Strategic Command General Sir John Wilton And Australia's Asian Wars:

Strategic Command David Murray Horner, 2005 This book tells the story of Australia's most important military officer since World War II From 1963 to 1970 first as the Army chief then as Chairman Chief of Staff Committee General Sir John Wilton was responsible for the conduct of Australia's Vietnam War The problems he faced when dealing with politicians and senior bureaucrats in time of crisis remain as relevant as ever Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain.

MacArthur's Coalition Peter J. Dean, 2018-04-03 From 1942-1945 the Allies war in the Southwest Pacific was effectively a bilateral coalition between the United States and Australia under the command of General Douglas MacArthur By charting the evolution of the military effectiveness of the US-Australian alliance MacArthur's Coalition puts the relationship between the United States and Australia at the center of the war against Japan Drawing on new primary source material Peter J Dean has written the first substantial book length treatment of the coalition as a combined military force This expansive and ambitious book provides a fresh perspective on the Pacific War by providing a close up in depth account of operations in the Southwest Pacific from the Kokoda Trail campaign to the reconquest of the Philippines and Borneo Dean's work takes the reader deep into the key military headquarters in the Southwest Pacific and reveals the discussions debates and arguments between key commanders and staff officers during the course of planning and waging a monumental conflict Drawing upon archival records across three continents Dean brings the qualities of these senior officers to life by exploring the critical importance of personalities and leadership in overcoming cultural doctrinal and organizational divides in the largely unequal alliance Set against the practicalities of fighting a fanatical enemy in some of the most inhospitable terrain in the war his book shows how despite these divides and MacArthur's difficult personality the US-Australian coalition was able to forge a highly effective and ultimately triumphant fighting machine With its unprecedented view of the joint nature of operations in the Southwest Pacific and its focus on frontline commanders and units in forging a successful fighting force MacArthur's Coalition illuminates a critical aspect of the Allied victory in World War II High Command David Horner, 2021-03-30 Since it was first published in 1982 High Command had become the standard reference for anyone interested in Australia's participation in the Second World War this edition was originally published in 1992 The 50th anniversary of battles such as Singapore Coral Sea and Kokoda in 1942 re-awakened interest in these milestones in Australia's struggle for independence

Despite the well known exploits of Australian servicemen in a score of famous battles Australia's contribution to the war was ultimately determined by the strategic policy makers in Canberra Washington and London How competent were our politicians military leaders and advisers in formulating our own war strategy How much did the performance of Australian troops on the battlefield affect our ability to influence allied strategy The author describes the clash between Generals Rowell and Blamey in Greece He reveals the impact of the secretary of the Department of Defence Sir Frederick Shedden on strategic policy making He analyses the role of intelligence especially signals intelligence in allied strategy He shows how Blamey's miscalculation in 1944 removed any chance of Australian troops joining the Americans in the Philippines And he reveals how a British admiral challenged the authority of the Australian government High Command presents the remarkable full story of the political battles behind the military battles

The War Game David Horner, 2022-07-05 Committing the nation to war is the gravest decision its leaders can make The War Game examines why and how Australia went to war and how it managed the nation's nine conflicts between the First World War and the Iraq War It explores the relationships between some of the most dominant political leaders in Australian history Billy Hughes Robert Menzies John Curtin Harold Holt John Gorton Bob Hawke and John Howard and their top military commanders including William Birdwood John Monash Brudenell White Thomas Blamey Vernon Sturdee Douglas MacArthur Sydney Rowell Frederick Scherger John Wilton Peter Gration and Peter Cosgrove The War Game raises important questions about the process of war leadership Should political leaders leave the conduct of the war to their top military commanders or should they interfere Have Australia's war leaders always made wise decisions Given that Australia has always fought as a junior partner in a coalition either within the British Empire or as part of the US alliance how should Australia's leaders manage these alliance arrangements And how should Australia's future war leaders prepare for the tasks ahead Publisher's description

The Architect of Victory Peter J. Dean, 2011-04-21 Lieutenant General Sir Frank Berryman is one of the most important yet relatively unknown officers in the history of the Australian Army Despite his reputedly caustic personality and noted conflicts with some senior officers Berryman was crucial to Australia's success during the Second World War But did the man known as Berry the Bastard deserve his reputation Bold calculating and talented Berryman was at the forefront of operations that led to the defeat of the Japanese and his operational planning secured Australia's victories at Bardia Tobruk and in New Guinea during the Pacific War With access to rare private papers Peter Dean charts Berryman's special relationships with senior US and Australian officers such as MacArthur Chamberlain Blamey Lavarack and Morshead and explains why the man poised to become the next Chief of General Staff would never fulfil his ambition
