DeBlack, 2002 Elites have shaped southern life and communities argues the distinguished historian Willard Gatewood These essays written by Gatewood's colleagues and former students in his honor explore the influence of particular elites in the South from the American Revolution to the Little Rock integration crisis They discuss not only the power of elites to shape the experiences of the ordinary people but the tensions and negotiations between elites in a particular locale whether those elites were white or black urban or rural or male or female Subjects include the particular kinds of power available to black elites in Savannah Georgia during the American Revolution the transformation of a southern secessionist into an anti slavery activist during the Civil War a Tennessee aristocrat of color active in politics from Reconstruction to World War II middle class Southern women both black and white in the New Deal and the Little Rock integration crisis and the different brands of paternalism in Arkansas plantations during the Jacksonian and Jim Crow eras and in the postwar Georgia carpet industry The Southern Elite and Social Change Randy Finley, Thomas A. Deblack, 2002-03-01 Elites have shaped southern life and communities argues the distinguished historian Willard Gatewood These essays written by Gatewood's colleagues and former students in his honor explore the influence of particular elites in the South from the American Revolution to the Little Rock integration crisis They discuss not only the power of elites to shape the experiences of the ordinary people but the tensions and negotiations between elites in a particular locale whether those elites were white or black urban or rural or male or female Subjects include the particular kinds of power available to black elites in Savannah Georgia during the American Revolution the transformation of a southern secessionist into an anti slavery activist during the Civil War a Tennessee aristocrat of color active in politics from Reconstruction to World War II middle class Southern women both black and white in the New Deal and the Little Rock integration crisis and the different brands of paternalism in Arkansas plantations during the Jacksonian and Jim Crow eras and in the postwar Georgia carpet industry Delta Empire Jeannie Wayne, 2011-12-05 In Delta Empire Lee Wilson and the Transformation of Southern Agriculture Jeannie Wayne employs the fascinating history of a powerful plantation owner Robert E Lee Wilson in the Arkansas delta to recount the evolution of southern agriculture from the late nineteenth century through World War II Wayne provides a compelling case study of both one man's strategic innovation and the changing economy of South The African Methodist Episcopal Church Dennis C. Dickerson, 2020-01-09 In this book Dennis C Dickerson examines the long history of the African Methodist Episcopal Church and its intersection with major social movements over more than two centuries Beginning as a religious movement in the late eighteenth century the African Methodist Episcopal Church developed as a freedom advocate for blacks in the Atlantic World Governance of a proud black ecclesia often clashed with its commitment to and resources for fighting slavery segregation and colonialism thus limiting the full realization of the church's emancipationist ethos Dickerson recounts how this black institution nonetheless weathered the inexorable demands produced by the Civil War two world wars the civil rights movement African decolonization and women s empowerment resulting in its global prominence in the contemporary world His book also integrates the history of African Methodism within the broader historical landscape of American and African American history Interpreting African American History and Culture at Museums and Historic Sites Max A. van Balgooy, 2014-12-24 In this landmark guide nearly two dozen essays by scholars educators and museum leaders suggest the next steps in the interpretation of African American history and culture from the colonial period to the twentieth century at history museums and historic sites This diverse anthology addresses both historical research and interpretive methodologies including investigating church and legal records using social media navigating sensitive or difficult topics preserving historic places engaging students and communities and strengthening connections between local and national history Case studies of exhibitions tours and school programs from around the country provide practical inspiration including photographs of projects and examples of exhibit label text Highlights include Amanda Seymour discusses the prevalence of false nostalgia at the homes of the first five presidents and offers practical solutions to create a more inclusive nuanced history Dr Bernard Powers reveals that African American church records are a rich but often overlooked source for developing a more complete portrayal of individuals and communities Dr David Young executive director of Cliveden uses his experience in reinterpreting this National Historic Landmark to identify four ways that people respond to a history that has been too often untold ignored or appropriated and how museums and historic sites can constructively respond Dr Matthew Pinsker explains that historic sites may be missing a huge opportunity in telling the story of freedom and emancipation by focusing on the underground railroad rather than its much bigger upper ground counterpart Martha Katz Hyman tackles the challenges of interpreting the material culture of both enslaved and free African Americans in the years before the Civil War by discussing the furnishing of period rooms Dr Benjamin Filene describes three micro public history projects that lead to new ways of understanding the past handling source limitations building partnerships and reaching audiences Andrea Jones shares her approach for engaging students through historical simulations based on the Fight for Your Rights school program at the Atlanta History Center A exhibit on African American Vietnam War veterans at the Heinz History Center not only linked local and international events but became an award winning model of civic engagement A collaboration between a university and museum that began as a local history project interpreting the Scottsboro Boys Trial as a website and brochure ended up changing Alabama law A list of national organizations and an extensive bibliography on the interpretation of African American history provide convenient gateways to additional resources Why Nations Fail Daron Acemoglu, James A. Robinson, 2013-09-17 NEW YORK TIMES AND WALL STREET JOURNAL BESTSELLER From two winners of the 2024 Nobel Prize in Economic Sciences who have demonstrated the importance of societal institutions for a country s prosperity A wildly ambitious work that hopscotches through history and around the world to answer the very big question of why some countries get rich and others don't The New York Times FINALIST Financial Times and Goldman Sachs Business Book of the Year Award ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR The Washington Post Financial Times The Economist BusinessWeek Bloomberg The Christian Science Monitor The Plain Dealer Why are some nations rich and others poor divided by wealth and poverty health and sickness food and famine Is it culture the weather or geography that determines prosperity or poverty As Why Nations Fail shows none of these factors is either definitive or destiny Drawing on fifteen years of original research Daron Acemoglu and James Robinson conclusively show that it is our man made political and economic institutions that underlie economic success or the lack of it Korea to take just one example is a remarkably homogenous nation yet the people of North Korea are among the poorest on earth while their brothers and sisters in South Korea are among the richest The differences between the Koreas is due to the politics that created those two different institutional trajectories Acemoglu and Robinson marshal extraordinary historical evidence from the Roman Empire the Mayan city states the Soviet Union the United States and Africa to build a new theory of political economy with great relevance for the big questions of today among them Will China's economy continue to grow at such a high speed and ultimately overwhelm the West Are America's best days behind it Are we creating a vicious cycle that enriches and empowers a small minority This book will change the way people think about the wealth and poverty of nations as ambitious as Jared Diamond's Guns Germs and Steel BusinessWeek

