The Lena Baker Story:

The Lena Baker Story Lela Bond Phillips, 2001 This is the story of the first and only woman to be legally executed in the state of Georgia's electric chair Nearly sixty years after her death Lena Baker is not forgotten The small picture hanging in the execution chamber of the Georgia State Prison is a reminder of the persistent question is justice being served Cover p 4

Legal Executions in Georgia Daniel Allen Hearn, 2015-12-22 In the state of Georgia 1025 men and women are known to have been hanged or electrocuted for capital crimes in the century after the Civil War Based on more than twenty years of investigative research this chronological record of these legal executions was pieced together from diverse sources in and outside of the state with many details never before made public The author documents the facts as they occurred without delving into the politics of capital punishment

Reclaiming the Black Past Pero G. Dagbovie, 2018-11-13 The past and future of Black history In this information overloaded twenty first century it seems impossible to fully discern or explain how we know about the past But two things are certain Whether we are conscious of it or not we all think historically on a routine basis

And our perceptions of history including African American history have not necessarily been shaped by professional historians. In this wide reaching and timely book, Pero G. Dagbovie argues that public knowledge and understanding of black history including its historical icons has been shaped by institutions and individuals outside academic ivory towers. Drawing on a range of compelling examples, Dagbovie explores how in the twenty first century African American history is regarded, depicted and juggled by diverse and contesting interpreters from museum curators to filmmakers, entertainers, politicians, journalists and bloggers. Underscoring the ubiquitous nature of African American history in contemporary American thought and culture, each chapter unpacks how black history has been represented and remembered primarily during the Age of Obama, the so called era of post racial American society. Reclaiming the Black Past is Dagbovie's contribution to expanding how we understand African American history during the new millennium.

The set addresses a breadth of famous trials across American history, including the Salem witch trials, the conviction of Sacco and Vanzetti, and the prosecution of O. J. Simpson.
