Smithsonians America:

The Smithsonian's History of America in 101 Objects Deluxe Richard Kurin, 2013-10-29 A magnificent new history of America told through 101 treasures from the Smithsonian's collections The Deluxe Edition features eight videos that go behind the scenes at the Smithsonian for a closer look at some of the book's most important objects hosted by author and curator Richard Kurin The Smithsonian Institution is America's largest and most cherished repository for the objects that define our common heritage Richard Kurin its Under Secretary for History Art and Culture has for decades served as a driving force in the effort of our national museums to tell America's whole story This book is the culmination of a broad effort led by Kurin and involving all the Smithsonian's museums and more than a hundred of its top scholars and curators to select a set of objects that could collectively represent the American experience Strong deliberation honed literally millions of possibilities down to a careful selection of 101 remarkable objects that do justice to the history of our bountiful land and its people That history begins with remains from the earliest years of the pre Columbian continent and relics of the American Revolution and Civil War It includes the inventions of the industrial revolution artifacts of the Depression World War II and cold war eras icons of pop culture and of the Civil Rights movements as well as the objects that now symbolize the digital age and the first years of the new millennium Each entry pairs the fascinating history of each object with the place it has come to occupy in our national memory Kurin sheds new light on familiar objects like the Star Spangled Banner and Abraham Lincoln's stovepipe hat Dorothy's ruby slippers and Julia Child's kitchen the giant pandas and the space shuttle Discovery including the often astonishing tales of how each made its way into the Smithsonian Other objects like the suffragists Great Demand banner and the Tuskegee flyer will be eye opening new discoveries for many but no less evocative of the most poignant and important moments of American history Others like Sitting Bull's ledger Cesar Chavez's union jacket and the Enola Gay bomber illustrate difficult chapters in the nation's history Kurin also includes behind the scenes insight into controversies arising from their exhibition at the Smithsonian In Kurin's hands these marvelous objects come to vivid life awakening a deep and tactile connection with our nation's history A beautiful treasure in its own right The Smithsonian's History of America in 101 Objects is an incomparable journey through America's collective memory and a celebration of the resilient power of objects to illustrate who we are as a people

The Smithsonian's History of America in 101 Objects Richard Kurin, 2016-10-25 The Smithsonian Institution is America's largest most important and most beloved repository for the objects that define our common heritage Now Under Secretary for Art History and Culture Richard Kurin aided by a team of top Smithsonian curators and scholars has assembled a literary exhibition of 101 objects from across the Smithsonian's museums that together offer a marvelous new perspective on the history of the United States Ranging from the earliest years of the pre Columbian continent to the digital age and from the American Revolution to Vietnam each entry pairs the fascinating history surrounding each object with the story of its creation or discovery and the place it has come to occupy in our national memory Kurin sheds remarkable new light on objects we think we know well from Lincoln's hat to Dorothy's ruby slippers and Julia Child's kitchen including the often astonishing tales of how each made its way into the collections of the Smithsonian Other objects will be eye opening new discoveries for many but no less evocative of the most poignant and important moments of the American experience Some objects such as Harriet Tubman's hymnal Sitting Bull's ledger Cesar Chavez's union jacket and the Enola Gay bomber tell difficult stories from the nation's history and inspire controversies when exhibited at the Smithsonian Others from George Washington's sword to the space shuttle Discovery celebrate the richness and vitality of the American spirit In Kurin's hands each object comes to vivid life providing a tactile connection to American history Beautifully designed and illustrated with color photographs throughout The Smithsonian's History of America in 101 Objects is a rich and fascinating journey through America's collective memory and a beautiful object in its own right

Reflections of a Culture Broker Richard Kurin, 2014-12-10 Is culture brokered like stocks real estate or marriage In this engaging book Richard Kurin shows that cultures are also mediated and indeed brokered by countries organizations communities and individuals all with their own vision of the truth and varying abilities to impose it on others Drawing on his diverse experiences in producing exhibitions and public programs Kurin challenges culture brokers defined broadly to include museum professionals film makers journalists festival producers and scholars of many disciplines to reveal more clearly the nature of their interpretations to envision the ways in which their messages can play to different audiences and to better understand the relationship between knowledge art politics and entertainment The book documents a variety of cases in which the Smithsonian has brokered culture for the American public a planned exhibit on Jerusalem had to balance both Israeli and Palestinian agendas debates over the 1996 Olympic Arts Festival presented differing visions of the American South and the National Air and Space Museum's controversial display of the Enola Gay prompted the Smithsonian to re-examine the role of national museums Arguing that cultural exhibits reflect a series of decisions about representing someone someplace and something Reflections of a Culture Broker discusses the ethical and technical problems faced by not only those who practice in a museum setting but also anyone charged with representing culture in a public forum women the right to vote Smithsonian American Women is a deeply satisfying read and a must have reflection on how generations of women have defined what it means to be recognized in both the nation and the world Curating America's Painful Past Tim Gruenewald, 2021-07-28 During the global Black Lives Matter protests of 2020 many called upon the United States to finally face its painful past Tim Gruenewald's new book is an in depth investigation of how that past is currently remembered at the national museums in Washington DC Curating America's Painful Past reveals how the tragic past is either minimized or framed in a way that does not threaten dominant national ideologies Gruenewald analyzes the National Museum of American History NMAH the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum USHMM the National Museum of African American History and Culture NMAAHC and the National Museum of the American Indian NMAI The NMAH the nation's most popular history museum serves as the benchmark for the imagination of US history and identity The USHMM opened in 1993 as the United States official Holocaust memorial and stands adjacent to the National Mall Gruenewald makes a persuasive case that the USHMM established a successful blueprint for narrating horrific and traumatic histories Curating America's Painful Past contrasts these two museums to ask why America's painful memories were largely absent from the memorial landscape of the National Mall and argues that social injustices in the present cannot be addressed until the nation's painful past is fully acknowledged and remembered It was only with the opening of the NMAAHC in 2016 that a detailed account of atrocities committed against African Americans appeared on the National Mall Gruenewald focuses on the museum's narrative structure in the context of national discourse to provide a critical reading of the museum When the NMAI opened in 2004 it presented for the first time a detailed history from a Native American perspective that sought to undo conventional museum narratives However criticism led to more traditional exhibitions and national focus Nevertheless the museum still marginalizes memories of the vast numbers of Indigenous victims to European colonization and to US expansion In a final chapter Gruenewald offers a thought experiment imagining a memory site like the recently opened National Memorial for Peace and Justice Montgomery Alabama situated on the National Mall so the reader can assess how profound an effect projects of national memory can have on facing the past as a matter of present justice Exhibiting Dilemmas Amy Henderson, 2016-06-21 In twelve essays on such diverse Smithsonian Institution holdings as the Hope Diamond the Wright Flyer wooden Zuni carvings and the Greensboro North Carolina Woolworth lunch counter that became a symbol of the Civil Rights movement Exhibiting Dilemmas explores a wide range of social political and ethical questions faced by museum curators in their roles as custodians of culture Focusing on the challenges posed by the transformation of exhibitions from object driven cabinets of curiosities to idea driven sources of education and entertainment the contributors all Smithsonian staff members provide a lively and sometimes provocative discussion of the increasingly complex enterprise of acquiring and displaying objects in a museum setting Smithsonian National Museum of African American History and Culture Between 14th and 15th Streets NW and Constitution Avenue, NW and Madison Drive, NW
