South Asia Third World:

Soviet Policy Towards South Asia Since 1970 Linda Racioppi, 1994-04-07 This book seeks to understand the evolution of Soviet policy towards the countries of South Asia the regional constraints and policy opportunities which influenced the policy process in Moscow and the relationship between Soviet perceptions and policy objectives The author divides Soviet foreign policy into three aspects a perceptual aspect in which assessment of the regional and international environment occurs a formulative aspect in which aims and strategies are developed and an implementation aspect The book analyses Soviet policy objectives and instruments in distinct historical phases 1970 1978 which covers the Indo Pakistani War and bilateral relations 1979 1985 which covers the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan and its impact on regional politics and 1985 to the present which examines the Gorbachev era and the withdrawal from Afghanistan

Rethinking the Third World Mark T Berger, Heloise Weber, 2014-09-22 A systematic reassessment by two leading figures in the field of the paradigm of international development in both theory and practice It offers an overview and critique of development theory and strategy and a new framework for the analysis of global inequality poverty and development in an era of globalization

South Asia and the Strategic Indian Ocean Army Library (U.S.), 1973 First World, Third World William Ryrie, 1995-10-09 Over a billion people still live in abject poverty International aid and its organs such as the World Bank can claim only limited success Indeed in some parts of the world especially Africa they must acknowledge failure William Ryrie analyses the record of international aid with ruthless honesty while sympathising with its objectives Aid has often had perverse and harmful effects Probably its most basic failure has been to undermine the working of the market economy which offers the best hope of rapid growth and declining poverty Ryrie argues that a new intellectual basis for aid must urgently be found and the development task redefined concluding this stimulating book with some novel and provocative proposals

The Third World Beyond the Cold War Louise Fawcett, Yezid Sayigh, 1999-04-01 The Third World Beyond the Cold War presents an overview of the changes brought about in Third World countries since the end of the cold war The book does so in two ways by highlighting major areas of change in the Third World and using regional case studies as a means of isolating changes specific to certain regions The themes chosen by the editors economics politics security are not of course exhaustive but are broadly interpreted so as to encompass the major areas of change among Third World countries The regional case studies Asia Pacific Latin America South Asia Africa the Middle East were selected to bring out both the themes and the diversity of experience The essays written by leading scholars in the field of International Relations caters for a variety of constituencies those who seek the big picture in understanding the Third World in International Relations those who look for general patterns explanations and trends in Third World politics and those who seek up to date information and analysis on the progress of different regions

People and Education in the Third World W.T.S. Gould, 2014-09-25 This text examines education and its role in Third World development Amongst the areas covered are the private and public demand for education global patterns of education the geography of educational provision the school and the community and education and population growth The Political Economy of Foreign Policy in Southeast Asia David Wurfel, Bruce Burton, 2016-07-27 This is the first book in several years to review the foreign policies of major Southeast Asian states and the first ever to include those frequently neglected smaller states It is also unique in the editors adherence to a new comparative framework which attempts to weave together the earlier literature on comparative foreign policy analysis and current concepts of political economy Comparative foreign policy studies are introduced by three distinguished scholars in that field A general survey of international relations in Southeast Asia then precedes the country chapters all authored by experienced specialists A concluding chapter attempts to identify the emerging patterns of Southeast Asian foreign policy and suggest explanations for them Food in the Third World Leonardo A. Paulino, 1986 Research report on food security trends since the 1960s and projections to 2000 covering food production food consumption and trade in food staples in developing countries compares population growth growth in crop yields of major food crops and food demand examines trends in food imports and exports using per capita income growth rates identifies countries likely to have food shortages or surpluses and calorie deficiencies discusses food policy implications includes methodology Bibliography statistical tables Gorbachev and Southeast Asia (Routledge Revivals) Leszek Buszynski, 2014-04-11 First published in 1992 this book examines Soviet foreign policy towards Southeast Asia in the context of the transformation of the perestroika era in the Soviet Union The discussion begins in 1985 and ends in 1989 with the Soviet partial withdrawal from Cam Ranh Bay Buszynski considers Gorbachev's effort to disengage from the Cambodian problem the weakening of the Soviet alliance with Vietnam and the real effort to overcome old hostilities with growth areas in ASEAN such as Thailand and Singapore This is a fascinating and relevant title of particular value to students with an interest in Russia and the history of international relations in Southeast Asia Tourism and Development in Southeast Asia Claudia Dolezal, Alexander Trupp, Huong T. Bui, 2020-03-24 This book analyses the role tourism plays for sustainable development in Southeast Asia It seeks to assess tourism's impact on residents and localities across the region by critically debating and offering new understandings of its dynamics on the global and local levels Offering a myriad of case studies from a range of different countries in the region this book is interdisciplinary in nature thereby presenting a comprehensive overview of tourism's current and future role in development Divided into four parts it discusses the nexus of tourism and development at both the regional and national levels with a focus on theoretical and methodological foundations protected areas local communities and broader issues of governance Contributors from within and outside of Southeast Asia raise awareness of the local challenges including issues of ownership or unequal power relations and celebrate best practice examples where tourism can be regarded as making a positive difference to residents' life The first edited volume to examine comprehensive analysis of tourism in Southeast Asia as both an economic and social phenomenon through the lens of development this book will be useful to students and scholars of tourism development Southeast Asian culture and society and Asian Studies more generally