Black Struggle, Red Scare Jeff R Woods, 2003-10-31 At the height of the cold war southern segregationists exploited the reigning mood of anxiety by linking the civil rights movement to an international Communist conspiracy Jeff Woods tells a gripping story of fervent crusaders for racial equality swept into the maelstrom of the South's siege mentality of crafty political opportunists who played upon white southerners very real fear of Communists and of a people who saw lurking enemies and detected red propaganda everywhere In their strange double identity as both defiant Confederate flag wavers fiercely protecting regional sovereignty and as American superpatriots many southerners stood ready to defend against subversives be they red or black Concentrating on the phenomenon at its most intense period Woods makes vivid the fearful synergy that developed between racist forces and the anti Communist cause reveals the often illegal means used to wash the movement red and documents the gross waste of public funds in pursuing an almost nonexistent threat Though ultimately unsuccessful in convincing Americans outside of Dixie that the civil rights protests were controlled by Moscow the southern red scare forced movement activists to distance themselves from the Marxist elements in their midst thereby gaining the sympathy of the American people while losing the support of some of their most passionate antiracist campaigners A product of vast archival research and the latest literature on this increasingly popular subject this is the first book to consider the southern red scare as a unique regional phenomenon rather than an offshoot of McCarthyism or massive resistance Addressing the fundamental struggle of Americans to balance liberty and security in an atmosphere of racial prejudice and ideological conflict it will be equally compelling for students of civil rights southern history the cold war and American anti

Communism The Impact of the Civil War and Reconstruction on Arkansas Carl H. Moneyhon, 2002-01-01 This groundbreaking study first published in 1994 draws on a rich variety of primary sources to describe Arkansas society before during and after the Civil War While the Civil War devastated the state this book shows how those who were powerful before the war reclaimed their dominance during Reconstruction Most importantly the white elite's postwar commitment to a cotton economy led them to set up a sharecropping system very much like slavery in which workers had little control over their own labor In arguing for both change and continuity Moneyhon reconciles contemporary accounts of the war's effects while addressing ongoing debates within the historical literature 101 African Americans Who Shaped South Carolina

Bernard E. Powers, Jr., 2020-10-12 The first people of African descent to live in what is now South Carolina enslaved people living in the sixteenth century Spanish settlements of San Miguel de Gualdape and Santa Elena arrived even before the first permanent English settlement was established in 1670 For more than 350 years South Carolina's African American population has had a significant influence on the state's cultural economic and political development 101 African Americans Who Shaped South Carolina depicts the long presence and profound influence people of African descent have had on the Palmetto State Each entry offers a brief description of an individual with ties to South Carolina who played a significant role in the history of the state nation and in some cases world Drawing upon the landmark text The South Carolina Encyclopedia edited by Walter Edgar the combined entries offer a concise and approachable history of the state and the African Americans who have shaped it A foreword is provided by Walter Edgar Neuffer Professor of Southern Studies Emeritus and Distinguished Professor Emeritus of History at the University of South Carolina Chinese Modernity and the Peasant Path

Kathy Le Mons Walker, 1999 This ambitious work traces a social history of semicolonialism in late nineteenth and early twentieth century China It takes as its central concern the intertwining of two antagonistic forces elite constructions of modernity shaped globally and an alternate line of peasant resistance and development Nantong county and the northern portion of the commercially advanced Yangzi Delta form its focal points Lying in the hinterland of and connected in myriad ways with the treaty port of Shanghai which in the late nineteenth century became the center of imperialist activity in China the northern delta is an ideal locale for examining how the acquisition transmission and contestation of power may have changed during the extended moment of semicolonial encounter The author's specific project is to unravel the multiple strands of the semicolonial process and thereby the dominant and alternative histories it embodied In emphasizing semicolonialism as a structural context shaping events the book opens up a pivotal but silent area in the history of modern China In confronting the development of capitalism as a historical phenomenon and suggesting that its consequences for land and labor on a global scale need greater theoretical and historical scrutiny the book forces a new understanding of China's modernity The book is in two parts The first delineates key long term dynamics in the political economic and social history of the area from the late Ming dynasty to the Opium Wars The second part begins with an examination of the rise of modernist urban power in the context of accelerating growth in the textile and cotton trades focusing on such topics as economic restructuring under Shanghai's impetus new forms of economic and political organization and contention as well as cooperation within the urban elite Turning to the countryside the book then examines the regearing of the rural economy to the needs of urban capital local and global outlines the emergence of modern landlordism and other rural capitalisms analyzes class formation in the peasantry associated with changes in labor organization tenurial arrangements and the gendered division of labor and traces the coalescence of a distinctive political discourse through which peasants contested certain development schemes and advanced alternative conceptions of community and nation
