Nash, 2007 In this book distinguished anthropologist June Nash demonstrates how ethnography can illuminate a wide array of global problems She describes encounters with an urban U S community undergoing de industrialization with Mandalay rice cultivators accommodating to post World War II independence through animistic practices with Mayans mobilizing for autonomy and with Andean peasants and miners confronting the International Monetary Fund Having worked in a great variety of cultural settings around the world Nash challenges us to expand our anthropological horizons and to think about local problems in a global manner Climate Action in a Globalizing World Carl Cassegard, Linda Soneryd, Hakan Thorn, Asa Wettergren, 2017-05-18 The existence and urgency of global climate change is a matter of scientific consensus Yet the global politics of climate change have been anything but consensual In this context a wave of global climate activism has emerged in the last decade in response to the perceived failure of the political negotiations This book provides a unique comparative study of environmental movements in USA Japan Denmark and

Sweden analyzing their interaction with the international climate institutions of the United Nations with national governments and with currents in the global climate movement It documents how and why the movement evolved between the Copenhagen Summit of 2009 and the Paris Summit of 2015 altering its strategies and tactics while attracting new actors to the issue area Further it demonstrates how the development of global environmental networks has increased contact between environmental movements in the Global North and those from the Global South resulting in the establishment of climate justice as a political cause and unifying frame for global climate activism
