South of Haunted Dreams Eddy L. Harris,1997-09-15 For black Americans from the north a crossing into the South has always been a meaningful transition a journey weighted with the burdens of history and oppression Writing with real emotion and a twist of irony Eddy L Harris combines the lively detail of travel writing with a brilliant exploration of race in America

South of Haunted Dreams Eddy L. Harris,1993      RoadFrames Kris Lackey,1999-02-01 In a lively discussion of books written as early as 1903 and as recently as 1994 Kris Lackey reveals the crucial roles the highway and automobile travel have played through generations of American writing      My Family and I Adam Gussow,2025-02-25 An inspiring memoir about the author s lifelong quest for racial reconciliation the love that sustains his interracial family in contemporary Mississippi and the Yes we can hope for American renewal that fades after the deaths of Trayvon Martin Michael Brown and the despair driven rise of Black Lives Matter What has happened to the dream of beloved community embraced by Martin Luther King Jr and the civil rights movement of the early 1960s the vision of a just humane and colorblind America a nation of black and white together animated by the spirit of mutual respect and strengthened by the bonds of brotherly love As Adam Gussow shows in this urgently needed new book the dream although pressured on every front remains alive At the heart of My Family and I is Gussow s determination in King s terms to live out the true meaning of America s creed a quest for transracial brotherhood that takes him from a blues partnership forged on the streets of 1980s Harlem through graduate training at Princeton and decades later a transformative course on the blues literary tradition that he shares with inmates at Mississippi s notorious Parchman Farm Anchoring Gussow s quest is a story of enduring love a playful soulful interracial romance between the newly hired professor at Ole Miss and his soon to be wife Sherrie that blossoms with the birth of a musically gifted son Shaun As America explodes with protest and riots in the summer of 2020 after the death of George Floyd as social justice fundamentalists insist on stigmatizing whiteness and hardening the color line rather than healing the divisions that plague us Gussow is forced to fight for what he loves not just the sanctity of his family circle but King s dream of beloved community My Family and I gifts the reader with hope for a future beyond America s seemingly insoluble racial dilemmas      The Crisis ,1994-07 The Crisis founded by W E B Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights history politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders decision makers peacemakers and justice seekers It has chronicled informed educated entertained and in many instances set the economic political and social agenda for our nation and its multi ethnic citizens      Cultures of Citizenship in the Twenty-First Century Vanessa Evans,Mita Banerjee,2023-12-04 In the early twenty first century the concept of citizenship is more contested than ever As refugees set out to cross the Mediterranean European nation states refer to cultural integrity and immigrant inassimilability revealing citizenship to be much more than a legal concept The contributors to this volume take an interdisciplinary approach to considering how cultures of citizenship are being envisioned and interrogated in literary and cultural contexts. Through this framework they attend to the tension between the citizen and its spectral others, a tension determined by how a country defines difference at a given moment. The Black Culture Industry Ellis Cashmore, 2006-06-07 Cashmore's controversial study argues that black culture has been converted into a commodity, usually in the interests of white-owned corporations. Using detailed studies of the marketing of Motown, Michael Jackson, and the Artist Formerly Known as Prince, Cashmore suggests that inflating the significance of this commodified black culture may actually be counterproductive in the struggle for racial justice. Ghosts in the Machine Michael Atkinson, 1999 Limelight Looking back on a century that witnessed the emergence of motion pictures to become almost immediately a dominant cultural force in our lives, this penetrating and provocative book argues that movies like cathedrals cannot help but display the subconscious impulses of their society. From D.W. Griffith to the Marx Brothers to film noir, what are conceived and consumed as innocent pop movies are in fact manifestations of wild horror, superstitious ignorance, fatalistic dread, and bigoted savagery. Ain't But a Place Gerald Lyn Early, 1998 This collection of fiction and poetry, memoirs, and autobiography, history, and journalism illuminates the African American experience in St. Louis in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Road-book America Rowland A. Sherrill, 2000 Sketching the socially marginal, ingenious traveling characters common to both old and new versions, Sherrill shows how the new American picaresque transforms the satirical aims of the original into an effort to map and catalog the immensity and variety of America.
