Pictures by the Old Masters in the Library of Christ Church, Oxford Christ Church (University of Oxford). Library, Tancred Borenius, 1916 Altarpieces and Their Viewers in the Churches of Rome from Caravaggio to Guido Reni Pamela M. Jones, 2017-07-05 A social history of reception this study focuses on sacred art and Catholicism in Rome during the late sixteenth and seventeenth centuries The five altarpieces examined here were painted by artists who are admired today Caravaggio Guercino and Guido Reni and by the less renowned but once influential Tommaso Laureti and Andrea Comodi By shifting attention from artistic intentionality to reception Pamela Jones reintegrates these altarpieces into the urban fabric of early modern Rome allowing us to see the five paintings anew through the eyes of their original audiences both women and men rich and poor pious and impious Because Italian churchmen relied after the Council of Trent on public altarpieces more than any other type of contemporary painting in their attempts to reform and inspire Catholic society it is on altarpieces that Pamela Jones centers her inquiry Through detailed study of evidence in many genres including not only painting prints and art criticism but also cheap pamphlets drama sermons devotional tracts rules of religious orders pilgrimages rituals diaries and letters Jones shows how various beholders made meaning of the altarpieces in their aesthetic devotional social and charitable dimensions This study presents early modern Catholicism and its art in an entirely new light by addressing the responses of members of all social classes not just elites to art created for the public It also provides a more accurate view of the range of religious ideas that circulated in early modern

Rome by bringing to bear both officially sanctioned religious art and literature and unauthorized but widely disseminated cheap pamphlets and prints that were published without the mandatory religious permission On this basis Jones helps to illuminate further the insurmountable problems churchmen faced when attempting to channel the power of sacred art to elicit orthodox responses
