Strange Footprints On The Land:

Boys' Life ,1981-01 Boys Life is the official youth magazine for the Boy Scouts of America Published since 1911 it contains a proven mix of news nature sports history fiction science comics and Scouting

Strange Footprints on the Land Constance H. Frick Irwin,1980 Examines the detective work historians are performing to solve the mystery of whether Vikings inhabited North America during the five centuries preceding Columbus arrival

American Indian Tribal Governments Sharon O'Brien,1993 This book describes the struggle of Indian tribes and their governments to achieve freedom and self determination despite repeated attempts by foreign governments to dominate exterminate or assimilate them Drawing on the disciplines of political science history law and anthropology and written in a direct readable style American Indian Tribal Governments is a comprehensive introduction to traditional tribal governments to the history of Indian white relations to the structure and legal rights of modern tribal governments and to the changing roles of federal and state governments in relation to modern tribal governments Publication of this book fills a gap in American Indian studies providing scholars with a basis from which to begin an integrated study of tribal government providing teachers with an excellent introductory textbook and providing general readers with an accessible and complete introduction to American Indian history and government The book s unique structure allows coverage of a great breadth of information while avoiding the common mistake of generalizing about all tribes and cultures An introductory section presents the basic themes of the book and describes the traditional governments of five tribes chosen for their geographic and cultural diversity the Senecas the Muscogees the Lakotas the Isleta Pueblo and the Yakimas The next three chapters review the history of Indian white relations from the time Christopher Columbus discovered America to the present Then the history and modern government of each of the five tribes presented earlier is examined in detail The final chapters analyze the evolution and current legal powers of tribal governments the tribal federal relationship and the tribal state relationship American Indian Tribal Governments illuminates issues of tribal sovereignty and shows how tribes are protecting and expanding their control of tribal membership legal systems child welfare land and resource use hunting and fishing business regulation education and social services Other examples show tribes negotiating with state and federal governments to alleviate sources of conflict including issues of criminal and civil jurisdiction taxation hunting and fishing rights and control of natural resources Excerpts from historical and modern documents and speeches highlight the text and more than one hundred photos maps and charts show tribal life government and interaction with white society as it was and is Included as well are a glossary and a chronology of important events

Doing History Linda S. Levstik,Keith C. Barton,2011-01-26 Now in its fourth edition this popular text offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The central assumption is that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry collecting and data analysis examining the perspectives of people in the past considering multiple interpretations and creating evidence based historical accounts In each chapter the authors explain how the teaching demonstrated in the vignettes reflects basic principles of contemporary learning theory thus providing specific examples of successful activities and placing them in a theoretical context that allows teachers to adapt and apply them in a wide variety of settings New in the Fourth Edition Expanded coverage of world history in two new chapters Integration of new technologies to support history instruction Updated classroom examples bibliographies and references

Language Arts ,1981 Global Warming and Alternate Energy Douglas Elvers,2010-06 The Author has experience in Ice Age Climatology and Geology in the area from the Black Hills South Dakota to eastern Nebraska with Midland College the University of Nebraska Department of Geology and Morrill Hall State Museum of Paleontology He mapped Ice Age deposited soils and landforms including fossil deposits He performed Arctic Surveys with the US Navy Oceanographic Office ships USNS Dutton and Michelson and the Coast and Geodetic Survey ships Surveyor and Oceanographer These were the first modern geophysical surveys in the North Sea and offshore Alaska Washington to California and Hawaii His particular expertise in modern geophysical surveying and mapping has led to well grounded understanding of coastal and sea floor features of the arctic and Antarctic using new ice and sediment mapping techniques tied to modern navigation and positioning His hobby is understanding man s adaptability to climate early migrations exploration and appreciation of the Neolithic mind gaining man s survival abilities Adequate education of the public including historic climate change information for planet management seems necessary The fact that 700 million years ago earth was locked in ice cover for millions of years should be realized Then vast volcanic eruptions created a greenhouse gas atmosphere and earth s climate alternated between too hot and too cold for human development These conditions should be understood and avoided at all costs For future survival humans must understand the importance of climate and earth management and live and act accordingly

Unsettled Borders Felicity Amaya Schaeffer,2022-05-02 In Unsettled Borders Felicity Amaya Schaeffer examines the ongoing settler colonial war over the US Mexico border from the perspective of Apache Tohono O odham and Maya who fight to protect their sacred land Schaeffer traces the scientific and technological development of militarized border surveillance across time and space from Spanish colonial lookout points in Arizona and Mexico to the Indian wars when the US cavalry hired Native scouts to track Apache fleeing into Mexico to the occupation of the Tohono O odham reservation and the recent launch of robotic bee swarms Labeled Optics Valley Arizona builds on a global history of violent dispossession and containment of Native peoples and migrants by branding itself as a profitable hub for surveillance Schaeffer reverses the logic of borders by turning to Indigenous sacredsciences ancestral land based practices that are critical to reversing the ecological and social violence of surveillance extraction and occupation

Children's Book Review Index 1981 Cumulative Gary C. Tarbert,1983-05 George Dagg's Farm Poltergeist

(Quebec) Patrick Gunn, 2025-08-13 This book explores the mysterious and eerie phenomena reported at Dagg Farm in Quebec focusing on a long standing poltergeist activity that has puzzled locals and investigators alike Blending elements of paranormal investigation scientific analysis and cultural context it delves into the history eyewitness accounts and media coverage surrounding the case Through detailed examinations of the strange occurrences such as objects moving unexplained noises and unusual apparitions the book investigates various explanations from scientific theories to spiritual perspectives It also discusses practical strategies for future investigations and reflects on how local culture and folklore shape perceptions of the phenomena Designed for readers interested in the paranormal the book offers a balanced view of one of Canada's most intriguing haunted sites encouraging curiosity and critical thinking about the mysteries that lie beyond everyday understanding

Docufictions Gary D. Rhodes, John Parris Springer, 2014-10-01 Through most of the 20th century the distinction between the fictional narrative film and the documentary was vigorously maintained The documentary tradition developed side by side with but in the shadow of the more commercially successful feature film In the latter part of the century however the two forms merged on occasion and mockumentaries fictional works in a documentary format and docudramas reality based works in a fictional format became part of the film and television landscape The 18 essays here examine the relationships between narrative fiction films and documentary filmmaking focusing on how each influenced the other and how the two were merged in such diverse films and shows as Citizen Kane M A S H This Is Spinal Tap and Destination Moon Topics include the docudrama in early cinema the industrial film as faux documentary the fear evoked in 1950s science fiction films the selling of reality in mockumentaries and reality television and documentary forms The essays provide a foundation for significant rethinking of film history and criticism offering the first significant discussion of two emerging and increasingly important genres
