Woods, 2010 Analyzes the massive turmoil afflicting the nation of Sierra Leone 1995 2002 and the efforts of outside forces to bring stability to that small country The taxonomy of intervention ranged from private mercenary armies through the Economic Community of West African States to the U N and the U K In every case those who intervened encountered a common set of difficulties that had to be overcome Unsurprisingly they also discovered challenges unique to their own org and political circumstances Serving soldiers can often profit vicariously from the mistakes of others as recounted in detailed case studies of historical events A cautionary tale that political leaders and military planners contemplating intervention in Africa ignore at their peril Providing for National Security Andrew M. Dorman, Joyce P. Kaufman, 2014-04-30 Providing for National Security A Comparative Analysis argues that the provision of national security has changed in the 21st century as a result of a variety of different pressures and threats In this timely volume experts from both the academic and policy worlds present 13 different country case studies

drawn from across the globe including established and newer states large and smaller states those on the rise and those in apparent decline to identify what these key players consider to be their national security priorities how they go about providing national security how they manage national security and what role they see for their armed forces now and in the future The book concludes that relative standing and the balance of power remains important to each state and that all see an important role for armed forces in the future

Forces for Good Graeme Cheeseman, 2004 Forces for good develops and explores the concept of cosmopolitan militaries It examines how governments militaries and institutions have responded politically doctrinally and operationally to claims that militaries have a new role in cosmopolitan law enforcement that allows and perhaps even requires the use of force to protect and defend those who are the victims of gross abuse of human rights The contributors include academics defence practitioners and serving military officers
