A Heritage of Ruins William R. Chapman, 2013-07-31 The ancient ruins of Southeast Asia have long sparked curiosity and romance in the world's imagination They appear in accounts of nineteenth century French explorers as props for Indiana Jones adventures and more recently as the scene of Lady Lara Croft's fantastical battle with the forces of evil They have been featured in National Geographic magazine and serve as backdrops for popular television travel and reality shows Now William Chapman's expansive new study explores the varied roles these monumental remains have played in the histories of Southeast Asia's modern nations Based on more than fifteen years of travel research and visits to hundreds of ancient sites A Heritage of Ruins shows the close connection between ruins conservation and both colonialism and nation building It also demonstrates the profound impact of European derived ideas of historic and aesthetic significance on ancient ruins and how these continue to color the management and presentation of sites in Southeast Asia today Angkor Pagan Bagan Borobudur and Ayutthaya lie at the center of this cultural and architectural tour but less visited sites including Laos's stunning Vat Phu the small temple platforms of Malaysia's Lembah Bujang Valley the candi of the Dieng Plateau in Java and the ruins of Mingun in Burma and Wiang Kum Kam near Chiang Mai in northern Thailand are also discussed All share a relative isolation from modern urban centers of population sitting in park like settings serving as objects of tourism and as lynchpins for local and even national economies Chapman argues that these sites also remain important to surrounding residents both as a means of income and as continuing sources of spiritual meaning He examines the complexities of heritage efforts in the context of present day expectations by focusing on the roles of both outside and indigenous experts in conservation and management and on attempts by local populations to reclaim their patrimony and play a larger role in protection and interpretation Tracing the history of interventions aimed at halting time's decay Chapman provides a chronicle of conservation efforts over a century and a half highlighting the significant part foreign expertise has played in the region and the ways that national programs have in recent years begun to break from earlier models The book ends with suggestions for how Southeast Asian managers and officials might best protect their incomparable heritage of art and architecture and how this legacy might be preserved for future generations

Identity In Asian Literature Lisbeth Littrup, 2013-10-28 First Published in 1995 This collection explores the formation of identity in Asian literature The main themes are the creation of identity its nature and the historical context of this process of formation At the same time the study also serves to introduce readers to the various streams of Asian literature and their related research traditions Suitable for course use

The Routledge Concise History of Southeast Asian Writing in English Rajeev S. Patke, Philip

Holden,2009-09-10 The Routledge Concise History of Southeast Asian Writing in English traces the development of literature in the region within its historical and cultural contexts This volume explores creative writing in English across different genres and media establishing connections from the colonial activity of the early modern period through to contemporary writing across Southeast Asia focusing especially on the Philippines Malaysia Singapore and Hong Kong In this critical guide Rajeev S Patke and Philip Holden interweave text and context through the history of creative writing in the region examine language use and variation making use of illuminating examples from speech poetry and fictional prose trace the impact of historical political and cultural events engage with current debates on national consciousness globalization modernity and postmodernism provide useful features including a glossary further reading section and chapter summaries Direct and clearly written this Concise History guides readers through key topics while presenting a unique original synthesis of history and practice in Southeast Asian writing in English It is the ideal starting point for students and all those seeking a better understanding of Southeast Asian literatures and cultures

Of Peninsulas and Archipelagos Phrae

Chittiphalangsri,Vicente L. Rafael,2023-07-18 Comprising 11 countries and hundreds of languages from one of the most culturally diverse regions in the world the chapters in this collection explore a wide range of translation issues The subject of this volume is set in the contrasted landscapes of mainland peninsulas and maritime archipelagos in Southeast Asia which whilst remaining a largely minor area in Asian studies harbors a wealth of textual heritage that opens to inquiries and new readings From the post Angkor Cambodia the post colonial Vientiane to the ultra modern Singapore metropolis translation figures problematically in the modernization of indigenous literatures criss crossing chronologically and spatially through different literary landscapes The peninsular geo body gives rise to the politics of singularity as seen in the case of the predominant monolingual culture in Thailand whereas the archipelagic geography such as the thousand islands of Indonesia allows for peculiar types of communication Translation can also be metaphorized poetically to configure the transference in different scenarios such as the cases of self translation in Philippine protest poetry and untranslatability in Vietnamese diasporic writings The collection also includes intra regional comparative views on historical and religious terms This book will appeal to scholars and postgraduate students of translation studies sociolinguistics and Southeast Asian studies

Southeast Asian Studies Cynthia Chou,Vincent Houben,2006 What is the relevance of the area studies approach to Southeast Asia The current state and future directions of area studies of which Southeast Asian studies are a part is a central question not only to scientists working in the field but also those engaged in university politics This collection of nine articles is written by specialists from different disciplinary backgrounds and working in institutions of higher learning all around the world It provides an up to date insight into the current state of the study field its strengths and weaknesses and seeks ways to reconfigure Southeast Asian studies in order to meet the challenges of a region that is caught up in profound transformation as a consequence of both globalization and localization

Angkor and the Khmer Civilization Michael D.

Coe, Damian Evans, 2025-01-21 An authoritative survey of Angkor and the Khmer civilization which incorporates revelations from new discoveries in the past decade that are rewriting history The ancient city of Angkor in Cambodia has fascinated scholars and visitors alike since its rediscovery in the mid nineteenth century All are wonderstruck by the beauty and multiplicity of the sculptures that adorn its temples and structures and are overwhelmed by the sheer size of Angkor There is nothing to equal it in the archaeological world A great deal was already known about the history of Angkor and the brilliant Khmer civilization that built it thanks to pioneering work by archaeologists and scholars but our knowledge has now been completely revolutionized by cutting edge technology Airborne laser scanning LiDAR has revealed entire cities that were previously unknown and a complex urban landscape with highways and waterways profoundly transforming our interpretations of the development and supposed decline of Angkor In this comprehensive edition of Angkor and the Khmer Civilization respected archaeologist Michael Coe is joined by Damian Evans who led this remarkable program of scientific exploration to present the results and implications of these groundbreaking discoveries that are rewriting history
