George J. Manson

Smoking Cigarettes:

Smoking George J. Manson, 1891 Tobacco Smoking and Atherosclerosis John N. Diana, 2013-03-13 Atherosclerosis is the principal underlying cause of cardiovascular and cerebrovascular disease in people of the Western world Cigarette smoking has been implicated in both the initiation and exacerbation of the atherosclerotic process Data to support this implication derives primarily from epidemiologic studies where the relationship between the incidence of atherosclerosis in people who smoke cigarettes has been shown to have a strong correlation There are few well established explanations for this phenomenon and basic molecular biochemical and cellular mechanisms associated with smoking and the development of atherosclerosis remain both undefined and virtually unexplored Even the epidemiologic correlation between cigarette smoking and the development of atherosclerosis needs further critical studies It is known that individuals who do not smoke cigarettes develop athero sclerosis and it is also known that in people who smoke but have normal or low blood cholesterol lipoprotein levels the incidence of development of atherosclerosis is no different from that which is found in a non smoking population Answers which explain such observations must address fundamental biological mechanisms Toward this end the purpose of this volume is to assemble in a single publication information which will address the questions what basic cellular and or molecular mechanisms are associated with the development of atherosclerosis and how does cigarette smoking influence such mechanisms to initiate or exacerbate the atherosclerotic process Clearly the development of atherosclerosis is a complex multifactorial biological event Cigarette Labeling and Advertising United States. Psychology and Sociology Applied to Medicine Beth Alder,Edwin van Teijlingen, MA, MEd, PhD,Michael Porter, BA, MPhil,2009-06-17 This textbook in the Illustrated Colour Text series offers an integrated treatment of sociology and psychology for medical students It is presented in a much more colourful and graphic format than is usual for books on these two subjects This integration reflects the tendency to teach these two subjects together as behavioural science with an increased stress on the place of medicine in society and on illness as a product of psychological and social circumstances rather than merely a biological phenomenon The book reflects these trends and has been successful and popular with students An integrated treatment of psychology and sociology for medical students in line with the trend towards teaching these subjects as behavioural sciences Use of case studies and Stop Think boxes encourages critical thinking and discussion Graphic Illustrated Colour Text presentation style enlivens a subject which most medical students are not keen on This third edition contains a new introduction on the importance and key features of the biopsychosocial model and additional double page spreads on International Health and Rural Health Morbidity and Mortality Weekly Report ,2001 Cigarette Labeling and Advertising, 1969 United States.
