Negotiation Excellence Michael Benoliel, 2011

Nearly 300 years ago Francois de Callieres a French diplomat famously observed that the fate of the greatest states depends on the quality of their negotiators His observation appears to have stood the test of time as the fate of modern organizations in today s increasingly competitive global economy still depends largely on the skill and conduct of its negotiators To illustrate the critical role of skilled negotiators one has to look no further than at the dismal record of recent high profile mergers and acquisitions In numerous deals deal makers have wiped out significant value off their market capitalization through failures in the deal making process In contrast successful serial deal makers have long recognized the value of negotiation and invested in building individual and institutional negotiation capabilities

Negotiation Excellence Successful Deal Making was written by the leading negotiation experts from top rated universities in the USA and in Asia and its objective is to introduce the readers to the theory and the best practices of effective negotiation The book includes chapters ranging from preparing and planning well for successful negotiations building relationships and establishing trust between negotiators negotiating creatively to create mutual value and win win understanding and dealing with negotiators from different cultures to managing ethical dilemmas In addition to emphasizing the link between theory and practice Negotiation Excellence Successful Deal Making includes deal examples such as Renault Nissan alliance mega merger between Arcelor and Mittal Steel Kraft Foods acquisition of Cadbury PLC Walt Disney Company negotiation with the Hong Kong government and Komatsu a Japanese firm negotiation with Dresser an American firm

Nothing seems more far removed from the visceral bodily experience of emotions than the cold rational technology of the Internet But as this collection shows the internet and emotions intersect in interesting and surprising ways Internet and Emotions is the fruit of an interdisciplinary collaboration of scholars from the sociology of emotions and communication and media studies It features theoretical and empirical chapters from international researchers who investigate a wide range of issues concerning the sociology of emotions in the context of new media The book fills a substantial gap in the social research of digital technology and examines whether the internet invokes emotional states differently from other media and unmediated situations how emotions are mobilized and internalized into online practices and how the social definitions of emotions are changing with the emergence of the internet It explores a wide range of behaviors and emotions from love to mourning anger resentment and sadness What happens to our emotional life in a mediated disembodied environment without the bodily element of physical co presence to set off emotional exchanges Are there qualitatively new kinds of emotional exchanges taking place on the internet These are only some of the questions explored in the chapters of this book with quite surprising answers      Handbook of Interpersonal Commitment and Relationship Stability Jeffrey M. Adams, Warren H. Jones, 2012-12-06 A fundamental assumption underlying the formation of our most important relationships is that they will persist indefinitely into the future As an acquaintanceship turns into a friendship for example both members of this newly formed interpersonal bond are likely to expect that their interactions will become increasingly frequent diverse and intimate over time This expectation is perhaps most apparent in romantically involved couples who through a variety of verbal and symbolic means make explicit pledges to a long lasting relationship In either case it is clear that these relationships represent something valuable to the individuals involved and are pursued with great enthusiasm Virtually all close relationships are formed within the context of mutually rewarding interactions and or strong physical attraction between partners Friends and romantically involved couples alike are drawn to one another because of similarity of attitudes interests and personality and quite simply because they enjoy one another's company This enjoyment coupled with the novelty that characterizes new relationships almost makes the continuation of the relationship a foregone conclusion As relationships progress however their novelty fades conflicts may arise between partners negative life events may occur and the satisfaction that previously characterized the relationships may diminish      Lasting Marriages Richard Mackey, Bernard O'Brien, 1995-06-30 Based on in depth interviews by skilled clinicians with husbands and wives who have been married more than 20 years Mackey and O'Brien explore how spouses adapt to each other from the early years of marriage through the parenting years and into the post parenting or empty nest years Purposely selected for inclusion were spouses representing religious ethnic racial and educational diversity Given increased life expectancies couples who stay together will remain together for longer periods of time As longevity extends into the seventies eighties and beyond it is critical to identify the significant dynamics which contribute to satisfaction among couples in stable marriages This book responds to this need Each chapter focuses on an important theme in these long term marital relationships Mackey and O'Brien first explore the beginnings of the relationships and the recollections of how respondents were attracted initially The next chapters focus on dimensions of marriage as they evolve over time Collective themes emerging from the interviews are explored in relationship to gender ethnicity religion and education In view of increased life expectancies couples who stay together will remain together for longer periods of time As longevity extends into the seventies eighties and beyond it is critical to identify the significant dynamics which contribute to satisfaction among couples in stable marriages This book responds to this need among sociologists psychologists social workers marriage and family counselors and general adult readers interested in gender cultural differences and interpersonal relationships      The Lively Audience Patricia Palmer, 2023-12-22 The Lively Audience 1986 studies television from the children's own point of view Contrary to most prevailing opinion it contends that television has much to teach children and that their relationship with the medium is not one of passive dependency after all Research shows that what children gain from television depends very much on the child's age and social experience and that children see television differently from adults This book examines this issue and gives us a different understanding of the child audience and the impact of their television viewing      How Audiences Decide Richard O. Young, 2011-03 How Audiences Decide A Cognitive Approach to Business Communication is a comprehensive introduction to persuasive communication in the context of business It summarizes relevant theories and findings from the fields of cognitive science social cognition leadership team cognition psycholinguistics and behavioral economics By illuminating the thought processes of many different audiences from consumers to Wall Street analysts to CEOs it helps communicators better understand why audiences make the decisions they make and how to influence them The book covers a broad range of communication techniques including those concerning persuasive speaking and writing interviews and group meetings content and style typography and nonverbal behaviors charts and images rational arguments and emotional appeals and examines the empirical evidence supporting each of them      Emotion, Well-Being, and Resilience Rabindra Kumar Pradhan, Updesh Kumar, 2021-01-28 This important new volume discusses the role of emotion resilience and well being in many contexts of human life including home school and workplace Leading researchers and academicians from around the world and from various fields such as health education information and technology military and manufacturing explore the theoretical and practical implications of many studies in this area They present new concepts models and knowledge for practical applications that address challenges to well being The volume also considers the roles of several other influencing factors such as emotional intelligence performance productivity and employee s health and happiness The book s editors state that At this juncture of human and technological development when artificial intelligence and automation are slowly taking over the world holding on to the study of emotions well being and resilience has become imperative as these influence sustainable performances and growth by individuals as well as organizations      University of Michigan Official Publication , 1951

