minority groups Until recently they constituted the largest group of foreign nationals yet they have been marginalized politically socially economically and culturally Korean women are doubly disadvantaged treated as inferior to men by both Korean and Japanese society Furthermore the first generation of Korean women migrants were not educated as children rendering them functionally illiterate and thus triply marginalized Late in life when family and work responsibilities became less onerous local authorities created educational opportunities which the women took up in unexpected numbers overloading the facilities The authorities responses effectively re marginalized them The elderly Korean women took a stance and in the process reconstituted themselves as social and political actors This book examines that self transformation process
