Southern Californians Attitudes To Immigrants Blacks Compared To Other Ethnic:

Southern Californians' Attitudes to Immigrants Jonathan Musere,1991 Death of a Suburban Dream Emily E. Straus,2014-04-22 Compton California is often associated in the public mind with urban America's toughest problems including economic disinvestment gang violence and failing public schools Before it became synonymous with inner city decay however Compton's affordability proximity to manufacturing jobs and location ten miles outside downtown Los Angeles made it attractive to aspiring suburbanites seeking single family homes and quality schools As Compton faced challenges in the twentieth century and as the majority population shifted from white to African American and then to Latino the battle for control over the school district became symbolic of Compton's economic social and political crises Death of a Suburban Dream explores the history of Compton from its founding in the late nineteenth century to the present taking on three critical issues the history of race and educational equity the relationship between schools and place and the complicated intersection of schooling and municipal economies as they shaped a Los Angeles suburb experiencing economic and demographic transformation Emily E Straus carefully traces the roots of antagonism between two historically disenfranchised populations blacks and Latinos as these groups resisted municipal power sharing within a context of scarcity Using archival research and oral histories this complex narrative reveals how increasingly racialized poverty and violence made Compton like other inner ring suburbs resemble a troubled urban center Ultimately the book argues that Compton's school crisis is not at heart a crisis of education it is a long term crisis of development Avoiding simplistic dichotomies between urban and suburban Death of a Suburban Dream broadens our understanding of the dynamics connecting residents and institutions of the suburbs as well as the changing ethnic and political landscape in metropolitan America American Book Publishing Record ,2001 Race, Ethnicity, And Nationality In The United States Paul Wong,2021-09-02 This book is intended for use in advanced undergraduate and graduate level courses on race and ethnicity and on diversity in America It was first conceived as a collective project of the Research and Resident Scholar Program in Comparative Race Relations at Washington State University which was established in 1994 with support from the Rockefeller Foundation A number of the participating authors are established scholars in racial ethnic studies and several have published award winning bestsellers Others are relative newcomers to the field who were invited to join the project because they were doing important work on less well covered topics such as relations between African Americans and Chicano Latino Americans Soft Soil, Black Grapes Simone Cinotto,2014-05-02 Winner of the 2013 New York Book Show Award in Scholarly Professional Book Design From Ernest and Julio Gallo to Francis Ford Coppola Italians have shaped the history of California wine More than any other group Italian immigrants and their families have made California viticulture one of America's most distinctive and vibrant achievements from boutique vineyards in the Sonoma hills to the massive industrial wineries of the Central Valley But how did a small group of nineteenth century immigrants plant the roots that flourished into a world class industry Was there something particularly Italian in their success In this fresh fascinating account of the ethnic origins of California wine Simone Cinotto rewrites a century old triumphalist story He demonstrates that these Italian visionaries were not skilled winemakers transplanting an immemorial agricultural tradition even if California did resemble the rolling Italian countryside of their native Piedmont Instead Cinotto argues that it was the wine makers access to social capital or the ethnic and familial ties that bound them to their rich wine growing heritage and not financial leverage or direct enological experience that enabled them to develop such a successful and influential wine business Focusing on some of the most important names in wine history particularly Pietro Carlo Rossi Secondo Guasti and the Gallos he chronicles a story driven by ambition and creativity but realized in a complicated tangle of immigrant entrepreneurship class struggle racial inequality and a new world of consumer culture Skillfully blending regional social and immigration history Soft Soil Black Grapes takes us on an original journey into the cultural construction of ethnic economies and markets the social dynamics of American race and the fully transnational history of American wine

The Oxford Handbook of African American Citizenship, 1865-Present

Henry Louis Gates Jr., Claude Steele, Lawrence D. Bobo, Michael Dawson, Gerald Jaynes, Lisa Crooms-Robinson, Linda Darling-Hammond, 2011-03-11 When newly liberated African American slaves attempted to enter the marketplace and exercise their rights as citizens of the United States in 1865 few if any Americans expected that a century and a half later the class divide between black and white Americans would be as wide as it is today The United States has faced several potential key turning points in the status of African Americans over the course of its history yet at each of these points the prevailing understanding of African Americans and their place in the economic and political fabric of the country was at best contested and resolved on the side of second class citizenship The Oxford Handbook of African American Citizenship 1865 Present seeks to answer the question of what the United States would look like today if at the end of the Civil War freed slaves had been granted full political social and economic rights It does so by tracing the historical evolution of African American experiences from the dawn of Reconstruction onward through the perspectives of sociology political science law economics education and psychology As a whole the book is the first systematic study of the gap between promise and performance of African Americans since 1865 Over the course of thirty four chapters written by some of the most eminent scholars of African American studies and across every major social discipline this handbook presents a full and powerful portrait of the particular hurdles faced by African Americans and the distinctive contributions African Americans have made to the development of U S institutions and culture As such it tracks where African Americans have been in order to better illuminate the path ahead
