Sisters Wives The Past Future Of Sexual Equality:

Sisters and Wives Karen Brodtkin, 1979 A lively and well researched analysis of women's roles in the kinship systems of precapitalist African societies turns out to be pertinent to women's struggle for equality everywhere. For any theorist of social organization this is an important book. American Anthropologist For anthropologists, historians, social theorists, and

From Eve to Dawn: A History of Women in the World Volume III Marilyn French, 2008-09-01 From the New York Times bestselling author A rare find a page turning can't put it down history text Library Journal Writing about what she calls the most cheering period in female history Marilyn French recounts how nineteenth century women living under imperialism, industrialization and capitalism nonetheless organized for their own education, a more equitable wage and the vote. Focusing on the United States, Great Britain and countries in Africa French argues that capitalism's success depended on the exploitation and enslavement of huge numbers including women but the act of working outside the home alongside other women rather than in isolation provided women with the possibility of organizing for emancipation. The third volume of her remarkable four volume survey fascinating insight and detail Publishers Weekly Webs of Power Evelyn Blackwood, 2000 Webs of Power offers a fresh perspective on women in Southeast Asia. Focusing on one rural Minangkabau village the book provides vital insights into the gendered processes of post coloniality. The Minangkabau living in West Sumatra are the largest matrilineal group in the world. They have intrigued generations of scholars because they are matrilineal and Islamic. By exploring the contestations and accommodations women and men make with state and Islamic ideologies Webs of Power discloses the processes at the heart of globalization as well as the complexities of kinship and power in a rural agricultural community. The book challenges conventional thinking about matriliney showing the prominence of senior women in all aspects of village life. Women's History in Global Perspective Bonnie G. Smith, 2004 The American Historical Association's Committee on Women Historians commissioned some of the pioneering figures in women's history to prepare essays in their respective areas of expertise. These volumes the second and third in a series of three complete their collected efforts. The first volume of the series dealt with the broad themes necessary to understanding women's history around the world. As a counterpoint volume 2 is concerned with issues that have shaped the history of women in particular places and during particular eras. It examines women in ancient civilizations including women in China, Japan and Korea; women and gender in South and South East Asia; Medieval women; women and gender in Colonial Latin America and the history of women in the US to 1865. Authors included are Sarah Hughes and Brady Hughes, Susan Mann, Barbara N. Ramusack, Judith M. Bennett, Ann Twinam and Kathleen Brown. As with volume 2, volume 3 also discusses current trends in gender and women's history from a regional perspective. It includes essays on sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East, early and modern Europe, Russian and the Soviet Union, Latin America and North America after 1865. Asuncion Lavrin, Ellen Dubois and Judith P. Zinsser writing with Bonnie S. Anderson. Incorporating essays from top scholars ranging over an abundance of regions, dates and methodologies.

Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology H. Russell Bernard, Clarence C. Gravlee, 2014-07-08 The Handbook of Methods in Cultural Anthropology now in its second edition maintains a strong benchmark for understanding the scope of contemporary anthropological field methods. Avoiding divisive debates over science and humanism, the contributors draw upon both traditions to explore fieldwork in practice. The second edition also reflects major developments of the past decade, including the rising prominence of mixed methods, the emergence of new technologies, and evolving views on ethnographic writing. Spanning the chain of research from designing a project through methods of data collection and interpretive analysis, the Handbook features new chapters on ethnography of online communities, social survey research, and network and geospatial analysis. Considered discussion of ethics, epistemology, and the presentation of research results to diverse audiences round out the volume. The result is an essential guide for all scholars, professionals, and advanced students who employ fieldwork.

Inalienable Possessions Annette B. Weiner, 1992-05-13 Inalienable Possessions tests anthropology's traditional assumptions about kinship, economics, power, and gender in an exciting challenge to accepted theories of reciprocity and marriage exchange. Focusing on Oceania societies from Polynesia to Papua New Guinea and including Australian Aborigine groups, Annette Weiner investigates the category of possessions that must not be given or if they are circulated must return finally to the giver. Reciprocity, she says, is only the superficial aspect of exchange which overlays much more politically powerful strategies of keeping while giving. The idea of keeping while giving places women at the heart of the political process, however much that process may vary in different societies for women possess a wealth of their own that gives them power. Power is intimately involved in cultural reproduction, and Weiner describes the location of power in each society, showing how the degree of control over the production and distribution of cloth wealth coincides with women's rank and the development of hierarchy in the community. Other inalienable possessions, whether material objects, landed property, ancestral myths, or sacred knowledge, bestow social identity and rank as well. Calling attention to their presence in Western history, Weiner points out that her formulations are not limited to Oceania. The paradox of keeping while giving is a concept certain to influence future developments in ethnography and the theoretical study of gender and exchange. Abstracts Journal of
