Strangers in African Societies William A. Shack, Elliott P. Skinner, 1979-01-01 Hadija's Story Harmony O'Rourke, 2017-02-13 In 1952 a woman named Hadija was brought to trial in an Islamic courtroom in the Cameroon Grassfields on a charge of bigamy Quickly however the court proceedings turned to the question of whether she had been the wife or the slave concubine of her deceased husband In tandem with other court cases of the day Harmony O'Rourke illuminates a set of contestations in which marriage slavery morality memory inheritance status and identity were at stake for Muslim Hausa migrants especially women As she tells Hadija's story O'Rourke disrupts dominant patriarchal and colonial narratives that have emphasized male activities and projects to assert cultural distinctiveness and she brings forward a new set of women's issues involving concerns for personal prosperity the continuation of generations and Islamic religious expectations in communities separated by long distances Pacific Coast Africanist Association Newsletter, 1975

Theorizing the City Setha M. Low, 1999 Anthropological perspectives are not often represented in urban studies even though many anthropologists have been contributing actively to theory and research on urban poverty racism globalization and architecture Theorizing the City corrects this omission Following a brief history of urban anthropology emphasizing developments in the field during the 1990s this volume presents twelve ethnographies of major cities in the Americas Africa Asia and Europe Five images of the city the divided city the contested city the global city the modernist city and the postmodern city serve as frameworks for the essays Each section highlights current research trends such as poststructural studies of race class and gender in the urban context political economic studies of transnational culture and studies of the symbolic meanings and social production of urban spaces A Different Drummer Bruce Alden Cox, Jacques M. Chevalier, Valda Blundell, 1989 This volume is a collective production by Carleton University's anthropology caucus for use in introductory courses in cultural anthropology It is an alternative to available textbooks which the caucus feels are mainly American in orientation and not respectful of third and fourth world peoples A - Airports British Library, 2012-05-21 No detailed description available for Airports The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1985 Women and Religion in the African Diaspora R. Marie Griffith, Barbara Dianne Savage, 2006-09-22 This landmark collection of newly commissioned essays explores how diverse women of African descent have practiced religion as part of the work of their ordinary and sometimes extraordinary lives By examining women from North America the Caribbean Brazil and Africa the contributors identify the patterns that emerge as women religion and diaspora intersect mapping fresh approaches to this emergent field of inquiry The volume focuses on issues of history tradition and the authenticity of African derived spiritual practices in a variety of contexts including those where memories of suffering remain fresh and powerful The contributors discuss matters of power and leadership and of religious expressions outside of institutional settings The essays study women of Christian denominations African and Afro Caribbean traditions and Islam addressing their roles as spiritual leaders artists and musicians preachers and participants in bible study groups This volume s transnational mixture along with its use of creative analytical approaches challenges existing paradigms and summons new models for studying women religions and diasporic shiftings across time and space

Citizenship in Africa Bronwen Manby,2018-11-29 Citizenship in Africa provides a comprehensive exploration of nationality laws in Africa placing them in their theoretical and historical context It offers the first serious attempt to analyse the impact of nationality law on politics and society in different African states from a trans continental comparative perspective Taking a four part approach Parts I and II set the book within the framework of existing scholarship on citizenship from both sociological and legal perspectives and examine the history of nationality laws in Africa from the colonial period to the present day Part III considers case studies which illustrate the application and misapplication of the law in practice and the relationship of legal and political developments in each country Finally Part IV explores the impact of the law on politics and its relevance for questions of identity and belonging today concluding with a set of issues for further research Ambitious in scope and compelling in analysis this is an important new work on citizenship in Africa