Gay and Lesbian Couples Richard Mackey, Bernard O'Brien, Eileen F. Mackey, 1997-11-25 The voices in this book come from the stories of gay and lesbian partners who talk about their struggles over the years in building a life together The stories reach beyond the obvious realities of sexual orientation to speak to the joys sorrows hopes and fears of human beings who are committed to making their relationships work Based on a life span perspective in depth interviews of people whose relationships have lasted more than 15 years explored how partners adapted over the years Each interview consisted of questions that focused upon dimensions of these relationships over time from the unique perspective of each partner They were asked about conflict over the years decision making styles ways of working out roles the importance of social supports and sexual and psychological intimacy The research upon which the book is based has continuity with the authors earlier work on lasting relationships among heterosexual couples including Lasting Marriages Men and Women Growing Together Praeger 1995 Compared to marriages relatively little research has been done on the development of same sex relationships This book will be of great interest to all researchers and students of gender differences marriage and family therapy human sexuality and interpersonal relationships      Adult Children of Divorce Geraldine K. Piorkowski, 2008-10-30 Romantic love is often an elusive fragile and tenuous state difficult to maintain across time The rates of divorce re divorce relationship violence and abuse today attest to the fact we are failing at romantic love And for teen aged and adult children of divorce romantic love can be especially elusive Because they have no roadmap for a satisfying stable romantic relationship derived from their own parents they are confused by what love is and tend to make poor partner choices Borrowing heavily from popular culture for unrealistic standards regarding love they become disillusioned when their all too ordinary lovers don't measure up Especially vulnerable to the problems their parents had they tend to overreact in a similar negative fashion and are all too ready to consider divorce when unhappiness strikes In attempting to halt intergenerational transmission of divorce Psychologist Piorkowski points to how we can recognize that American popular culture presents an overly sexualized explosive and superficial version of love that can't last With this book adult children of divorce can begin to see how they have been affected by familial experiences and develop a new realistic map to find more fulfilling and enduring romantic relationships Piorkowski in an extensive review of literature also looks at cultural factors and how they impact romantic love and marriage In contrast to American popular culture's shallow rendition of romantic love many cultures elsewhere in the world emphasize compatibility religion and family allegiance As a result says the author such marriages appear more stable than American unions built upon the shifting sands of emotion      Human Aging Paul W. Foos, M. Cherie Clark, 2016-01-08 This text offers a readable and friendly presentation of the important methods findings and theories of human aging while actively involving the reader in meaningful exercises and critical thinking Students are repeatedly challenged to apply information in the text to the older adults in their own lives Specifically suggestions for enhancing the lives of their older relatives are offered and encouraged These include guidelines for discussions they might have regarding social emotional and environmental changes as well encouraging intellectual and social interaction In this Edition Emphasis on the science of the study of aging and why questions in aging are difficult to answer how social scientists attempt to handle such difficulties and the successes and failures social scientists have had thus far in answering those questions The text also demonstrates how current research findings are now being applied in the real world and or how they might be applied in the future Cross cultural comparisons and ethnic group comparisons are included wherever possible Each chapter begins with Senior View which introduces students to a real person and gives them a chance to hear what older adults think and say about important issues related to the chapter and a chance to compare those opinions to the research findings Each chapter ends with Making Choices emphasizing the important behavioral emotional and social choices that students can make now to prolong a healthy happy life Chapter Projects offer the opportunity for active learning as students investigate for themselves an issue related to the chapter Instructors can expand these projects for students who want to learn more or for independent study Focus on Aging boxes compliment the material in the text providing additional insight and examples and encouraging critical thinking Every chapter includes discussion questions study questions chapter exercises and related online resources
