

Task 1: Understanding the Problem

1.1 Problem Statement

The problem involves a sequence of numbers,  $a_1, a_2, \dots, a_n$ , where  $a_i$  represents the value of the  $i$ -th element in the sequence.

Given a sequence of numbers,  $a_1, a_2, \dots, a_n$ , we are to find the maximum value of the expression:

$$a_1 + a_2 + \dots + a_n - \max(a_1, a_2, \dots, a_n)$$

The sequence is defined by the recurrence relation:

$$a_i = a_{i-1} + a_{i-2} \quad \text{for } i \geq 3$$

with initial conditions  $a_1 = 1$  and  $a_2 = 1$ .

The goal is to find the maximum value of the expression for a given  $n$ .

The sequence is defined by the recurrence relation:

$$a_i = a_{i-1} + a_{i-2} \quad \text{for } i \geq 3$$

with initial conditions  $a_1 = 1$  and  $a_2 = 1$ .

The goal is to find the maximum value of the expression for a given  $n$ .

The sequence is defined by the recurrence relation:

Socialist History, 1993      Women, Their Lives, and the Law Victoria Barnes, Nora Honkala, Sally

Wheeler, 2023-12-14 This collection of essays honours Rosemary Auchmuty Professor of Law at the University of Reading UK She has fostered the study of women s academic careers and more politically advanced progress on gender and equality issues including same sex marriage and property law Her research promotes the case of feminist legal history as a way of revealing the place of women and challenging dominant historical narratives that cast them aside Just as Rosemary s work does the book seeks to end the marginalisation and exclusion of women in the legal world by including them The book begins fittingly with a discussion of Miss Bebb the woman whose biography Auchmuty deployed to push feminist legal history into the mainstream It turns then to a discussion of women known and unknown and their struggles within the legal profession offering within those chapters a critical appraisal of the role of history and biography as a methodology From there it moves to consider feminist perspectives and critiques of the dominant structures of private law This is followed by chapters that explore those who educate the legal profession within the academy The chapters and the collection as a whole examine areas of law that have a deep significance for women s lives

Legacies of Socialist Solidarity Tanja R. Müller, 2014-08-06

More than twenty five years after the fall of the Berlin Wall and the end of the Cold War this book looks afresh at some of the lasting legacies of that period in history It does so by focusing on individual life trajectories of a group of people whose adolescence was shaped by the politics of socialism and the transitions within it Through their life histories Legacies of Socialist Solidarity offers an alternative reading of Mozambique s socialist past with important repercussions for the present At the center of the book are the life histories of a group of then youth who attended one of the largest educational exchange projects between two socialist countries Mozambique and former East Germany in the 1980s Having been educated in East Germany to become part of a future socialist elite back home the book s protagonists returned to a Mozambique that had meanwhile embarked on the new path of capitalist development Their qualifications and skills were of little relevance and the new Mozambican government regarded them as a threat rather than an asset The book analyzes the life courses of some of those who spent their adolescence in East Germany with a focus on personal aspirations political orientation collective memories and shared horizons It shows lasting legacies of socialist beliefs and practices In placing those into the context of the broader political developments in Mozambique the book explores an important dimension for the understanding of contemporary Mozambique In addition it makes a significant contribution to the comprehension of socialist cosmopolitanism and resulting patterns of identity and belonging and to the wider literature on post socialist change the decentering of Cold War histories and the pervasiveness of the political in everyday lives

Local Lives, Parallel Histories Marcel

Thomas, 2020-04-23 The division of Germany separated a nation divided communities and inevitably shaped the life histories of those growing up in the socialist dictatorship of the East and the liberal democracy of the West This peculiarly German experience of the Cold War is usually viewed through the lens of divided Berlin or other border communities. What has been much less explored however is what division meant to the millions of Germans in the East and West who lived far away from the Wall and the centres of political power. This volume is the first comparative study to examine how villagers in both Germanies dealt with the imposition of two very different systems in their everyday lives. Focusing on two villages, Neukirch Lausitz in Saxony and Ebersbach an der Fils in Baden Württemberg, it explores how local residents experienced and navigated social change in their localities in the postwar era. Based on a wide range of archival sources as well as oral history interviews, the work argues that there are parallel histories of responses to social change among villagers in postwar Germany. Despite the different social, political and economic developments, the residents of both localities desired rural modernisation, lamented the loss of community and became politically active to control the transformation of their localities. The work thereby offers a bottom up history of divided Germany which shows how individuals on both sides of the Wall gave local meaning to large scale processes of change.

