South Of The West Postcolonialism And The Narrative Construction Of Australia:

South of the West Ross Gibson, 1992 some of the finest of Ross Gibson's essays across ten years of thinking about Australia Media Information Australia In this study of Western aesthetics and the politics of everyday life Ross Gibson offers provocative analyses of Australia's films and examines an array of objects and attitudes encountered in his southern locale His twelve chapters interweave to form an essay on the realignment of space time and meaning in contemporary Western societies Gibson demonstrates how these different systems of representation construct Australia Australian Literature Graham Huggan, 2007-09-27 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English In a provocative contribution to the series Graham Huggan presents fresh readings of an outstanding sometimes deeply unsettling national literature whose writers and readers just as unmistakably belong to the wider world Australian literature is not the unique province of Australian readers and critics nor is its exclusive task to provide an internal commentary on changing national concerns Huggan's book adopts a transnational approach motivated by postcolonial interests in which contemporary ideas taken from postcolonial criticism and critical race theory are productively combined and imaginatively transformed Rejecting the fashionable view that Australia is not and never will be postcolonial Huggan argues on the contrary that Australian literature like other settler literatures requires close attention to postcolonial methods and concerns A postcolonial approach to Australian literature he suggests is more than just a case for a more inclusive nationalism it also involves a general acknowledgement of the nation's changed relationship to an increasingly globalized world As such the book helps to deprovincialize Australian literary studies Australian Literature also contributes to debates about the continuing history of racism in Australia a history in which the nation's literature has played a constitutive role as both product and producer of racial tensions and anxieties nowhere more visible than in the discourse it has produced about race both within and beyond the national context The 'Imagined Sound' of Australian Literature and Music Joseph Cummins, 2019-09-20 Imagined Sound is a unique cartography of the artistic historical and political forces that have informed the post World War II representation of Australian landscapes It is the first book to formulate the unique methodology of imagined sound a new way to read and listen to literature and music that moves beyond the dominance of the visual the colonial mode of knowing controlling and imagining Australian space Emphasising sound and listening this approach draws out and re-examines the key narratives that shape and are shaped by Australian landscapes and histories stories of first contact frontier violence the explorer journey the convict experience non Indigenous belonging Pacific identity and contemporary Indigenous Dreaming Imagined Sound offers a compelling analysis of how these narratives are reharmonised in key works of literature and music Hell-Bent for Leather Kerry Fine, Michael K.
