Foucault, Marxism and Critique Barry Smart, 2013-01-11 In this work originally released in 1983 Barry Smart examines the relevance of Foucault's work for developing an understanding of those issues which lie beyond the limits of Marxist theory and analysis issues such as individualising forms of power power knowledge relations the rise of the social and the associated socialisation of politics He argues that there exist clear and substantial differences between Foucault's genealogical analysis and that of Marxist theory Smart thus presents Foucault's work as a new form of critical theory whose object is a critical analysis of rationalities and of how relations of power are rationalised Soviet Marxism-Leninism and the Question of Ideology Rachel Walker, University of Essex, 1987 Marxism-Leninism and the Theory of International Relations V. Kubalkova, A. Cruickshank, 2015-10-14 Refuting the assumption that orthodox Marxist theory contains anything of relevance on international relations this book originally published in 1980 clarifies reconstructs and summarizes the theories of international relations of Marx and Engels Lenin Stalin and the Soviet leadership of the 1970s These are subjected to a comparative analysis and their relative integrity is examined both against one another and against selected Western theories Marxist Leninist models of international relations are fully explored enabling the reader to appreciate the essence and evolution of fundamental Soviet concepts as such as proletarian socialist internationalism peaceful co existence national liberation movement and détente The Political Economy of Marx (2nd Edition) Michael Charles Howard, 1988-09

This edition of The political economy of Marx Second edition is published by arrangement with Longman Group UK Limited T p verso Marxism, Revolution and Utopia Herbert Marcuse, 2014-03-26 This collection assembles some of Herbert Marcuse's most important work and presents for the first time his responses to and development of classic Marxist approaches to revolution and utopia as well as his own theoretical and political perspectives This sixth and final volume of Marcuse's collected papers shows Marcuse's rejection of the prevailing twentieth century Marxist theory and socialist practice which he saw as inadequate for a thorough critique of Western and Soviet bureaucracy and the development of his revolutionary thought towards a critique of the consumer society Marcuse's later philosophical perspectives on technology ecology and human emancipation sat at odds with many of the classic tenets of Marx's materialist dialectic which placed the working class as the central agent of change in capitalist societies As the material from this volume shows Marcuse was not only a theorist of Marxist thought and practice in the twentieth century but also proves to be an essential thinker for understanding the neoliberal phase of capitalism and resistance in the twenty first century A comprehensive introduction by Douglas Kellner and Clayton Pierce places Marcuse's philosophy in the context of his engagement with the main currents of twentieth century philosophy while also providing important analyses of his anticipatory theorization of capitalist development through a neoliberal restructuring of society The volume concludes with an afterword by Peter Marcuse