The Soviet Past in the Post-Socialist Present Melanie Ilic, Dalia Leinarte, 2015-07-03. This collection examines practical and ethical issues inherent in the application of oral history and memory studies to research about the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe since the collapse of the Soviet bloc. Case studies highlight the importance of ethical good practice including the reflexive interrogation of the interviewer and researcher and aspects of gender and national identity. Researchers use oral history to analyze present day recollections of the Soviet past, thereby extending our understanding beyond archival records, official rhetoric and popular mythology. Oral history explores individual life stories but this has sometimes resulted in rather incomplete, incoherent, inconsistent or illogical narratives. Oral history therefore presents the researcher with a number of methodological and ethical dilemmas including the interpretation of silence in biographical accounts. This collection links the discussion of oral history ethics with that of memory studies. Memories are shaped by factors that may be simultaneously both consecutive and disrupted. In written accounts and responses to interview questions, respondents sometimes display nostalgia for the Soviet past or conversely may seek to de-mythologize the realities of Soviet rule. Case studies explore what to do when interview subjects and memoirists consciously or unconsciously forget aspects of their own past or themselves seek to take control of the research process.

Oral History Off the Record A. Sheftel, S. Zembrzycki, 2013-09-11. Because oral history interviews are personal interactions between human beings, they rarely conform to a methodological ideal. These reflections from oral historians provide honest and rigorous analyses of actual oral history practice that address the complexities of a human centered methodology.

Making Women's Histories Pamela Susan Nadell, Kate Haulman, 2013-01-01. Making Women's Histories showcases the transformations that the intellectual and political production of women's history has engendered across time and space. It considers the difference women's and gender history has made to and within national fields of study and to what extent the wider historiography has integrated this new knowledge. What are the accomplishments of women's and gender history What are its shortcomings What is its future The contributors discuss their discovery of women s histories the multiple turns the field has taken and how place affected the course of this scholarship Noted scholars of women s and gender history they stand atop such historiographically defined vantage points as Tsarist Russia the British Empire in Egypt and India Qing dynasty China and the U S roiling through the 1960s From these and other peaks they gaze out at the world around them surveying trajectories in the creation of women s histories in recent and distant pasts and envisioning their futures

Intermarriage and the Friendship of Peoples Adrienne Edgar, 2022-05-15 Co winner of the Central Eurasian Studies Society s prize for best book in History and the Humanities in 2022 and 2023 and winner of the The Joseph Rothschild Prize in Nationalism and Ethnic Studies of the Association for the Study of Nationalities Intermarriage and the Friendship of Peoples examines the racialization of identities and its impact on mixed couples and families in Soviet Central Asia In marked contrast to its Cold War rivals the Soviet Union celebrated mixed marriages among its diverse ethnic groups as a sign of the unbreakable friendship of peoples and the imminent emergence of a single Soviet people Yet the official Soviet view of ethnic nationality became increasingly primordial and even racialized in the USSR s final decades In this context Adrienne Edgar argues mixed families and individuals found it impossible to transcend ethnicity fully embrace their complex identities and become simply Soviet Looking back on their lives in the Soviet Union ethnically mixed people often reported that the official nationality in their identity documents did not match their subjective feelings of identity that they were unable to speak their own native language and that their ambiguous physical appearance prevented them from claiming the nationality with which they most identified In all these ways mixed couples and families were acutely and painfully affected by the growth of ethnic primordialism and by the tensions between the national and supranational projects in the Soviet Union Intermarriage and the Friendship of Peoples is based on more than eighty in depth oral history interviews with members of mixed families in Kazakhstan and Tajikistan along with published and unpublished Soviet documents scholarly and popular articles from the Soviet press memoirs and films and interviews with Soviet era sociologists and ethnographers

