The Range of Social Theory Floyd Nelson House, 1929

Knowledge in Mental Health Lydia Sapouna, Peter Herrmann, 2006 This book originates in the work of a Socrates European partnership on mental health promotion The project involved partners from four European countries the United Kingdom Italy Portugal and Ireland and led to the development of a European Module on mental health promotion in each country teaching exchanges and a series of conferences in the UK 2001 Ireland 2002 and Italy 2003 However this book moves beyond the publication of conference proceedings to provide a broader debate on responses to mental distress that promote inclusion citizenship as expression of meaningful participation in the community and a genuine alternative to institutional thinking and practices Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare John Carter, 2012-10-12 Postmodern ideas have been vastly influential in the social sciences and beyond However their impact on the study of social policy has been minimal Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare analyses the potential for a postmodern or cultural turn in welfare as it treats postmodernity as an evolving canon from the seminal works of Baudrillard Foucault and Lyotard through to recent theories of the risk society Already disorientated by globalisation new technologies and the years of new right ascendancy welfare faces a significant challenge in the postmodern It suggests that rather than universality and state provision the new social policy will be consumerised and fragmented a welfare state of ambivalence With contributions from authors coming from a variety of fields offering very different perspectives on postmodernity and welfare Postmodernity and the Fragmentation of Welfare also keeps social policy's intellectual inheritance in view By exploring ways in which theorisations of postmodernity might improve understanding of welfare issues in the 1990s and assessing the relevance of theories of diversity and difference to mainstream and critical social policy traditions this book will be an essential text for all students of social policy social administration social work and sociology
