Evil's Door Elizabeth Parker, 2014-04-22 Childhood rumors are often prevalent in a family oriented community Some stories are so believable that they trickle down from sibling to sibling friend to friend creating a neighborhood buzz that lingers for years Ryan Sheffield's neighborhood was no different Though no one would admit it adults and children alike were freaked out by the eccentric woman who lived in the ghastly corner house but aside from that his world as he knew it was an ordinary one Bizarre situations did not surface until Ryan began working at his very first job To his peers and superiors it was just a traditional office To Ryan it was much more than that after a series of inexplicable occurrences haunted his every conscious moment Through a bit of intense research he uncovered the building's gruesome history and was led down its horrifying path. He opened the door to a hell he did not want to live in and tried his best to avoid the evil that surrounded him. The Legend of Evil, 2013-09-09 Revised version

Chinese Narratologies Xiuyan Fu, 2020-08-20 This book provides a more rational and systematic explanation for the origin and evolution of the Chinese narrative tradition based on studies of Chinese literary classics, local culture, and items such as bronze wares and porcelain vessels with portrayed stories. By doing so, it uncovers forgotten interconnections and reestablishes obscured or unacknowledged lines of descent. Furthermore, it makes an initial study of acoustic narrative. Going beyond the field of literature, it employs tools and materials from diverse fields such as anthropology, religious studies, mythology, linguistics, semiotics, folklore, and local culture. The book also offers an archeological inquiry into the knowledge found in various narrative texts, objects with portrayed stories, and perceptions with relevant plots. Providing a wealth of insights, inspiring investigative methods, and practical tools that can be applied in narrative studies, the book is an essential resource for researchers and students in the fields of comparative literature, narratology, and ancient Chinese literature.