The Politics of Memoir and the Northern Ireland Conflict Stephen Hopkins, 2013 This book examines memoir writing by many of the key political actors in the Northern Irish Troubles 1969-1998 and argues that memoir has been a neglected dimension of the study of the legacies of the violent conflict It investigates these sources in the context of ongoing disputes over how to interpret Northern Ireland s recent past A careful reading of these memoirs can provide insights into the lived experience and retrospective judgments of some of the main protagonists of the conflict The period of relative peace rests upon an uneasy calm in Northern Ireland Many people continue to inhabit contested ideological territories and in their strategies for shaping the narrative telling of the conflict key individuals within the Protestant

Unionist and Catholic Irish Nationalist communities can appear locked into exclusive and self justifying discourses In such circumstances while some memoirists have been genuinely self critical many others have utilised a post conflict language of societal

Aspiring in Later Life Megha Amrith,Victoria K. Sakti,Dora Sampaio,2023-07-14 In our highly interconnected and globalized world people often pursue their aspirations in multiple places Yet in public and scholarly debates aspirations are often seen as the realm of younger mobile generations since they are assumed to hold the greatest potential for shaping the future This volume flips this perspective on its head by exploring how aspirations are constructed from the vantage point of later life and shows how they are pursued across time space and generations The aspirations of older people are diverse and relate not only to aging itself but also to planning the next generation s future preparing an ideal retirement searching for intimacy and self realization and confronting death and afterlives Aspiring in Later Life brings together rich ethnographic cases from different regions of the world offering original insights into how aspirations shift over the course of life and how they are pursued in contexts of translocal mobility This book is also freely available online as an open access digital edition Download the open access book here

Hitler's 'National Community' Lisa Pine,2017-01-12 Lisa Pine s Hitler s National Community explores German culture and society during the Nazi era and analyses how this impacted upon the Germany that followed this fateful regime Drawing on a range of significant scholarly works on the subject Pine informs us as to the major historiographical debates surrounding the subject whilst establishing her own original interpretative arc The book is divided into four parts The first section explores the attempts of the Nazi regime to create a Volksgemeinschaft national community The second part examines men women the family the churches and religion The third section analyses the fate of those groups that were excluded from the Volksgemeinschaft The final section of the book considers the impact of the Nazi government upon German culture in particular focusing on the radio and press cinema and theatre art and architecture music and literature This new edition includes historiographical updates throughout an additional chapter on the early Nazi movement and brand new primary source excerpt boxes and illustrations There is also expanded material on key topics like resistance women and family men and masculinity and religion A crucial text for all students of Nazi Germany this book provides a sophisticated window into the social and cultural aspects of life under Hitler s rule

People and Place Len Richardson,2020-05-04 This book traces the enduring relationship between history people and place that has shaped the character of a single region in a manner perhaps unique within the New Zealand experience It explores the evolution of a distinctive regional literature that both shaped and was shaped by the physical and historical environment that inspired it Looking westwards towards Australia and long shut off within New Zealand by the South Island s rugged Southern Alps the West Coast was a land of gold coal and timber In the 1950s and 1960s it nurtured a literature that embodied a sense of belonging to an Australasian world and captured the aspirations of New Zealand s emergent radical nationalism More recent West Coast writers observing the hollowing out of their communities saw in miniature and in advance the growing gulf between city and regional economies aligned to an older economic order losing its relevance Were they chronicling the last hurrah of a retreating age or crafting a literature of regional resistance

