Social Shaping Of Technology:

The Social Shaping of Technology Donald A. MacKenzie, Judy Wajcman, 1999 Technological change is often seen as something that follows its own logic something we may welcome or about which we may protest but which we are unable to alter fundamentally This reader challenges that assumption and its distinguished contributors demonstrate that technology is affected at a fundamental level by the social context in which it develops General arguments are introduced about the relation of technology to society and different types of technology are examined the technology of production domestic and reproductive technology and military technology The book draws on authors from Karl Marx to Cynthia Cockburn to show that production technology is shaped by social relations in the workplace It moves on to the technologies of the household and biological reproduction which are topics that male dominated social science has tended to ignore or trivialise though these are actually of crucial significance where powerful shaping factors are at work normally unnoticed The final section asks what shapes the most frightening technology of all the technology of weaponry especially nuclear weapons The editors argue that social scientists have devoted disproportionate attention to the effects of technology on society and tended to ignore the more fundamental question of what shapes technology in the first place They have drawn both on established work in the history and sociology of technology and on newer feminist perspectives to show just how important and fruitful it is to try to answer that deeper question The first edition of this reader published in 1985 had a considerable influence on thinking about the relationship between technology and society This second edition has been thoroughly revised and expanded to take into account new research and the emergence of new theoretical perspectives The Social Shaping of Technology David Edge, 1988 The Social Shaping of Technology Donald A. MacKenzie, Judy Wajcman, 1985 Social Shaping Theory as a Derivative of Technological Determinism Arghya Ray, 2013-09-23 Scientific Essay from the year 2010 in the subject Sociology Economy and Industry grade A language English abstract Technological determinism or TD can be described as a reductionist framework that can be used to explore the interrelations between humans and scientific technologies However several scholars like Dosi 1982 preferred to develop a broader perspective on technological determinism on the basis of more intricate analysis of technology change and innovation management According to the scholars like Mackenzie and Wajcman 1999 a major drawback of technological determinism is its rigidity which is resulted by the deterministic nature of this theory Such an approach as advocated by its early proponents like Thorstein Veblen restricts its suppleness to explain the complex attributes of different social processes especially in relationship with innovation management Tilman 2004 The Social Shaping of Multimedia European Cooperation in the Field of Scientific and Technical Research (Organization). Cost A4 (Project), 1999 Social Computing: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Dasgupta, Subhasish, 2009-11-30 Uncovers the growing and expanding phenomenon of human behavior social constructs and communication in online environments Handbook of New Media Leah A Lievrouw, Sonia M.

Livingstone,2006-01-17 Thoroughly revised and updated this Student Edition of the successful Handbook of New Media has been abridged to showcase the best of the hardback edition This Handbook sets out boundaries of new media research and scholarship and provides a definitive statement of the current state of the art of the field Covering major problem areas of research the Handbook of New Media includes an introductory essay by the editors and a concluding essay by Ron Rice Each chapter written by an internationally renowned scholar provides a review of the most significant social research findings and insights

Introductory Essay Donald A. MacKenzie,Judy Wajcman,2004 Computers and Networks in the Age of Globalization Leif Bloch Rasmussen,Colin Beardon,Silvio Munari,2000-11-30 In modernity an individual identity was constituted from civil society while in a globalized network society human identity if it develops at all must grow from communal resistance A communal resistance to an abstract conceptualised world where there is no possibility for perception and experience of power and therefore no possibility for human choice and action is of utmost importance for the constituting of human choosers and actors This book therefore sets focus on those human choosers and actors wishing to read and enjoy the papers as they are actually perceiving and experiencing their lives in a diversity of social and cultural contexts In so doing the book tries to imagine in what kind of networks humans may choose and act based on the knowledge and empirical evidence presented in the papers The topics covered in the book include People and Their Changing Values Citizens in a Network Society The Individual and Knowledge Based Organisations Human Responsibility and Technology Exclusion and Regeneration This valuable new book contains the edited proceedings of the Fifth World Conference on Human Choice and Computers HCC 5 which was sponsored by the International Federation for Information Processing IFIP and held in Geneva Switzerland in August 1998 Since the first HCC conference in 1974 IFIP s Technical Committee 9 has endeavoured to set the agenda for human choices and human actions vis vis computers

Punched-Card Systems and the Early Information Explosion, 1880-1945 Lars Heide,2009-04-27 At a time when Internet use is closely tracked and social networking sites supply data for targeted advertising Lars Heide presents the first academic study of the invention that fueled today s information revolution the punched card Early punched cards helped to process the United States census in 1890 They soon proved useful in calculating invoices and issuing pay slips As demand for more sophisticated systems and reading machines increased in both the United States and Europe punched cards served ever larger data processing purposes Insurance companies public utilities businesses and governments all used them to keep detailed records of their customers competitors employees citizens and enemies The United States used punched card registers in the late 1930s to pay roughly 21 million Americans their Social Security pensions Vichy France used similar technologies in an attempt to mobilize an army against the occupying German forces and the Germans in 1941 developed several punched card registers to make the war effort and surveillance of minorities more effective Heide s analysis of these three major punched card systems as well as the impact of the invention on Great Britain illustrates how different cultures collected personal and financial data and how they adapted
