The Arab Uprisings Eberhard Kienle, Nadine Sika, 2015-06-22 The uprisings which spread across the Middle East and North Africa in late 2010 and 2011 irrevocably altered the way in which the region is now perceived But in spite of the numerous similarities in these protests from Tunisia and Egypt to Yemen and Bahrain their broader political effects display important differences This book analyses these popular uprisings as well as other forms of protest and the impact they had on each state Why were Mubarak and Bin Ali ousted relatively peacefully in Egypt and Tunisia while Qaddafi in Libya and Saleh in Yemen fought violent battles against their opponents Why do political transformations differ in countries that were able to shed their autocratic presidents And why have other regimes including Morocco and Saudi Arabia experienced only limited protests or managed to repress and circumvent them Looking at the aftermath and transitional processes across the region this book is a vital retrospective examination of the uprisings and how they can be understood in the light of state formation and governmental dynamics

State Identities and the Homogenisation of Peoples Heather Rae, 2002-08-15 Why are forced displacement ethnic cleansing and genocide an enduring feature of state systems In this book Heather Rae locates these practices of pathological homogenisation in the processes of state building Political elites have repeatedly used cultural resources to redefine bounded political communities as exclusive moral communities from which outsiders must be expelled Showing that these practices predate the age of nationalism Rae examines cases from both pre nationalist and nationalist eras the expulsion of the Jews from fifteenth century Spain the persecution of the Huguenots under Louis XIV and in the twentieth century the Armenian genocide and ethnic cleansing in former Yugoslavia

She argues that those atrocities prompted the development of international norms of legitimate state behaviour that increasingly define sovereignty as conditional Rae concludes by examining two threshold cases the Czech Republic and Macedonia to identify the factors that may inhibit pathological homogenization as a method of state building