A Market Out of Place? Pernille Hohnen, 2003 Pernille Hohnen has written a detailed ethnography of a Lithuanian market place in the mid 1990s and as such contributes significantly to the understanding of a phenomenon largely unaccounted for by anthropologists namely shuttle trading and a new form of transnationalism connected to the numerous outdoor markets that were established all over Eastern and Central Europe during the 1990s most of which still flourish Traders go as far as China India Turkey and Poland and bring back items for local consumption as well as for retail not only within the country but throughout the region The global extension of the local market is astonishing not least on account of the personal ingenuity invested in an uncertain business where one can only learn the hard way Furthermore by combining a synchronic analysis of the market with an analysis of changing trading practices during the crucial 10 year period of the 1990s the book sheds important light on processes of creativity and venture as well as on the more gradual institutionalization of trading practices such as trade routes trading routines technology and forms of political control Both traders and their environment tend to evaluate the market place as somehow outside civilized society The disorderly nature of the market epitomizes contested social hierarchies and cultural categories as well as privatized power relations in the form of racketeers which slowly gain legitimacy The analysis of the market place sheds light on changing discourses of ethnicity gender and work in Lithuanian society as well as contributing to a more thorough theoretical understanding of transition

Masculinity (Routledge Revivals) David Jackson, 2015-08-11 In this detailed investigation of masculine gendered identity first published in 1990 David Jackson uses his own personal history to look at the specific ways in which men become masculine In doing so he examines but also offers some positive challenges to the assumed qualities and values of growing up manly Jackson looks closely at the psychological and social forces active in his own development relations with his father violence at school male banter and joking sporting activities boys comics and sexual relations The title is a deliberate blend between life story and critical commentary that makes use of some areas of post structuralist theory to make visible the social and emotional processes that contribute to one man s life history With an innovative theoretical approach this reissue will be of particular value to those interested in the social psychological and cultural forces that have gone into the historical shaping of men and masculinities

History's Erratics David M. Emmons, 2024-10-22 As Ice Age glaciers left behind erratics so the external forces of history tumbled the Irish into America Existing both out of time and out of space a diverse range of these Roman Catholic immigrants saw their new country in a much different way than did the Protestants who settled and claimed it These erratics chose backward looking tradition and independence over assimilation and embraced a quintessentially Irish form of subversiveness that arose from their culture faith and working class outlook David M Emmons draws on decades of research and thought to plumb the mismatch of values between Protestant Americans hostile to Roman Catholicism and the Catholic Irish strangers among them Joining ethnicity and faith to social class Emmons explores the unique form of dissidence that arose when Catholic Irish workers and their sympathizers rejected the beliefs and symbols of American capitalism A vibrant and original tour de force History's Erratics explores the ancestral roots of Irish nonconformity and defiance in America

Anzac Memories Alistair Thomson, 2013-11-01 Anzac Memories was first published to acclaim in 1994 and has achieved international renown for its pioneering contribution to the study of war memory and mythology Michael McKernan wrote that the book gave as good a picture of the impact of the Great War on individuals and Australia as we are likely to get in this generation and Michael Roper concluded that an immense achievement of this book is that it so clearly illuminates the historical processes that left men like my grandfather forever struggling to fashion myths which they could live by In this new edition Alistair Thomson explores how the Anzac legend has transformed over the past quarter century how a post memory of the Great War creates new challenges and opportunities for making sense of the national past and how veterans war memories can still challenge and complicate national mythologies He returns to a family war history that he could not write about twenty years ago because of the stigma of war and mental illness and he uses newly released Repatriation files to question his own earlier account of veterans post war lives and memories and to think afresh about war and memory

Women Teachers and Feminist Politics, 1900-39 Alison Oram, 1996 Women teachers were key players in twentieth century feminism They fought for women s suffrage before the First World War and continued their vigorous campaigns for equal pay equal promotion opportunities and abolition of the marriage bar into the less promising political environment of the 1920s and 1930s This book is the first to offer a detailed assessment of why women teachers were so politically active and makes an important contribution to the literature on women s politicisation Drawing on interviews with women teachers in state elementary and secondary schools as well as the records of teachers associations and central and local government it explores the tensions in the relationship between their position at the workplace and their family lives and unravels the connections and dissonances between how they saw themselves as both women and professional teachers International Family Change Rukmalie Jayakody, Arland Thornton, William G.
