it should serve as a useful companion to the increasingly popular case studies in which much of the writing about the Chinese in Southeast Asia is now cast

The Chinese in Southeast Asia and Beyond Ching-Hwang Yen, 2008 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region s economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore Southeast Asian Chinese and China Leo Suryadinata, 1995 The 20 million ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia make up almost 80 per cent of the ethnic Chinese living outside mainland China Taiwan and Hong Kong Originally sojourners who left China in search of a livelihood they have over the generations become an integral part of the countries in which they live With the resurgence of China as an economic and political power the relations between the ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia and China have come under renewed scrutiny This volume of contributions from an international panel of academics examines the economic position of the ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia their role in China s economic development the extent of their economic and political links with China and their place in Southeast Asian economy and society The papers in this volume were originally presented at the International Conference on Southeast Asian Chinese Culture Economy and Society held in Singapore in 1994

Ethnic Chinese As Southeast Asians NA NA, 2016-04-30 This book addresses ethnic Chinese issues as well as ethnic Chinese relations with China and with indigenous groups in the region Law and the Chinese in Southeast Asia M Barry Hooker, 2002 This collection of essays focuses on law and the diaspora Chinese They show us a variety of answers to such questions as what are the laws of China outside China what are the laws of the Chinese in Southeast Asia what were are the laws for the Chinese in Southeast Asia and is there a Confucian Chinese The answers in some cases are reasonably certain but in others they are tentative and debatable The legal material raises these issues in a way which is fundamental to diaspora studies Community and Nation Gungwu Wang, 1981 Chinese Food and Foodways in Southeast Asia and Beyond Tan Chee-Beng, 2012-08-01 Chinese cuisine has had a deep impact on culinary traditions in Southeast Asia where the lack of certain ingredients and access to new ingredients along with the culinary knowledge of local people led Chinese migrants to modify traditional dishes and to invent new foods This process brought the cuisine of southern China considered by some writers to be the finest in the world into contact with a wide range of local and global cuisines and ingredients When Chinese from Southeast Asia moved on to other parts of the world they brought these variants of Chinese food with them completing a cycle of culinary reproduction localization and invention and globalization The process does not end there for the new context offers yet another set of ingredients and culinary traditions and the embedding and fusing of foods continues creating additional hybrid forms Written by scholars whose deep familiarity with Chinese cuisine is both personal and academic Chinese Food and Foodways in Southeast Asia and Beyond is a book that anyone who has been fortunate enough to encounter Southeast Asian food will savour and it provides a window on this world for those who have yet to discover it
