Strategic Corporate Facilities Management:

Strategic Corporate Facilities Management Stephen Binder, 1992 Virtually every major corporation faces decisions concerning a move into either a built to order or leased facility This book guides the professional facilities planner and manager in how to develop a clear long range facilities plan and how to see it through Facilities Management Peter Barrett, David Baldry, 2009-02-18 Facilities management has been one of the fastest growing professional disciplines for some years both in terms of volume and diversity of commercial activity However a widely accepted and implemented body of knowledge is still lacking This book contributes to that knowledge building by taking models and ideas from a wide range of sources and linking them to extensive case study material drawn from practising facilities managers The text is divided into three parts Current practice is illustrated with a second chapter looking at enhancing services Key facilities management issues are considered user needs evaluation outsourcing and computer based information systems Extensive advice is provided on managing people through change and on decision making The Second Edition features new material on user needs briefing and procurement strategy together with new public sector case studies This high quality book provides a comprehensive approach to the range of issues and the combination of case studies with theoretical perspectives and research has a strong practical emphasis Chartered Surveyor Monthly A thorough and very well researched book as a student text it is first class Construction Manager Facilities Management Keith Alexander, Brian Atkin, Jan Bröchner, Tore Haugen, 2004-08-02 Facilities Management sets out a new framework for the discipline of facilities management which challenges many of the norms and which sets out new methods for optimising the performance of a business Successful facilities managers need a range of skills and need to be able to devise a range of innovative strategies for the future of the organisations in which they work This new book follows on directly from Keith Alexander's ground breaking textbook Facilities Management and focuses on four new themes which have been identified as keys to the new strategy organisational change and learning innovation performance and the knowledge workplace Facilities Management and Corporate Real Estate Management as Value Drivers Per Anker Jensen, Theo van der Voordt, 2016-10-04 Facilities Management FM and Corporate Real Estate Management CREM are two closely related and relatively new management disciplines with developing international professions and increasing academic attention Both disciplines have from the outset a strong focus on controlling and reducing cost for real estate facilities and related services In recent years there has been a change towards putting more focus on how FM CREM can add value to the organisation This book is driven by the need to develop a widely accepted and easily applicable conceptual framework of adding value by FM and CREM It presents the state of the art of theoretical knowledge and empirical evidence about the impact of buildings and facilities on 12 value parameters and how to manage and measure these values The findings are connected to a new Value Adding Management model The book is research based with a focus on guidance to practice It offers a transdisciplinary approach integrating academic knowledge from a variety of different fields with practical experience It also includes 12 interviews with practitioners shedding light as to how they manage adding value in practice This is a much needed resource for practitioners researchers and teachers from the field of FM and CREM as well as students at both undergraduate and postgraduate level Workspace Strategies

Jacqueline C. Vischer,2012-12-06 We live in era of transformation of technology of social values and of the way work is done This book represents a timely and innovative addition to current thinking and writing about transformation in organizations In order to meet an increasingly global and competitive environment organizations are undergoing reengineering work process redesign right sizing creating a virtual office and other forms of restructuring and basic change of the way work is accomplished Such transformation means analyzing and redesigning core processes in organizations around new kinds of principles such as total quality and customer service The eventual effect of these changes is likely to be the networked or boundary less organization in which the traditional boundaries between functions and between producers and their suppliers and sometimes even between organizations and their competitors are broken down The goal of such transformation is to make the work of the organization more efficient and productive to produce more with fewer resources and at a lower cost In the conventional view of the transformation process certain secondary concerns such as the need to protect the environment or to help an increasingly heterogeneous work force deal with its personal issues are seen as problematic for this core thrust Some recent work however is beginning to show that if these so called secondary concerns are considered central far from being problematic they actually present strategic opportunities for productive innovation and change Strategic Management of Built Facilities Craig Langston,Rima Lauge-Kristensen,2013-05-13 The effective management of facilities can significantly improve business productivity In this textbook the authors provide an overview of facility economics and outline the way in which businesses and facility managers can get better value from their physical assets Students on facilities management and property related degrees will find this an invaluable introduction

Workplace Strategies and Facilities Management Rick Best,Gerard de Valence,Craig Langston,2007-08-22 This book provides comprehensive coverage of issues that facility managers in the property industry need to understand and apply in the pursuit of value for money over the life span of built facilities The authors introduce the fast growing discipline of facility management examine the core competencies that facility managers should possess and study different contemporary drivers of change The book emphasises the need to consider facilities management issues at the pre design stage of the construction process rather than only when the building is completed in order to maximise value for money Department of Defense
