Southern Writer In The Postmodern World:

The Southern Writer in the Postmodern World Fred C. Hobson, 1991 In The Southern Writer in the Postmodern World Fred Hobson offers a witty and engaging preliminary estimate of some of the most prominent new figures in southern fiction. Although he discovers no shortage of talent, he does find various and conflicting attitudes toward the south and the contemporary world. Especially concerned with the relationship of these new writers to their literary predecessors, he traces the continuity or lack of continuity of certain attitudes, fictional approaches, and even values that informed southern writing during its earlier flowering in the 1920s, 1930s, and 1940s.

Southern Writers and Their Worlds Christopher Morris, Susan A. Eacker, 1998-04-01 In this brilliant collection, five historians and literary critics explore the many ways that southern writers influence and are influenced by their region. Christopher Morris examines the relationship between economic development and the humor of such Old Southwestern writers as Augustus B. Longstreet and Johnson Jones Hooper, while Susan A. Eacker explains how South Carolina author Louisa McCord came to defend slavery. Anne Goodwyn Jones offers a penetrating deconstruction of gender in the southern literary renaissance. Charles Joyner reassesses William Styron's controversial decision to write The Confessions of Nat Turner in the first person, and Bertram Wyatt Brown reveals the connection between depression and literary creativity. Presenting interdisciplinary topics within a broad chronological range, this remarkable work will be of interest to all students of southern literature and history.

Southern Writers at Century's End Jeffrey J. Folks, James A. Perkins, 2021-12-14 Since the end of World War II, the South has experienced a greater awareness of growth and of its accompanying tensions than other regions of the United States. The rapid change that climaxed with the war in Vietnam, the Cold War, civil rights demonstrations, and Watergate has forced the traditional South to come to terms with social upheaval. As the essays collected in Southern Writers at Century's End point out, southern writing since 1975 reflects the confusion and violence that have characterized late twentieth-century public culture. These essays consider the work of twenty-one of the foremost southern writers whose most important fiction has appeared in the last quarter of this century. As the region's contemporary writers have begun to gain a wide audience, critics have begun to distinguish what Hugh Holman has called the fresh, the vital, and the new in southern literary culture. Southern Writers at Century's End is the first volume to take an extensive look at the current generation of southern writers. Authors considered include James Lee Burke, Fred Chappell, Robert Drake, Andre Dubus, Clyde Edgerton, Richard Ford, Kaye Gibbons, John Grisham, Barry Hannah, Mary Hood, Josephine Humphreys, Randall Kenan, Richard Marius, Bobbie Ann Mason, Cormac McCarthy, Tim McLaurin, T. R. Pearson, Lee Smith, Anne Tyler, Alice Walker, and James Wilcox.

The Fable of the Southern Writer Lewis P. Simpson, 2003-10-14 With a breadth and depth unsurpassed by any other cultural historian of the South, Lewis Simpson examines the writing of southerners: Thomas Jefferson, John Randolph, Mark Twain, Robert Penn Warren, Allen Tate, William Faulkner, Elizabeth Madox Roberts, Arthur Crew Inman, William Styron, and Walker Percy. Simpson offers challenging essays of easy erudition blessedly free of academic jargon They do not propose to support an overall thesis but simply explore the southern writer s unique relationship with his or her region bereft of myth and tradition in the grasp of science and history Library Journal

Twentieth-Century Southern Literature J. A. Bryant Jr.,2021-11-21 Authors discussed include Wendell Berry Erskine Caldwell Truman Capote Ralph Ellison William Faulkner Shelby Foote Zora Neal Hurston Bobbie Ann Mason Cormac McCarthy Flannery O Connor William Styron Anne Tyler Alice Walker Robert Penn Warren Eudora Welty Tennessee Williams Thomas Wolfe Richard Wright and many more By World War II the Southern Renaissance had established itself as one of the most significant literary events of the century and today much of the best American fiction is southern fiction Though the flowering of realistic and local color writing during the first two decades of the century was a sign of things to come the period between the two world wars was the crucial one for the South s literary development a literary revival in Richmond came to fruition at Vanderbilt University a group of young men produced The Fugitive a remarkable controversial magazine that published some of the century s best verse in its brief run and the publication and widespread recognition of Faulkner among others inaugurated the great flood of southern writing that was to follow in novels short stories poetry and plays With more than forty years of experience writing and reading about the subject and friendships with many of the figures discussed J A Bryant is uniquely qualified to provide the first comprehensive account of southern American literature since 1900 Bryant pays attention to both the cultural and the historical context of the works and authors discussed and presents the information in an enjoyable accessible style No lover of great American literature can afford to be without this book

focus on lost children and children suffering loss Eckard examines how some contemporary writers provide new stories of the Civil War the role of other wars in Southern lives and the centrality of family Margaret M Bauer Rivers Chair of Southern Literature at East Carolina University First published in 1937 Thomas Wolfe's The Lost Boy gives name to the theme of lost children that has permeated much of southern literature and provides a template for telling their stories In Thomas Wolfe and Lost Children in Southern Literature which grew out of many years of teaching The Lost Boy and other works of southern literature Paula Gallant Eckard uses Wolfe's novel as a starting point to trace thematic connections among contemporary southern novels that are comparably evocative in their treatment of lostness Eckard explores six authors and their works Fred Chappell's I Am One of You Forever Mark Powell's Prodigals Kaye Gibbons's Ellen Foster Sue Monk Kidd's The Secret Life of Bees Bobbie Anne Mason's In Country Robert Olmstead's Coal Black Horse and Lee Smith's On Agate Hill Though each novel is unique and a product of its own time period all the novels explored here are cast against the backdrop of the South during eras of conflict and change Like The Lost Boy these novels reflect a sense of history a sense of loss associated with that history and an innate love of story and narrative as well as representations of work that historically have defined the lives of individuals and families throughout the South In its artistic treatment of lostness The Lost Boy creates a significant literary legacy As Eckard demonstrates that legacy continues in the form of these six contemporary authors who in writing about the South perpetuate Wolfe's efforts as they also create or find the lost child in new ways PAULA GALLANT ECKARD is an associate professor of English and the director of the American studies program at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte She is the author of Maternal Body and Voice in Toni Morrison Bobbie Ann Mason and Lee Smith

The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture M. Thomas Inge, Charles Reagan Wilson, 2014-02-01. Offering a comprehensive view of the South's literary landscape past and present, this volume of The New Encyclopedia of Southern Culture celebrates the region's ever flourishing literary culture and recognizes the ongoing evolution of the southern literary canon. As new writers draw upon and reshape previous traditions, southern literature has broadened and deepened its connections not just to the American literary mainstream but also to world literatures, a development thoughtfully explored in the essays here. Greatly expanding the content of the literature section in the original Encyclopedia, this volume includes 31 thematic essays addressing major genres of literature, theoretical categories such as regionalism, the southern gothic, and agrarianism, and themes in southern writing such as food, religion, and sexuality. Most striking is the fivefold increase in the number of biographical entries, which introduce southern novelists, playwrights, poets, and critics. Special attention is given to contemporary writers and other individuals who have not been widely covered in previous scholarship.
