Beeching: 50 Years On Anthony Poulton-Smith,2013-02-01 In 1963 Dr Beeching s infamous report signalled the end for over 15 000 miles of track a third of Britain s stations and for 70 000 jobs as well as making irrevocable changes to the way of life of many consumers Much misery was caused and Beeching s name was muddled but in hindsight the report probably did more than any other single factor to preserve the nation s railway heritage Without the Beeching cuts much of the locomotives stock tracks signals and signs would have crumbled been forgotten or rotted However the gentle railway gradients lend themselves perfectly to walkways and cycle paths buildings have been refurbished memorabilia now commands prices at auction which would astonish those who painted the metal And of course the heritage lines continue to draw many thousands of visitors each year After the initial shock of the cuts this fresh appraisal considers these benefits and more which may not have come about without the Beeching Report Railway Gazette ,1920 The Final Years of

London Midland Region Steam David Mather,2020-07-30 The book investigates the vast number of locomotives that came to the London Midland Region in 1948 at Nationalisation This is a class by class survey with over 200 illustrations covering all the top link and freight classes also looking at the smaller types of locomotive operating on branch lines and doing more humble tasks The author explores what happened to them and also looks at those that eventually made their way into preservation The Last Years of Steam Around Worcester Michael Clemens,2022-07-02 Features a wealth of previously unpublished images many in full colour Features extended commentaries from the author which are rich in detail Of interest to train enthusiasts local historians and modellers Robert Ellis James Robertson lived in Worcester from the mid 1950s and travelled around the country building up a large railway archive In the early 1960s a few of Ellis photographs were published in books and magazines and the credit R E James Robertson may be familiar to some This book of mainly unpublished colour and mono photographs has been created entirely from his collection within a 35 mile radius of Worcester It will appeal to railway enthusiasts modellers and those with an interest in local history The period covered is from the mid 1950s through to the mid 1960s steam is the predominant traction throughout together with occasional shots of early diesel power Coverage includes parts of Herefordshire Gloucestershire Warwickshire and Worcestershire plus the Birmingham area Ellis passed on in April 2015 aged 92 His daughters contacted filmmaker and author Michael Clemens whose late father was a friend of Ellis His collection lives on at shows around the country given by the author and now in this series of books using his photographic archive Lost Railway Journeys from Around the World Anthony Lambert,2018-11-13 From the great cathedral like railways stations of the steam age to obscure lines built through spectacular landscapes to open up countries before the advent of motorised road transport this book is a celebration of our lost railway heritage and the lines that can no longer be travelled Through stunning images Lost Railway Journeys from Around the World evokes the romance and drama of these journeys taking the reader as close as they can possibly get to this lost world of dining cars sleeping cars station porters and international rail travel Organised by continent all of these routes have stories to tell and the lost journeys are captured in the old postcards and posters that accompany photographs drawn from collections and archives across the world
