Story Of A Mental Hospital

George W. Dowdall

Story Of A Mental Hospital:

The Story of Nursing in British Mental Hospitals Niall McCrae, Peter Nolan, 2016-02-22 From their beginnings as the asylum attendants of the 19th century mental health nurses have come a long way This comprehensive volume is the first book in over twenty years to explore the history of mental health nursing and during this period the landscape has transformed as the large institutions have been replaced by services in the community McCrae and Nolan examine how the role of mental health nursing has evolved in a social and professional context brought to life by an abundance of anecdotal accounts Moving from the early nineteenth to the end of the twentieth century the book's nine chronologically ordered chapters follow the development from untrained attendants in the pauper lunatic asylums to the professionally qualified nurses of the twentieth century and finally consider the rundown and closure of the mental hospitals from nurses perspectives Throughout the argument is made that whilst the training organisation and environment of mental health nursing has changed the aim has remained essentially the same to develop a therapeutic relationship with people in distress McCrae and Nolan look forward as well as back and highlight significant messages for the future of mental health care For mental health nursing to be meaningfully directed we must first understand the place from which this field has developed This scholarly but accessible book is aimed at anyone with an interest in mental health or social history and will also act as a useful resource for policy makers managers and mental health workers

The Eclipse of the State Mental Hospital George W. Dowdall, 1996-01-01 Examines the origins recent history and future of state hospitals

Ghost Stories of Saskatchewan 3 Jo-Anne Christensen, 2009-07-31 Saskatchewan and ghost stories They go together like a grinning scarecrow in a whisper dry October field In 1995 Dundurn successfully published and reprinted numerous times the original Ghost Stories of Saskatchewan Since that time an eerie wealth of supernatural accounts have surfaced in this seemingly quiet prairie province In this third collection a quiet cemetery appears to be a portal between the worlds of the living and the dead a Victorian mansion turned restaurant in Moose Jaw remains occupied by the spectral image of the original lady of the house and a weary traveller near Flaxcombe stops for coffee in a diner that burned to the ground a decade earlier There are historical tales and personal accounts legends and lore And there is much to keep the dedicated ghost fan awake late into the night Here the reader will find triple the history mystery and chills from one of Canada's established authors in the paranormal genre

The Last Asylum Barbara Taylor, 2015-04-15 Blending personal memoir with social history the author shares an exquisitely written and provocative account of mental illness and care Sunday Times UK In the late 1970s Barbara Taylor then an acclaimed young historian began to suffer from severe anxiety Eventually her struggles led her to be admitted to the infamous Friern Mental Hospital in North London once known as the Colney Hatch Lunatic Asylum The Last Asylum is a candid account of her time there and probing look at the evolution of mental health treatment Taylor was admitted to Friern in 1988 not long before England's asylum system began to undergo dramatic change The 1990s saw the old asylums shuttered their patients left to navigate a perpetually overcrowded and underfunded mental health system But Taylor contends that the emptying of the asylums also marked a bigger loss a loss of community Taylor credits her own recovery to the help of a steadfast psychoanalyst and a circle of friends including Magda her manic depressive roommate and Fiona who shared stories of her boyfriend the Spaceman The support and trust of that network was crucial to Taylor s recovery offering a respite from the stranded homeless feelings she and others found in the outside world Schizophrenic'S Story Oskars Rancevs,2018-01-26 While writing this story I will be as truthful and honest as possible in describing my thoughts and actions immediately prior to being admitted to the hospital It was at this time that I completely lost all sense of reality and started to live in the world of my thoughts where I create my own reality I will include notes from hospitals so called epicrisis a critical or analytical summing up especially of a medical case history and comments from friends and relatives It all began in January 2006 ten years ago At that point I had successfully finished my education at Riga City Parnieku Gymnasium and was studying political science at the University of Latvia After the first year in university I had the opportunity to go to Denmark and study European democracy and politics at Folkehojskole As the programme was relevant to my studies at university my tutors agreed and I would be able to continue in my group when I returned I thought I was going to continue with my coursework from Latvia while in Denmark but I realised that they were two different unrelated courses Returning to Latvia I soon realised I was not ready to take the ongoing examinations and although my group mate had regularly sent me course notes I did not bother to study or pay attention I remember very clearly that day when I had to go to university but I chose the easiest option and stayed at home I thought I could take a year out from university relax enjoy my life and teach children dancing Unfortunately this did not happen Discovering the History of Psychiatry Mark S. Micale,Roy Porter,1994 This book brings together leading international authorities physicians historians social scientists and others who explore the many complex interpretive and ideological dimensions of historical writing about psychiatry The book includes chapters on the history of the asylum Freud anti psychiatry in the United States and abroad feminist interpretations of psychiatry s past and historical accounts of Nazism and psychotherapy as well as discussions of many individual historical figures and movements It represents the first attempt to study comprehensively the multiple mythologies that have grown up around the history of madness and the origin functions and validity of these myths in our psychological century A History of Mental Health Nursing Peter Nolan,1998 Peter Nolan presents a history of psychiatric nursing which contrasts the distress of those who have experienced mental illness with the pioneering efforts of psychiatrists and psychiatric nurses Stories for Every Classroom Beverly A. Brenna ,2015 Academic study of children s literature has explored various aspects of diversity however little research has examined Canadian books that portray characters with disabilities This relevant and timely text addresses the significant dearth of research by exploring the treatment of disability in Canadian literature for young people Engaging and highly accessible this text will assist teachers teacher educators and teacher candidates in finding and using books about characters where disability is a part of their characterization supporting the development of curricula that reflect critical literacy and social justice issues Stories for Every Classroom explores the historical patterns and trends theoretical frameworks and critical literacy methods used to understand and teach children's literature and its portrayal of characters with disabilities It provides educators with curriculum ideas and enriches the body of resources shared with children in K-12 settings for the purposes of developing imagination empathy and understanding of self and others Featuring author portraits comprehensive annotated bibliographies of contemporary Canadian children's books that depict characters with disabilities and read-on bibliographies that provide connections with other books in the field this unique text will be an invaluable resource for educators

Unfitting Stories Valerie Raoul, 2007-03-30 Unfitting Stories Narrative Approaches to Disease Disability and Trauma illustrates how stories about ill health and suffering have been produced and received from a variety of perspectives Bringing together the work of Canadian researchers health professionals and people with lived experiences of disease disability or trauma it addresses central issues about authority in medical and personal narratives and the value of cross or interdisciplinary research in understanding such experiences The book considers the aesthetic dimensions of health-related stories with literary readings that look at how personal accounts of disease disability and trauma are crafted by writers and filmmakers into published works Topics range from psychiatric hospitalization and aestheticizing cancer to father-daughter incest in film The collection also deals with the therapeutic or transformative effect of stories with essays about men's sport and spinal cord injury narrative teaching at L'Arche a faith-based network of communities inclusive of people with developmental disabilities and the construction of a schizophrenic identity A final section examines the polemical functions of narrative directing attention to the professional and political contexts within which stories are constructed and exchanged Topics include ableist limits on self-narration drug addiction and the disease model and narratives of trauma and Aboriginal post-secondary students Unfitting Stories is essential reading for researchers using narrative methods or materials for teachers students and professionals working in the field of health services and for concerned consumers of the health care system It deals with practical problems relevant to policy makers as well as theoretical issues of interest to specialists in bioethics gender analysis and narrative theory Read the chapter Social Trauma and Serial Autobiography: Healing and Beyond by Bina Freiwald on the Concordia University Library Spectrum Research Repository website
